MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—There has been an advance of 25c. per M. on the prices for Hudson River brick. Demand has not quickened to any appreciable extent but arrivals have been quite small owing to light shipments by manufacturers, and the market has been cleaned of all surplus, and during the latter part of the week sales were made to arrive.

The range of prices has been from $4 for an ordinary brick up to $4.62½ for a choice do., and $4.75@5 have been the prices quoted for specials. Pale brick have been taken up as received, and have held steady at $2, although the poorer grades have sold at $1.75. The demand for Jersey bricks has been light, but as there have been very few offering, prices have been maintained, and $3.75@4 was quoted as the range of values.

GLASS.—The feature of the market has been the reorganization recently of the Pittsburg and Western window glass agencies, which will insure continued harmony of action and an equal distribution of orders. The continuance of amicable arrangements between the agencies with such modifications in the working plans as the experience of the past year may suggest, says the "Iron Age," will naturally strengthen the organization, while the accession of the United Glass Company to the agency increases its numercial strength. It is also understood that the W. C. De Pauw Company will be governed by the agency prices. The matter of the importation of glass received consideration, and it is reported that steps are being taken by the agency to make importing glass unprofitable. The amount of glass imported for July, as shown by the official statement of the Treasury Department, was an increase of more than 36,000 boxes over that for the corresponding month of 1895. From the jobbers' point of view it will require more than a readjustment of seaboard prices to keep out foreign glass, as prompt delivery, in quantities and sizes to suit immediate requirements must be taken into consideration. No agreement has as yet been reached between manufacturers and workmen as regard wages. The latter demand an increase which the former flatly propose to decrease.

HARDWARE.—The market has continued to regards the outline of the political situation, reflect the marked improvement in feeling as regards the outline of the political situation, and the more favorable monetary situation. While the volume of business is not up to an average for seasonable goods there has been a steadily growing demand, and as compared with August, trade shows a decided improvement. From some sections of the West a fair business has been reported in builders' hardware, but locally the demand has been somewhat slack. Heavy hardware has sold with slightly more freedom. No changes have occurred in prices; values for most goods are low, and with the now improving trade manufacturers have not been disposed to force business, and as a consequence there has been a generally steady tone.

IRON AND STEEL.—There has been a moderate amount of business transacted in pig iron. Sales have been made since our last of good-sized lots of Southern at 25@50c. under the nominal prices quoted by foundrymen. The bulk of the business transacted, however, has been in small lots and prices have shown some steadiness and some advance has been made upon prices that had previously been so low that they were kept strictly private. We quote at $11.25@12 per ton for No. 1 X foundry, $11@11.25 for No. 2 X do., and $10.75@11 for Gray forge. There has continued a slow market for old material. Demand has been very moderate and buyers and sellers have been apart in their views. We quote at $12.50@13.50 for old iron rails; $11@12 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $11@11.50 for cast scrap; $10.50 @11.50 for old car wheels, and $7@9.50 for borings, stove plate, etc. Nothing of moment has transpired in the market for manufactured iron and steel. Only a moderate amount of business has been transacted; prices have been unchanged and steady. Steel rails have been unchanged at $28 f. o. b. at mill.

LATH.—The market continued to show a fairly good tone. Arrivals have been moderate largely, but as demand has been fair there has been no difficulty experienced in placing arrivals, and prices have ruled steady, with $1.55@1.60 quoted as the trading prices, and we heard of sales of 3,000,000 at these figures. There have also been moderate sales of pine lath at steady values.

LIME.—The market for Eastern lime was steady. There have been limited arrivals, and as demand has been reported as moderate prices have been fairly well held, the sales made having been at 70c. for common eastern and 80c. for finishing do. There has been very little State and St. John lime on the market, and quotations have remained as previously.

LUMBER.—Although dealers generally appear satisfied that the result of the Presidential election will be overwhelmingly for the maintenance of the present money standard, there has continued a general disinclination to enter into active negotiations before the result is positively known. A feature that latterly has given some encouragement to the trade has been the resumption of building during the past month, which was discontinued during the period of depression and uncertainty resulting from fear of the success of the free silver fallacy.

The market for hemlock has continued to show considerable tone. Offerings have been limited, as mills are well sold up, and for New York sizes there has been no difficulty in obtaining full quoted prices. Recently sales were made of 1,300,000 ft. to two Brooklyn firms at good prices. The call for cypress has been light but there has been no disposition shown on the part of sellers to force the markets and prices have held about steady.

A fairly steady market has been reported for Eastern Spruce. The demand for special cargoes has latterly been improving, and as mills have been indifferent sellers, as a result of the continued demand from South America and the brisk demand from England for deals, buyers have found that to do business it is necessary to pay full quoted values. Offerings of random cargoes have continued limited, as shipments this way have been light and prices have held steady at $12.50 for narrow to $15 for wide. State spruce has sold steadily and has been quoted unchanged. West Virginia spruce has been about steady. Deliveries for export on old contracts have been fair, but in the way of new business very little has been transacted.

The market for pines has been unchanged. North Carolina and Yellow have moved slowly, but the belief that prices are at bottom is general and as a consequence they hold fairly steady. The better grades of white pine have received some attention and have brought steady prices, but the coarse grades have moved slowly and values have been flat.

There has been a fairly good tone to the market for hardwoods. Business latterly has been improving. Poplar has received increased attention and has been commanding steady values. There has also been something of a demand for birch at fairly satisfactory prices. Chestnut has continued to meet with a fair call, and a sale was reported of 200,000 ft. at full prices. The demand for plain and quartered oak has been fairly good at steady values.

The Northwestern "Lumberman" says of the foreign markets:

There has been a steadily increasing demand this season for southern pine, for export, and most of the American hardwoods have done better in the foreign markets than they did last year. European countries are looking more and more to the United States for their lumber supply, as is shown by the fact that mills cutting for export are kept busy, while the home trade is way below normal. A disposition to cultivate the foreign markets more extensively is becoming evident among our mill men and wholesale dealers, many of whom have already established profitable trade relations on the other side of the Atlantic.

Germany is a large consumer of American hardwoods, but until recently the trade of that country has been largely supplied through the English markets. According to the "Timber Trades Journal," of London, there is renewed firmness in the mahogany and hardwood trade, and the tone of the market is steady, with a general tendency toward higher prices. The stock of mahogany now in importers' hands is reduced to a very low ebb, and consists principally of goods that have passed under the hammer and were bought in at higher values than the trade is disposed to give.

American walnut logs of good size and quality are readily salable at both London and Liverpool. Lumber of the best and medium grades is also selling at steady rates. Imports have been light but there is still too large a stock of the inferior grades of both logs and lumber. Shipments should therefore be confined to the better qualities.

The demand for oak wainscot logs is moderate, and supplies ample, with prices barely holding even. Stocks of wagon plank are also heavy, although deliveries for the month have been slightly in excess of imports. There has been no improvements in prices, which rule very low. Oak staves have been rather freely imported, demand has been dull, and prices are lower for most descriptions.

Demand for whitewood logs of prime quality and the better grades of planks and boards has been moderately active, but other descriptions are slow of sale at low prices.

A good deal of sawed Southern pine timber was brought into stock at London during August, but the demand has been very good, and in the absence of any pressure to sell, prices have hardened again. The prospect of any further cheap additions to the supply has been nullified by a scarcity of tonnage and an advance in freights, which is an important item in the cost of the timber delivered at London. Deals were too freely imported last month, and as stocks were already ample, values have declined, except for retail quantities of the best quality.

Stocks of Northern pine deals are large, the result of liberal importations during August, but if demand continues to improve as it has in the past, the supply will be easily disposed of during the winter. Receipts of spruce deals have also been large, but prices have kept up well. Birch timber has sold at low rates but improvement is looked for, as no more supplies can be profitably sent at present prices, and the wood is in better demand than usual. Elm and ash are not cutting much figure in the market at present. There is a good demand for California redwood, with light stocks.

The "Mississippi Valley Lumberman" says:

DYCKERHOFF

PORTLAND CEMENT

Is superior to any other Portland Cement made. It is very finely ground, always uniform and reliable, and of such extraordinary strength that it will permit the addition of 25 per cent more sand, etc., than any other well-known Portland Cement, and produce the most durable work. It is unalterable in volume and not liable to crack. The foundations of many of the most important buildings recently erected in this city were constructed of the Dyckerhoff Portland Cement, such as the Statue of Liberty, Brooklyn Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Arch, Washington Memorial Arch, Grant Monument, Riverside Park, Equitable Life Insurance, New York Life, New York Times, World, Puck, Judge, Metropolitan Telephone, Metropolitan Opera House, U. "It is not likely that the actual trade in lumber this fall will come up to the average of former years, owing to the causes that tend to check actual buying on the part of the consumers of lumber. The requirements of the lumber consuming territory tributary to the white pine producers are none the less diminished, however, and all indications point to an abnormal demand for building material of all kinds, immediately upon the restoration of confidence and the beginning of the return to prosperity. It cannot be otherwise. The great prairie section of the Northwest was consuming a vast quantity of lumber prior to the panic of 1893, and the mills were enlarged and run to their full capacity to supply the demand. The panic and the resultant economy naturally practiced by the masses of the people and the retirement of the capital that in times of prosperity is used in development, caused a shrinkage in the demand, which has continued to the present day. Other causes served to aggravate the situation, and the consumers of lumber who are regular and natural customers of the white pine producers have purchased only such lumber as they have actually had to have for pressing repairs. Not only this, but retail dealers all over the Northwest allowed their stock to dwindle down to almost nothing.

"Three years works considerable damage to farm buildings, and in the course of three years many new buildings are found to be needed by our farmers, which they will build when times are easier. Then they will also repair old buildings. So as the demand for lumber has shrunk greatly in the last three years, the actual necessity for lumber has not diminished in the least, and when farmers and the residents of the country towns are in a position to improve there will be a demand for lumber that will likely exceed the brisk demand of 1892 and early in 1893. This is a point lumbermen should bear in mind, when they are disposed to look on the dark side of the situation. Orders that are being held back until the uncertainty is over, will then come in. Improvements that men of means desire to make and have wanted to make for three years past, will be made just as soon as the future is a little more plain to them. Already a disposition to do a little more building is noticeable, but it is only such as usually occurs every fall. This fall, however, it has been delayed by the political uncertainty, and is only now beginning to be noticeable.

"Many of the larger cities report enlarged building operations, owing to a feeling that the uncertainty will soon be over and that confidence is beginning to slowly return. Unless further complications ensue to render the situation more complex, there should be a beginning of a year of building operations on a large scale, early next spring. It may be still further distant in the future, yet it must come some time. There is building that must be done, and there are improvements and repairs that must be made, and there is also capital waiting opportunities for investment and this capital will purchase building material. Many are disposed to await the verdict of the people at the polls, but some are already starting to do business and make business. In the ordinary course of events there will be an era of enlarged building operations in the near future that will require a vast amount of lumber. Lumbermen do not need to prepare for it, for its advent will be gradual and there is sufficient stock in pile at present to take care of whatever trade comes before another sawing season. But that all indications point to such a possibility is one of the encouraging signs of the present. Country retail dealers in lumber universally report a great actual need of lumber in their vicinity, but that buying will be restricted until times are more propitious. This condition of affairs all over, presages a great deal of building and a large consumption of lumber when the time arrives."

The "Northwestern Lumberman," in its report from Bay City, Michigan, says:

"No one hears any talk of logging. It is estimated that the quantity of logs to be put into the waters of Georgian Bay will be 300,00,000 feet less than the output last winter. This will create a shortage as soon as the lumber business picks up, and will doubtless result in firmer prices."

METALS.—Only a very moderate amount of business has been transacted in the market for ingot copper. The demand from exporters has been decidedly limited and the home trade has also been a slow buyer. Deliveries on old contracts for export have been fairly large, and the shipments for September show a total of 10,000 tons. At this writing the market was steady, with Lake Superior quoted at 10¾@10⅞c., and other descriptions at 10¼@10⅝c. The demand for manufactured copper has been light, but values have been unchanged and steady. We quote: For sheets, 32x72 ins. and 36 x 96 ins., 16@25c. as to weight; 30 x longer than 96 ins., 16@19c.; do. 36 x 72 ins., 16@26c.; 36x96 ins., 16@25c.; 36x120 ins., 16@26c.; 48x96 ins., 16@24c.; 48x120 ins., 16@22c.; 36x longer than 120 ins., 16@18c.; 48x — ins., 16@24c.; 48x longer than 120 ins., 16@22c.; 60x72 ins., 16@27c.; 60x96 ins., 16@25c.; 60x120 ins., 16@22c.; 60x longer than 120 ins., 16@24c.; 72x96 ins., 16@24c.; 72x144 ins., 16@26c.; 72x longer than 144 ins., 17@24c.; 108x120 ins., 17@25c.; 108x longer than 128 ins., 19@20c.; wider than 108x144 ins., 20@22c.; wider than 108 and longer than 144 ins., 21@24c. Bolt copper ⅜-in. diameter and over, 16c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 ins. diameter and less, 3c. above prices of sheets of same thickness; circles 60 to 90 do., 4c. do.; circles 96 do. and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. All polished copper 1c. per lb. advance over cold rolled copper, when 20 ins. wide and under, and 2c. advance when more than 20 ins. wide. Copper bottoms, 20@26c. per lb. The improvement in the demand for pig lead has disappeared; demand particularly during the past week has been slow and prices have weakened slightly, and at this writing quotations were $2.75@2.80 for domestic. Only a moderate demand has been reported for spelter, but advices from the West have been stronger and prices have advanced in sympathy, with 3.65@3.70c. quoted for domestic. There has been a slow market for Straits tin, and prices have continued to gradually recede. At this writing, however, the market showed some steadiness of tone, although demand remained slow. Contract lots were quoted at 13c. and for smaller lots, 13.05@13.10c. was quoted. The demand for tin plate has continued light and for American prices were somewhat unsettled and weak, but no changes have been quoted. We quote as follows: I. C. charcoal, Meyln grade, $4.62½; Allaway grade, $3.90, Allaway grade, I. X., $4.70; charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $5.80@6.00; M. F. grade, 20x28, $11.60@11.70; Worcester grade, 14x20, $4.80; Worcester, 20x28, $8.00@8.05; American coke tin, 14x20, $3.30@3.65; American charcoal terne, 14x20, $3.25@3.50, and 20x28, $6.50@7.00; I. C. coke, Bessemer steel, heavy, $3.50@3.75; Bessemer steel, light, 14x20, $3.30@3.40.

NAILS.—Although the amount of business transacted in cut and wire nails has been limited, demand has shown a slight further improvement. The call for supplies, however, has been almost exclusively for small lots to restore depleted stocks, dealers having shown no disposition to operate extensively particularly now that the guarantee on prices has been withdrawn. Strenuous efforts, however, are being made to have manufacturers restore the guarantee or take some action which will restore confidence in present prices. We quote at $2.30@2.40 per keg for car lots at mill, $2.55 per keg for small parcels from dock, and $2.57 from store. Wire, $2.70 for car lots from dock, and $2.80 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Business in the market for paints has been moderately active. There has been a fairly good call for deliveries on contracts and in the way of new trades a limited number of orders have been received. The call for white lead has been fair; dry has received a moderate amount of attention and for lead in oil some fairly large orders have been received. The foreign makers of red lead have shown some firmness, but no improvement on values has occurred; domestic do. has been steady; the amount of business transacted, however, has been somewhat limited. Litharge has received increased attention and prices have ruled firm. Zincs also have met with a better trade at firm prices. Moderate sales of orange minerals have been made at steady values. The Association figures on lead last announced are as follows, subject to change without notice: Pure white lead, dry or in oil, red lead and litharge in kegs, in lots of 500 lbs. and over, 5½c.; red lead and litharge in barrels and half barrels, ¼c. per lb. less than the price in kegs; white lead (cases), 1c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead in 25-lb. tin pails (packed in 100-lb. or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead, assorted in 1-lb., 2-lb., 3-lb., and 5-lb. cans (packed in 100 or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs. Terms: On lots of 500 lbs. and over, 60 days, or 2 per cent. discount for cash, if paid within 15 days from date of invoice f. o. b. at New York. Special prices for dry white lead in barrels. Quantities: To make either of above assorted quantities and assortments of packages either or all of the articles may be counted. The above prices and terms supersede all previous prices and terms offered by this company. There has been a further advance in the prices for American linseed oil of 1c. per gallon and the tone of the market has shown a fair amount of firmness. Business has been steadily improving and at

VOL. LVIII. OCTOBER 10, 1896. No. 1,491

A LITTLE scare is on Wall Street for the moment, or upon that part known as the professional operator, and, as a consequence, prices have declined in the stock market, and the volume of business has become very small. It cannot be said that there is any change in the political outlook or that trade or commerce have fallen off. There is, it is true, a very general disinclination to assume new obligations or undertake new ventures until the result of the voting next month is known, but this is a great deal more because people do not want to make contracts on present prices, expecting better ones in a few weeks, than that they fear the country will decide in favor of a debased currency. But down in Wall Street the fidgets are very catching, often unsettling everything. As a result of this complaint we have to-day people contracting to pay a premium for options on gold that they will never exercise, and the money market made unfavorable to speculative dealings in stocks and bonds, so that brokers are obliged to "advise" their customers against such operations. However, this is the condition of things and it has to be reckoned with. As to its influence, so long as it lasts—and it may last until the election is decided or disappear in a day—it is sufficient to prevent further advances and may increase the decline, though we think the latter only to a moderate extent because of the fact that securities have by reason of the low prices prevailing for so long a time got into strong hands.

THERE is no need of anxiety because the Czar of Russia was cool at Vienna, chilling at Breslau, and moist under the influence of climate and associations at Balmoral, because his whole journey was intended to emphasize the French alliance; it is the formality requisite to taking up the policy of his predecessor, as his coronation was a formal receipt of the latter's crown. Neither of these ceremonies was legally necessary, because the crown descended to him by inheritance and the policy as a matter of necessity. Both of these elaborate ceremonies were to please the crowd, and no one will wish that they should be unsuccessful. The alliance of France and Russia, incongruous as it may appear when the character and progress of the two peoples and the parts played by each are considered, is a great factor in the preservation of European peace, and as such its continuation is to be most devoutly wished for. As to the Czar's seeming coldness, that arises more from his diffidence and self mistrust than anything else and for the reasons given above is without political significance, except as it suggests probabilities of such a character clinging to established conditions. We do not think the present Czar of Russia will be the first one to make Constantinople his winter home. In financial circles the shaking up goes on as a result of the higher rates for money. This naturally is most pronounced in the direction where the speculation has been greatest—in the gold mining shares of Africa and West Australia. The process will, no doubt, leave both industries in a much healthier condition than they have been in and create opportunities for judicious and profitable investments. Another consequence of the changed conditions is the falling off in the flotation of new enterprises in London. This was absolutely necessary because the market was flooded with all sorts of schemes of rather less than more value, by which the total of capital applications in the first nine months of this year were largely in excess of the total for any other year. That a halt is called now is a matter for congratulation, as it prevents a renewal of the state of things that brought about the Baring disaster. The other European money centres sympathize with London, besides having their own local troubles to bear, all of which means renewed operations on a wholesomer basis when the weaklings have been made strong or killed off. Among the commercial news of importance we note that the Comptoir d'Escompte, Société Générale and a group of French merchants have created a bank at Rio Janeiro, to be known as the Banque Francaise de Bresil and to operate in South America. In Germany the decline in prices is unsettling the sugar industry. The opening of the Danube to enlarged traffic through the canal at the Iron Gates is an event of more than national importance as is also the announcement that there will be no hitch in carrying out the plan for placing the finances of the Austro-Hungarian empire on a gold basis.

HOW the interests of the building industry, outside of the comparatively petty undertakings between any two or three men, are neglected is most strikingly shown by the amendment to the Mechanics' Lien Law which has just come into public view. Look at the facts. There are in the State and in New York City a number of organizations whose purpose is, ostensibly, to protect the welfare of real estate and building, and yet a very important amendment to a law intimately affecting both is passed without one of them being aware of the fact. It is positively surprising that neither the Legislative Committee of the Real Estate Exchange, nor the Mechanics' and Traders' Exchange, to say nothing of the State Builders' Association, did anything either to prevent the passage of this amendment or, at least, to make sure that it should be passed in a form that would make it operate beneficially. Not only is this the case, but it does not seem that in the legal profession, even among those of its members whose business is more particularly with material men, any knew anything of the amendment until they received their copies of the Session's Laws of the year, although at that time the amendment had been in force for nearly three months. This is undoubtedly a very objectionable as well as remarkable state of things. In the case in point, the intention was obviously a good one. In providing for the filing of orders issued by builders it was intended to give security both to the material men and to the owner. What it has done, as was stated in an interview published by us last week, is to give the material man a chance to fire a random shot at a piece of property, much as a judgment against a debtor is often entered in the hope of catching any property he may have, this too in terms so uncertain as to make an interpretation by the courts absolutely necessary before a rational idea of its meaning can be ascertained. The lesson in all this to the trades is that had there been a consideration of the many interests involved, such as could have been given by a representative association of the building trades, something might have been framed which would have met the requirements of the case; as it is, not even the material men who are responsible for the amendment can now be satisfied with the results of their work. In this city there is unfortunately no association around which the trades cluster for mutual protection, to obtain united counsel and the strength that comes from unity. This ought to be changed before another session of the Legislature meets if for no other purpose than to create a sane regard and business-like watch over any bills that affect the building industry.

PAVE all the streets properly, and there will be no reason to complain of the crowding of heavy trucks onto any one of them. This in substance is the advice given by the American League of Wheelmen to the Board of Aldermen, who are considering whether they can exclude certain classes of vehicles from 5th avenue and the Boulevard. It embraces the sensible view of the case. The Commissioner of Public Works says, 5th avenue has been for the past five or six years the only well-paved street north of South street, and every kind of vehicle has sought it. Naturally, the driver of a team will take the smoothest road he can find; but if he has a number to choose from and any one of them is as good as any of the others, he will not go out of his way to drive his team along 5th avenue or the Boulevard. A truckman represents about the worst manners any class of drivers could possibly possess, but there is no reason for supposing that he is forcing himself upon good society for its annoyance when he seeks the ease of the fashionable thoroughfares. His contempt for people better off than himself is about as profound as his ignorance of them, and what is proper behavior and conversation on the public streets. But this notwithstanding, there is no reason for supposing that he goes wilfully out of his way to display the unpleasing peculiarities of his disposition. The trouble arises from the fact that for many years it was only the most prominent thoroughfares that received anything like proper attention from the city departments, and the truckman, exercising his undoubted right, has got into the habit of using them, because he thereby avoids the dangers and delays incident to travel on the neglected avenues and streets. As to whether there exists any power either in the municipality or even the Legislature to drive him away from any street dedicated to general uses is very doubtful, as will be seen from the cautious opinion rendered to the Department of Works by the Corporation Counsel, which will be found in another column. Probably, whatever power exists to this end has been stretched as far as it will go in excluding him from the Riverside Drive and parks. If this is the case, the only alternative that will remain will be to put the paving of all the main arteries of the city into proper condition and to keep it so. If this is adopted, it will be finally more satisfactory all around than any arbitrary action against that portion of the vehicular traffic which best represents the commerce of the city.

JUDGING by the remarks made on the Greater New York Commission on receipt of the preliminary report of the Committee on Draft, an impression prevails in that body that they can make a complete report to the Legislature by February 1st next, and receive their discharge by the first day of the ensuing month, in accordance with the provisions of the act under which they were appointed. This means that they can in four months, working only at intervals, devise a suitable charter and laws for the government of a city of 3,000,000 people distributed over an area of more than 300 square miles, which at present contains besides two great cities, one small city and a number of towns and villages, the latter separated by extensive farming regions. Evidently the idea is to beat the records in the time occupied in affecting consolidation, as the new city will outdo every other city in extent if not in population. The Commission has the tentative charter of Messrs. De Witt and Dean to work upon, but, as we have pointed out from time to time, this is somewhat of a stuffed concern, a sort of effigy of a charter, containing, as its chief manufacturer proudly boasts, "every modern, novel or original idea deemed worthy of consideration by the Commission." This sort of talk is in keeping with the whole process by which consolidation is being forced upon this unfortunate community, and it will not be surprising if the Commission actually does report within the time stated and the Legislature thereupon inflict its hasty work upon the people. Evidently some one is anxious to get consolidation effected, no matter whether in good or bad shape. What is the reason for this? Is it feared that there will never be another chance so favorable for placing the immense patronage of a great municipality into certain hands, or what is it? One thing is very certain, this unseemly haste is not due to a desire for the welfare of the new municipality or the parts which are to compose it; if there existed such a desire the work of framing its government would proceed with more deliberation. The Commission is composed of such able and honorable men that it is impossible to suppose, let it be understood, that they are actuated by bad motives. They may, however, be influenced by others whose motives are not good, or they may be carried away by mistaken ideas. We suspect the latter is the case, and that one of those ideas is that if consolidation is not affected speedily and in such form that it secures the retention in power of reform elements, the bold, bad men who had control of New York City two years ago may come back again and play their old tricks. If this or any such idea is responsible for rushing work on the charter, it is a very mistaken one. It assumes that the city government can be kept pure and its administration able and effective by legislative action without regard to the moral sense animating the citizens. There is no way of securing good results from legislation unless the people are alive to their duty and willing to carry it out. The Commission then had better take what time is necessary to do their work thoroughly, because whether it is ill or well done only a prevailing sense of public duty will keep the municipal government of a lesser or a greater New York within the lines of respectability and efficiency, and any haste will be wasted.

THERE are a great many queer things in New York City. Some of them show we are a very practical common sense people. For instance, we have just moved our Water Department into quarters in one of the most fire-proof buildings in the city. The records of the Water Department are of comparatively little value, they are really of no value at all compared with the value of the enormous body of documents stored in that combustible old building known as the Register's office. The destruction of these records would be paralyzing, for they affect every piece of real estate in New York City. Yet these records are kept in a building which is positively one of the unsafest which a careful selection could discover in the lower part of the city! Ex-Register Levy points out that the records in villages like Jamaica and White Plains are much more safely kept than those of the great metropolis. Of course, there will be no amendment of conditions until there is some public stir. Surely this is a matter that the Real Estate Exchange ought to take in hand. Ex-Register Levy presented three different petitions to the Legislature, but there was no result, due, in large measure, to the utter indifference of those who were most concerned.

Reviving Rapid Transit Discussion.

The New York public has existed for some considerable time past in the happy belief that a railroad can be built through Manhattan Island and into its contiguous northern territory upon which an express service can be operated, which will afford comfortable travel and save much valuable time daily to very many thousands of people who may travel from one end of this imaginary route twice a day. Now comes an eminent civil engineer, Mr. Theodore Cooper, endeavoring to destroy this pleasant picture by showing that not only would the number of people who would use such an express service be comparatively few, but also that the saving of time to them would be relatively small. This is done by an able and ingenious analysis of a typical day's travel on the Manhattan Elevated Railroad, which was published by Mr. Cooper in a recent number of "The Railroad Gazette," and which, though not entirely convincing, is calculated to give a new direction to the technical discussion of the question of rapid transit for New York City, but it will not, for the reasons given later on, destroy the hope our people enjoy of at some time seeing a really rapid transit system of railroad running between the Battery or City Hall to the furthermost limits of the city.

The figures given in the article referred to show that on Dec. 10, 1894, 658,348 passengers were carried on the Manhattan Railroad; 298,739 north, 339,853 south, and 28,756 suburban. Several reasons are given for the difference between the volumes of travel north and south; the most important being the purchase by passengers at the home stations of two or more tickets. The disposition of the travel each way is somewhat arbitrary, though as fair as the circumstances would permit. In illustrating his theory, Mr. Cooper takes the traffic records of the Sixth and Ninth avenue lines as the more correct. They are combined and balanced between the two directions, north and south. The total number of passengers for the two lines on Dec. 10, 1894, was 311,040, that is 155,520 each way, with 2,800 on the New York and Putnam credited south. The distribution of these passengers at the thirty stations, including the New York terminus of the New York and Putnam, showed the distances travelled to be as follows:

8,570	people	travel	each	way,	less	than	1	mile.
24,530	people	travel	each	way,	less	than	2	"	and	more	than	1	mile.
33,980	"	"	"	"	"	"	3	"	"	"	"	2	"
29,595	"	"	"	"	"	"	4	"	"	"	"	3	"

1,505	"	"	"	"	"	"	10	"	"	"	"	9	"
155,520

The average travel on these lines was 3.4 miles. The centre of gravity of the up-traffic was about 72d street, and of the down-traffic about Bleecker street. The centre of gravity of the station traffic was about 14th street. For the East Side lines, south of the Harlem River, the center of gravity of the station traffic was about 42d street. With the Suburban branch, north of the Harlem River included, the centre of gravity was between 50th and 55th street. Mr. Cooper disposes of the district north of the river by supposing from the limited number of passengers delivered on Manhattan Island by the several suburban services, considering the number of years they have been in operation that this district is reasonably well served, and goes on to consider a second question, how much the people of New York will be benefited by an express train service? He first disposes of the notion that the trains can be run at a speed of "40 miles an hour between the terminals," stopping each mile. He says: "The motors which can handle trains upon any rapid transit system, with stops one mile apart, an average speed of 27 miles will be doing good work. These same motors stopping at the more frequent stations would probably make an average speed of 16 miles." To show the saving from an express service he takes a number of selected stations, Rector street, Cortlandt, Park place, Chambers street, 14th street, 23d street, 42d street, 59th street, 81st street, 104th street, 125th street, 155th street and N. Y. & Putnam R. R., the total number of passengers travelling between which from his figures was 47,620, and assuming that these would be the total number of passengers who would use the express trains if these went with the same frequency as the local trains, less the number travelling between the first four stations and between 14th and 23d streets who would gain nothing in time, and taking the speed to be 27 miles for express and 16 miles for locals, finds the saving of time would be as follows:

375	would	save	.....	Nothing.			3,525	would	save	.....	7	mins.
1,920	"	"	less	than	2	mins.		2,000	"	"	.....	8	"
9,490	"	"	.....	2	"			1,700	"	"	.....	9	"
8,010	"	"	.....	3	"			800	"	"	.....	10	"
7,100	"	"	.....	4	"			2,720	"	"	.....	11	"
5,595	"	"	.....	5	"			1,325	"	"	.....	12	"
3,000	"	"	.....	6	"

These results are based, it must be borne in mind, on an examination of the station to station traffic. The saving in time would, of course, vary according to the variations in the headways on the two services. With locals every 1.50 minutes and expresses every 12 minutes 17,880 passengers or 37.5 per cent using the selected stations only would gain any time by the express service; double the intervals and only 7,500 passengers or 16 per cent would be benefited. Considering that about one-half of the total passengers for the 24 hours are carried during the busy hours, the conclusion is arrived at that only 12,700 out of 155,520 passengers or 8 per cent would really gain by the express service. After giving these and other figures to support his position, Mr. Cooper asks: "Is it wise to block the whole rapid transit scheme for New York City, depriving the whole people of increased facilities by doubling the cost of an underground system to furnish express service to about 8 per cent of the passengers without increased fare, and whose saving of time will not average five minutes? An increased fare would not remedy matters, for the number using the express would rapidly fall off with additional fare. Moreover, is it not vastly more important to give greater relief to our thickly settled tenement house districts, both from consideration for the people and the real estate therein, than to hamper any new system with a long line above the Harlem River, which will not pay running expenses for years?"

Mr. Wm. B. Parsons, Engineer to the Rapid Transit Commission, in commenting upon the article drawn upon for the above, takes exception to the limit of interval between the express service trains and contends that the Manhattan, or the proposed rapid transit service trains must run not only as rapidly but as frequently as possible, and that with an interval of four minutes instead of twelve, taken by Mr. Cooper, practically all of the 47,630 people travelling between the selected stations would make a gain in time by using the express service. On the question of saving time Mr. Parsons further says: "The average journey on the West Side line is about 3.4 miles, but on the East Side the average is somewhat greater, and is increasing each year. On rapid transit lines where express trains will run, undoubtedly the average journey would be still greater, and a four-mile ride is a conservative estimate. Taking the average passenger, therefore, and supposing that he had to travel half a mile on a local train and then transfer to an express, and that express trains were running at four-minute intervals, with an average wait at the transfer station of two minutes, a ledger account of the time in transit in minutes and decimals of a minute would be as follows, using Mr. Cooper's speeds of 27 and 16 miles:

By local train, four miles at 3.75 minutes		15 mins.
By local and express:
One-half mile at 3.75 minutes	1.88 mins.
Time lost in waiting	2 "
Three and one-half miles at 2.2 minutes	7.7 "
		11.58 "

A saving of 3½ minutes in the journey, or nearly 23 per cent. Mr Cooper (and for the purposes of my argument I have used his figures) takes the relative speeds of 27 and 16 miles for express and local trains, basing his express service on stops about a mile apart. The express service interval as contemplated by the Rapid Transit Commission is somewhat greater than this—more than 1¼ miles. At the long investigation which was held before the Commision appointed by the Supreme Court last winter, the eminent experts retained by the opponents of the Rapid Transit enterprise admitted that the speed of express trains could be about 32 miles an hour and that of the local trains about 15 miles an hour. Using these speeds the saving with a transfer would be greater than herein indicated."

To this Mr. Cooper responds, saying among other things: "Temporarily we will assume that express trains do run at four-minute intervals, during the busy hours only, for I think Mr. Parsons would not claim the need for running at such close intervals at other hours. With four-minute intervals during the busy hours and twelve-minute intervals at other hours (an extreme allowance) only about 25,000 of those actually travelling between express stations would gain any time. Of those who could make one transfer, only about 25,000 could gain any time theoretically. Upon the assumption, then, of four-minute trains for the busy hours, and twelve-minute for the rest of the day and night, only 50,000 out of a total of 155,520, or 32 per cent would get any benefit, and to get it would need a keen practical knowledge of the train operations. I question whether one-half of this number would get any benefit, and certainly no one would claim that the full theoretical expectation could be realized."

It is somewhat difficult to follow Mr. Cooper from his figures to his plea for short distance rapid transit, and the relief of the tenement districts. Apparently it is only on the long distances that any material gain can be made and according to previous experience an increase in facilities is followed by a more than proportionate gain in traffic. Without a system of long distance rapid transit it is hard to see how the tenement districts are to be relieved. The only hope for the populations of these districts is cheap and rapid means of reaching territories where land is cheaper, which cannot be done on Manhattan Island, and we presume Mr. Cooper is not urging the advisability of transferring these people from one crowded tenement district to another. It is probable that the new railroad in the district beyond the Harlem will not pay for some years. This is the common fate of nearly all railroads. But there is more hope of the eventual prosperity of a line that extends out into new territory whose development will be its exclusive privilege, than of one which for all its length must compete with established lines of service. A long distance rapid transit line will relieve two forms of suffering, one is that of a vast area wanting population, and the other a large population now crowded into a comparatively small area that needs more space for wholesome domiciliation. Mr. Cooper's point that there is need for better facilities for handling the traffic which, it may be said, masses in the middle of the existing urban railroad system is well taken, but it is fair to assume that with the more frequent and speedy service that an additional line of railroad would supply this massing would be reduced by a redistribution of the traffic. His argument would have applied years ago to increasing the number of stages and opposing the building of the elevated railroad systems, but to-day it is met by the way in which the latter built up the territory north of 59th street. Why is it more unreasonable to suppose that a rapid transit railroad running both sides of the island from one end of the city to the other will not be as conducive to development north of the Harlem River as the elevated lines were south of it? If it is reasonable to suppose that similar results in development along the line and consequent traffic would follow the building of the rapid transit railroad, is it not also reasonable to suppose that the operation would be a paying one especially in view of the fact that there would be no watering of the capital of the new railroad while that of the old one has been copiously diluted and still earns and pays dividends on the share issues as well as on the bond issues.

The latest item of news in connection with rapid transit is the revival of some old schemes in consolidated form by the filing with the Secretary of State of an agreement of consolidation between the Central Tunnel Railway Co., the Terminal Underground Railway Co., of New York, and the New York and New Jersey Tunnel Railroad Co., under the form of the Underground Railroad Company, of the City of New York, with a capital of $5,000,000. The names of the officers and directors do not arouse any great belief that they can carry out an enterprise of the magnitude involved. They are: President, Bernard F. O'Connor; vice-president, Cornelius V. Sidell, of New York City; treasurer, Charles C. West, of Ridgewood, N. J.; secretary, James M. Fisk, of Newark, N. J. Directors—G. A. Liebig, Arthur M. Hatch, of Brooklyn; Spencer D. Schuyler, William C. Nicoll and Raymond L. Ward, of New York City. The railroad proposed to be constructed by this organization is about three miles in length, running from City Hall Park northerly to and under Chambers street, and through the block to and under Reade street, to Elm street, thence northerly through and under Elm street to and under Spring street and Marion and Mulberry streets, thence northerly through the blocks and under the cross streets to and under Great Jones street, thence through and under Lafayette place to and under Astor place and 8th street, thence through the block to and under 9th street to 4th avenue, thence northerly through and under 4th avenue and under 42d street to the Grand Central Station. There are to be three connecting branches, one forming a junction with the main line at or near 33d street, and running in an easterly direction to the 34th street ferry on the East River; the second forming a junction with the main line at City Hall Park and running in an easterly direction to or near the East River, and thence to South Ferry, with stations at all the ferries on the line, and the third forming a junction with the main line at City Hall Park and running westerly under the streets and through the blocks to West street, and thence southerly parallel with West street to South Ferry, with stations at all ferries on the line.

The Proposed Forty-fourth Street Railroad.

A petition has been circulated among the property-owners on 43d and 44th streets, between Broadway and the Grand Central Depot, asking their consent to the construction of a loop from the Metropolitan Traction Co.'s line, at 43d street and Broadway, to the Grand Central Depot and returning to Broadway by way of 44th street. The purpose of this loop is to enable the Traction Company to reach the depot. In so doing they would parallel the 42d street line from Broadway to Vanderbilt avenue. The property-owners, however, declined to sanction the loop, and a counter petition was circulated and is said to have received ninety per cent of the total signatures of the owners of the property affected. Mr. Beaman, of Evarts, Choate & Beaman, has charge of the opposition. Among the opposing property-owners are David H. King, proprietor of the Hotel Renaissance; Stewart Smith, the Bar Association; Harvard Club, Berkeley Lyceum, R. T. Wilson, Paran Stevens estate, Theodore Havemeyer, Estate of Helen Gould, Russel Sage, St. Bartholomew's Church, St. Nicholas Club, Racquet Club, New York Academy of Medicine, St. Louis Club, Century Association, Temple Emanuel and Robt. Ogden Goelet. The Third Avenue R. R. Co., as the lessee of the 42d street line, also opposes the application. The Metropolitan Traction Company has not yet applied to the Board of Aldermen for a franchise to construct the loop. It can do so, and in the event of being successful there and failing to secure the consent of the property-owners, which there is not the slightest chance of its getting, it may be said without any opinion being expressed on the merits of its application, can apply to the Supreme Court for a Commission to determine on the necessity of the loop. But in any event the property-owners are organized for fight.

Mortgage and Conditional Sale.

The Supreme Court, Appellate Division, in the case of William Duffus v. Howard Furnace Co., brought on appeal from the Onondaga County Court, has decided that a hot-air furnace, set up in the cellar of a house on bricks placed on the bottom of the cellar, with a smoke pipe extending into the chimney and hot-air pipes extending through the house, which can be disconnected without substantial injury to the building, does not pass under a mortgage of the house, where it was placed therein under a contract proving that it should remain the property of the seller until paid for. Under Laws 1884, Chapter 315, providing that in every contract for the conditional sale of chattels, accompanied by the delivery, the condition shall be absolutely void against subsequent purchasers and mortgagees in good faith unless the contract shall be filed, a failure to file the contract does not avoid the condition as to a mortgagee who had actual notice of the condition.

WHAT DETERMINES THE VALUE OF REAL ESTATE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Can you or any of your readers tell me what determines the value of real estate? You may answer: Demand makes the value; and then I should have to ask: What creates the demand; and to this, of course, in turn you might say: the use or uses to which the land can be put, and so forth. All this doesn't touch the point I want to get at.

Starting from Wall street, northward along Nassau street, there are buildings in the course of erection to-day on the northwest corners of Wall street and Pine street and Cedar street. On the southwest corner of Liberty street the big Syndicate Building is only just completed. Assume for a moment (what is not the case), that each of these structures were exactly similar in size, construction and cost. If they were all put up at auction tomorrow and sold for full value considerably different figures would be obtained for the several properties. The Wall street corner would bring the most and the others amounts in order, which I will not attempt to state. Furthermore, if like buildings on like corners of all other streets intersecting Nassau street were sold there would be wider differences in the sums obtained.

Now, fundamentally, what is it that makes these pieces of property differ in value?

It may be pointed out that, although suppositiously, they are all improved with office buildings affording tenants identical accommodation, nevertheless the tenants in some of the buildings will be willing to pay more than the tenants in some of the others, and hence the properties will be of different values. But here, again, I must ask why will the tenants of some buildings pay more than those of others, when all get the same mere house-accommodation? Is it because the banker or the broker in the Wall street building makes a larger income or profit than, say, the real estate broker in the Pine street building, or, say, the lawyer in the Liberty street building. In other words, does the rent paid and hence the value of the property, depend upon the lucrativeness of the pursuits carried on in it? If yes; then, here, we have the answer I am looking for. But I doubt whether this is actually the case. Does the difference in the value of property in, say, Wall street, the Dry Goods district, 5th avenue about 34th street and 6th avenue in the shopping centre, exactly or even approximately correspondence to the different incomes derived from each square foot of accommodation in each of these sections? And, to return again to my question, if values are not determined upon the principle indicated what is the principle that actually does govern? P. W. B.

[As our correspondent addresses his enquiry not only to THE RECORD AND GUIDE, but to its readers, we would like to know what our readers' opinions upon the matter are. The subject is interesting, and we shall be glad to publish communications received.—Editor RECORD AND GUIDE.]

THE TAX DEPARTMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir: I read with interest your suggestion that a night force be added to the tax office, to keep the work up. The trouble there, it has always seemed to me, lies at the root of affairs, and for which that office, as an office, should not be held responsible. The City of New York decrees that a year's obligations or taxes shall come due at a certain specified date, with the natural result that, on that date, there is an overpowering rush of every taxpayer with a dollar to his name to pay up in order to get rebates and in order to avoid penalties; the business principles underlying such a system belong to the days that are past. Would it not be far preferable, as there are 24 wards in the city, to have the taxes of two wards come due each month in the year, and by that method have a steady stream of money pouring into the City treasury? Again, proper business methods would suggest, to an ordinary business man, that if such tax bills were mailed, on, say, the 15th of the preceding month on which they come due, to each properly registered taxpayer, that City collections would be much facilitated thereby. I certainly think that the Commission now sitting and at work on the new charter of the Greater New York should essay a radical revision of the underlying business methods of the City, especially of the Tax Department. Certainly some endeavor should be made to approximate the methods of the City, with the business principles followed by large and successful commercial establishments.

Yours truly, E. A. TREDWELL.

New York, Oct. 6, 1896.

TAX DEPARTMENT FIGURES.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir: I notice in your reference to the report of the Tax Department last week, that the number of pieces of property assessed for taxes was 139,949 in 1895, as against 161,786 in 1884, and that it rose again in 1896 to 166,407. Can you explain this apparent discrepancy? H. G. E.

Answer.—The annual report of the Tax Department for 1895 states that the reduced number of pieces of real estate assessed in 1895, in comparison with 1894, may be accounted for by the introduction of the new system of maps, under Chapter 542, Laws of 1892, and in their preparation, where several pieces of property lying together or adjoining, and having but little, if any, improvement upon them, have since been improved by the erection of large structures of permanent character, covering many of the former separate pieces, the individual numbers have been abandoned; one number given to the whole of such property in each case covered by a structure and all assessed as one piece under one number. The increase in 1896 is explained by the enlargement of the city's territory under the act of 1895.—Editor "Record and Guide."

The "L" Stand Ordinance.

The Board of Aldermen has passed over the Mayor's veto, the "L" stand ordinance, which was published in full in our issue of Sept. 12, last.

The East River Dock-Front.

Messrs. Geo. S. Morrison, Wm. H. Burr and Wm. P. Creighill, the Board of Consulting Engineers, created to examine and report on the plans for improving the dock fronts on Manhattan Island, have recently added to their report on the North River front, made last February and summarized in our columns, a statement regarding the East River front. It divides this front into four parts: (1) from the Battery to Grand street; (2) from Grand street to 14th street; (3) from 14th street to 34th street; (4) from 34th street to 100th street, or the point of division between the East and Harlem Rivers, recognized by the Dock Department.

For the first section, beyond suggesting the removal of the canal boat berths to the upper part of the North River, and the concentration of the ferries at the Battery, the Board makes no specific recommendation, stating that the general plans involve a study of the railroad problem, which must be made the subject of a future report. The plans for the second section were approved and no recommendations made concerning them. Regarding the third section, the portion above 23d street has already been improved and of that between 14th and 23d streets the Board believed that all improvements should be made with reference to making it the terminus of steamers navigating Long Island Sound, and with this end in view some modification should be made in the plans. The point suggested for this particular traffic was 23d street. No difficulty was feared in handling passenger traffic, but on the matter of freight further investigation was required. For a greater part of the fourth section the Board believed a bulkhead alongside of which vessels could be landed for local convenience was the best means of improvement, and that railroads should be given some accommodations upon the marginal way, as on the North River front, but the latter matter raised a complicated question which must be reserved for future consideration.

Needs of Washington Heights.

A regular meeting of the Washington Heights Taxpayers' Association was held on Monday last, in their rooms, at the corner of Amsterdam avenue and 156th street. A resolution was passed urging the Commissioner of Public Works to grant the Third Avenue Railroad Company a permit for the construction of its road in the upper part of Manhattan Island, at his earliest convenience, so that the work may be started forthwith and afford this section of the city the much needed means of communication with the lower parts, for which the residents have been waiting so many years.

A second resolution was also passed stating that the work of improvement north of 170th street was retarded for want of grades, sewers and gas, with which it would be built up solidly in a few years; that it had been learned that the difficulty is caused by opposition in the Board of Aldermen and Department of Public Works; that the Association protested against these petty annoyances and delays, and authorized the executive, if necessary to appoint a committee of fifteen or twenty members to call upon the Mayor, President of the Board of Aldermen and Commissioner of Public Works, to show these officials by their presence that the Association mean to follow up this matter and see that they as taxpayers get what they are entitled to and pay for. Dr. M. Van Renssalaer, president, and David Stewart, secretary, were instructed to forward copies of these resolutions to the proper quarters.

New Incorporations.

Among the new companies incorporated at Albany is the Pierrepont Apartment Company—To erect apartment houses in New York City; capital, $10,000, and directors, George J. Bascom, William J. Arkell, Bartlett Arkell, of New York City.

Freedom of the Streets.

In consequence of several resolutions introduced into the Board of Aldermen to close certain thoroughfares against heavy traffic, the opinion of the Corporation Counsel was sought as to the powers resting in the city authorities relating to the regulation of traffic. His reply, addressed to the Commissioner of Public Works, was as follows:

Replying to your letter of September 15, inquiring whether there is any power which would justify the city in regulating the traffic by excluding heavy trucks, or by requiring that all vehicles traversing certain streets should be equipped with India rubber tires, I have to say:

The streets of the city are of the nature of public highways, in which all the inhabitants of the State have the right of free locomotion for purposes of business or pleasure.

The Commissioner of Public Works has no power to exclude any citizen therefrom, or to regulate or control their use for the aforesaid purposes.

Section 86 of the Consolidation act confers power upon the Common Council to make ordinances not inconsistent with law and the constitution of this State for the following purposes, among others:

"To regulate the use of the streets, highways, roads and public places by foot passengers, animals, vehicles, cars and locomotives."

Therefore, in the absence of direct legislative enactment, whatever power exists in regard to the subject under consideration is possessed by the Board of Aldermen. This power has been exercised from time to time by the passage of ordinances regulating, for instance, the speed at which vehicles may be driven, the lights which they must carry and similar subjects.

Whether the power to regulate and control would carry with it the right to exclude is an interesting question.

So far at least as abutting owners are concerned, I do not believe that any ordinance would be sustained which would prevent free access to abutting property.

I confine myself, however, to a direct answer to your inquiry, that you have no power to make or enforce any such regulation as indicated by you, and that whatever power does exist in that regard is lodged in the Board of Aldermen.

Relating to Streets.

A petition was filed with the Board of Street Opening and Improvement, at their meeting yesterday, praying that 59th street be widened from 3d to 5th avenues. The petition was signed by Bloomingdale Bros, John D. Crimmins, M. A. and D. Dittman, Leo. Schlesinger and Judge Dugro. Mr. E. W. Bloomingdale, who presented the petition, said in its support, that 59th street was the only street between 42d and 110th that had a railroad running all through, and the only street that could serve as an outlet across the city for the East River bridge at 66th street. It was suggested that the street be widened on the south side, because the property was less valuable there than on the north side. The only two valuable properties in the way were the Hotel Savoy and the Arion Club, and those, if thought necessary, could remain until such time as it was advisable to remove them. A committee, composed of General Collis, Colonel Cruger and Mr. Jeralemon was appointed to consider and report upon the petition.

Under advice of the Corporation Counsel, the Board authorized the Commissioner of Street Improvements of the 23d and 24th Wards to open 153d street, from Railroad avenue to Mott avenue, in order to bring the dispute with the New York Central & Hudson River R. R. Co. about this matter to a position where the legal points involved can be decided by the courts.

Comptroller Fitch asked that the name of Featherbed lane be changed, and suggested Strong avenue as a suitable substitute.

The question of filling in the Mott Haven Canal was discussed, but no action was taken upon it. Commissioner Haffen holds the opinion that the Health Board can condemn the canal as a public nuisance. He has a plan for laying a public street over it.

A Tribute to the Genius and Work of Russell Sturgis.

A dinner will be given to Russell Sturgis on the 16th of this month in honor of his sixtieth birthday, an invitation to Mr. Sturgis having been extended by the presidents of the art societies of New York, the union of which forms the Fine Arts Federation of New York. The dinner will be given at the Waldorf, and the matter is in the hands of a committee composed of George B. Post, chairman; Samuel P. Avery, Barr Ferree, Bruce Price, J. Q. A. Ward, and George L. Heins, secretary. This dinner is proposed as a compliment to Mr. Sturgis by the presidents of the Art Societies of New York in recognition of the fact that throughout his life he has stood in this community for all that is best in art.

It is pleasing to know that the bill posters are to be put under some restraint. The Park Commissioners have been advised by the Corporation Counsel that they are lawfully empowered to "control any and all fences or other structures in, about, or upon any vacant lot fronting on any public park, intended or used for advertisements; also to control the exhibition of advertisements on any vacant or improved lands fronting upon or adjoining any square or public place in the city."

This is splendid, for a beginning. Oh, how this city is defaced by vast and glaring advertising posters, as also by others of lesser size, but likewise offensive!

We trust that the Park Board will promptly exercise the powers conferred upon it by the law enacted at the last session of the Legislature. No trifling with offenders!—Sun.

(4) If so, what part and how much?

Answer.—1, 2 and 3, yes. 4. Outstanding bonded debt of the annexed territory of Westchester county, for which the City of New York is liable under Chapter 934, Laws of 1895. Williamsbride (Village): Highway improvement bonds, $80,000; sewer bonds, $175,000; Westchester (town) Union Free School bonds, $67,000; Wakefield, highway improvement bonds, $41,800; total $363,800.—Editor "Record and Guide."

Real Estate Market.

The reported sales and exchanges of property show a steady increase from week to week, notwithstanding a well-recognized inclination on the part of investors to defer making purchases until after election. Trades, some of which are referred to as such and others that the transfers will disclose, hold an important place in the business of the last six days and enable the estimate of the aggregate investment made to reach the familiar total of $1,500,000. Dwellings have been in slightly better demand, likewise building sites. The movement in other grades of realty has, however, diminished in volume.

The following are the comparative tables for the New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1895 and 1896.

The week in the auction room proved unsatisfactory, owing to the timidity of investors, born of the election campaign. That a timorous feeling has taken complete possession of the buyer of limited means was abundantly shown at Peter F. Meyer & Co.'s sale of lots at Undercliff Terrace, Morris Heights, on Wednesday. In May a similarly conducted sale of part of the same tract, earned the distinction of being the most successful one of 24th Ward land that had ever taken place in an auction room, and though the actual number disposed of was not as large as reported at the time, the transfers have since indicated that 137 lots found bona fide buyers. Wednesday's proposed offerings comprised 121 lots, and of that number only 25, including gores, were submitted for bidding. There were 17 knockdowns and we understand that not more than 16 of the 25 lots were actually sold, the balance being cared for in consequence of spiritless bidding, by representatives of the owner. The description of them and other particulars are published in another column. At the conclusion of the sale the auctioneer announced that the other lots outlined on the map of the property would be offered on November 10, one week after the election. That date seems to have become a favorite with those in control of other advertised sales, at which fairly good property is to be presented.

The adjournments to dates beyond next week comprised sales of the following parcels: Nos. 294 to 296 Grand street, by W. W. Fogg, until the 21st inst.; a large parcel on Macomb's Dam road, by D. P. Ingraham & Co., to the 23d inst.; Nos. 210 and 212 West 78th street, by William Kennelly; No. 124 E. 92d street, No. 110 East 92d street, and No. 148 East 91st street, by Peter F. Meyer & Co.; No. 13 Washington street, and No. 438 West 42d street, all to November 10. On Tuesday the withdrawal was announced of the leasehold properties Nos. 302 and 304 Madison street, and No. 165 Monroe street, a proposed sale of which had been postponed by William M. Ryan, from the previous week. On Wednesday William Kennelly withdrew from foreclosure sale the tenement on the south side of 109th street, 382 feet east of 2d avenue, and on Thursday the announced sale of 352 West 23d street was similarly disposed of by Peter F. Meyer & Co, A sale of Nos 636 and 638 East 139th street was withdrawn yesterday by William M. Ryan.

L. J. Phillips & Co. will conduct another auction sale of real property belonging to the Estate of J. W. Dimick, deceased, on Wednesday, the 21st inst. The first sale took place in May last, when nearly $900,000 was realized from 21 parcels sold. At the coming sale the number of parcels to be offered is considerably larger, and, as they are similar in character to the offerings at sale last spring, the results should be proportionately better. On this occasion the property to be offered consists of business buildings, with lots on West Broadway, Canal, Crosby, Varick, Franklin, Desbrosses, Hudson and other streets in the same neighborhood. Also higher up a business building on Broadway, tenements on East 34th street, two-story stores and unimproved lots on the Boulevard, and dwellings on West 77th street. The street numbers and other particulars are given in the formal announcement on another page, and the auctioneers have had prepared elaborate book maps, which can be had on application at their office, No. 149 Broadway. The amount and value of the property to be sold will draw a big crowd and make the occasion an interesting one.

Owners of New York realty who desire to place the management of the same in competent hands should consider the announcement of "Realty," which appears on another page.

Estimate clerk and superintendent, five years' experience with large city builder and contractor, desires to make a change; thorough knowledge of construction; large acquaintance. W. P. H., care of "Record and Guide."

Orders will now be received at THE RECORD AND GUIDE office, 14 and 16 Vesey street, for copies of "The Guide to Buyers and Sellers of Real Estate"—a handsome volume of about 200 pages, setting forth in untechnical language everything that the buyer, seller or owner of real estate should know concerning real property. Paper covers, 75 cents; cloth covers, $1.00.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

William C. Walker's Sons have sold for Rev. Eugene A. Hoffman the six-story store and loft building, 75x103.3, Nos. 6 to 10 East 13th street, for $180,000. It was acquired by the seller in December, 1888, for a consideration of $170,000.

Frederick Southack & Co. have sold for Richard J. Leggat to Joseph H. Bearns, the lots with old three-story brick buildings, 122 Hudson street, northeast corner of North Moore street, and No. 43 North Moore street, and with James F. Bragg for Maria J. Forshay to Mr. Bearns the intermediate lot, with similar building, No. 45 North Moore street. The plot thus secured has frontages of 31.8 and 88.7 and irregular interior lines with an extreme depth of about 72 feet at one point.

The same firm is reported to have sold the plot, 81.9x about 78, with four-story brick buildings, Nos. 499 to 505 Washington street, to Joseph Naylor, whose purchase of adjoining property was referred to last week.

David Stewart has sold for Peter J. McCoy at about $60,000 the five-story brick building, 48.4x50x42.6, Nos. 229 and 231 Park row and No. 66 New Bowery, at the junction of those thoroughfares.

William J. Roome, conjointly with Eckel & Batterman, has sold for Samuel Campbell to Richard J. Lewis the three-story brick house, with lot 20x92, No. 245 West 20th street.

J. Dreyfuss, who, it is said, represents Joseph L. Buttenwieser, has bought of Samuel H. Stone and William Prager, the four-story brick store and tenement and three-story rear tenement, with lot 24.8x100, No. 533 3d avenue, between 35th and 36th streets. The property was purchased in May for $21,200 at partition sale, and has been disposed of at a substantial advance. It will probably be improved when present leases expire next spring.

D. Kempner & Son have sold for Mrs. E. K. Simonson the three-story dwelling, 15.6x71, No. 228 West 33d street.

A sale is reported, at about $35,000, of the three-story brick dwelling, with lot 20x103.3, No. 12 West 16th street, owned by the estate of the late William Hurry.

An unverified rumor that has circulated during the week has it that a sale of a 5th avenue parcel "south of 23d street" at $350,000, has been closed and not until the title passes, about six weeks hence, will any definite information be obtained. The report seems to fit the Marshall O. Robert's property on the southeast corner of 18th street. An inquiry made yesterday at the office of the estate resulted in nothing definite being learned, unless the statement "we don't believe it," made in the absence of the executor, can be so regarded.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

J. W. Mudgett & Co. have sold for George F. Johnson, the plot, 71.3x210x88.9x204.4 slightly irregular, on the south side of West 72d street, running through to 71st street, and immediately east of the retaining wall of the N.Y.C. & H. R. R. R. Co., to Albert C. Morris and Charles H. Osborne, who will give in exchange the three five-story brick flats, 33.4x90x99.11 each, Nos. 511 to 515 West 145th street. The trading figures are $175,000 for the lots and $180,000 for the flats. Title will pass on the 20th inst, when the buyers will also acquire from the railroad company the retaining wall, which will form the westerly foundation of a ten-story apartment house, which will practically cover the entire site.

Mr. Johnson has also sold with a building loan an excavated plot, 42.10x100.11, on the south side of 103d street, 235 feet west of Columbus avenue, to Joseph Cirrito, who will erect a five-story flat.

Hall J. How & Co. have sold for the same operator to Frederic DeP. Foster, at $13,000, a lot 25x100, on the west side of West End Avenue, 75 feet south of 70th street, which cost $5,000 in February, 1886, and John J. Clancy has sold to the same purchaser his lot of same dimensions adjoining the above on the north. Both, it is said, will be improved by the erection of stables.

Hall J. How & Co. have also sold for James Kearney to Builders Gunn & Grant, a lot, 25x100, on the northwest corner of 8th avenue and 121st street, for $25,000, and for Jacob Lawson a lot, 25x100, on the west side of West End avenue, 75 feet south of 98th street, to a buyer who will erect a private house thereon.

Bernard Smyth & Sons have sold for Alexander Brown, Jr., at about $21,000, the four-story limestone front dwelling, lot about 17x75, No. 51 St. Nicholas place.

David Stewart has sold for Mrs. Dora Eisenmann, at about $40,000, the plot 260x107, with mansion, stable, etc., on the northwest corner of Audubon avenue and 190th street.

John B. Smith has sold to Ingomar Goldsmith, the four-story stone front dwelling, with lot 21x100.8, No. 16 West 90th street.

Slawson & Hobbs, the brokers through whom the complicated transaction was negotiated, finally succeeded yesterday in completing the sale to the Fourth Universalist Society, of the plot 102.2x150, on the southwest corner of Central Park West and 76th street. Price, $180,000. The purchase of the property as a site for a new Church of the Divine Paternity and parish house, was reported in our issue of August 1, and it was also stated that its consummation would depend on releases being obtained from a covenant of restriction affecting the inside street lot only. This has proved a more difficult undertaking than was expected, but as "all's well that ends well," we are happy to announce a satisfactory conclusion of the much discussed sale.

Builders Wagner & Wallace have sold one of their new row of eight four-story American basement dwellings on the south side of 68th street. It is about 19x56x100.5, and 195 feet west of Central Park West.

The Frank L. Fisher Co. has sold for O. Dickenson the three-story stone front dwelling, 20.6x55x102.2, No. 121 West 82d street.

A. L. Mordecai & Son have sold for Potter & Bro. the plot, 100.11x95, on the northeast corner of Manhattan avenue and 113th street, to John R. Todd, who will give in exchange the five-story flat, 37.6 feet front, No. 76 East 114th street. The lots adjoin the plot, 100.11x145, on the corner of 114th street, which recently figured in a trade between the same sellers and buyer.

Edmund S. Mills has sold the four-story brick dwelling with lot, 19.6x102.2, No. 250 West 73d street, for Mrs. E. M. Lockwood to Mrs. William R. Graves, of Bennington, Vt., for about $40,000.

Littery & Stearns have sold for Builder John Livingston, the five-story flat with stores, 25x96x100, on the northeast corner of 8th avenue and 113th street, to H. Bullwinkel, for $59,000.

John R. Davidson has sold for William Jones the five-story brick flat with stores, lot 25x75, No. 867 Columbus avenue, between 102d and 103d streets, to Charles F. Coy, for about $28,000.

Jere C. Lyons has sold the five-story brick flat with stores, lot 30x99.11, on the northeast corner of 143d street and Amsterdam avenue at something over $60,000, and will take a parcel of much smaller value in part payment.

D. Kempner & Son have sold for Edmund Coffin the five-story brick flat with store, 15x about 100x25x99.11, on the southeast corner of 144th street and Bradhurst avenue, and for Thomas Farrell, at about $16,000, the three-story brick dwelling, lot about 18x100.11, No. 368 West 118th street.

M. E. Hewitt & Co. have sold for Rachel McAuley, at a price less than $20,000, the three-story stone front dwelling, 17.6x55 x100.11, No. 130 West 97th street.

Concerning Real Estate Agents and Brokers.

Littery & Stearns, of No. 2096 8th avenue, between 113th and 114th streets, are active and successful workers in the real estate field. Our "Gossip" column this week and frequently since last January has contained notice of sales negotiated by this office and we understand that a total of over $800,000 is embraced in the sales completed. Both parties are young and energetic workers and give personal and careful attention to all business entrusted to them, including besides selling and exchanging realty, negotiating mortgage loans and insurance and the management of estates.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the Deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent. Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at the foot of this list.

Editor Record and Guide:

[1]The lien filed by Hugh Colwell against my property, southwest corner of Edgecombe av. and 141st st., is entirely unjust. I have paid Mr. Colwell in full, according to contract. I stand ready and have always been ready to settle any balance with him, according to contract. The filing of said lien is nothing but animosity.

John Walker.

Editor "Record and Guide:"

[2]W. G. Webber paid Cooper & Neumark in full and holds their receipt; the lien will be bonded.

Ed. J. Krug, Jr., Att'y.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows. The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—The market for Hudson River brick has shown no changes of importance during the past week. Arrivals have continued limited as shipments by manufacturers have been very moderate. Demand has about equalled the supply and as there have been no accumulation in sellers' hands, there has been a fairly good tone to the market. For a good color low grade brick, there has been something of a special demand and as a consequence they have commanded fairly full values. No changes have occurred in the range of values, which has been from $4.00 for ordinary up to $4.62½ for choice, and $4.75@5.00 for specials. The market for pale brick has been quiet, but as there have been few offerings prices have held steady at $1.75 @2.00. Very few Jersey bricks have been received in this market, as they have had little call, but values have been unchanged, at $3.75@ 4.00, closing steady.

CEMENT.—Although the quoted values for Rosendale cement have been lowered 5c. per barrel, there has been in reality no change in the market, as the bulk of the business transacted latterly has been at these prices. For the week, demand has shown something of an improvement, and at quoted values the market has been steady. Portland cement, both foreign and domestic made, has had a fair call at unchanged values.

LATH.—No changes of a radical nature have occurred in the market. The arrivals have been moderate and demand has been sufficient to absorb offerings with prices ruling steady, at $1.55 @1.60, although we have heard talk of sales at $1.50. The offerings of pine lath have been fair and this naturally has not had a favorable influence upon Eastern spruce.

LIME.—The market for Eastern lime was steady. There was a fairly good call for supplies, but owing to the small supply at hand and the reserved offerings in consequence, only a limited amount of business has been transacted. but as manufacturers have resumed operations, offerings are expected to increase shortly. The offerings of State lime have continued limited, as very little is being shipped this way; the price was quoted steady, at 60c.. St. John lime was quoted steady, at 60@65c., but there have been no arrivals recently.

LUMBER.—There has been little if any change in the general situation of the market. The amount of busines transacted has been limited, as the trade although continuing to talk confidentially over the outcome of the present political situation have shown a disposition to pursue a very conservative policy in their operations, not being disposed, as a rule, to enter into extensive negotiations until the result of the coming National election is positively known. An increased demand has been developed for white pine latterly, largely the result of dealers showing a disposition to stock up before lake and canal navigation closes.

The market for Eastern spruce has been without changes of importance. Advices from the Northeast state that the mills are about done sawing for the season and the market as a consequence showed a fairly good tone. Offerings of random cargoes have continued limited, owing to the small shipments to this market and although the large yards are reported as indifferent, buyers and sellers have experienced little difficulty in placing their supplies at full quoted values. A limited number of orders have been received for special cargoes, and early in the week a sale of a cargo of 12x12 ins. was made at $16.75. State spruce has had very little call but no changes have been made in quoted values. Offerings of West Virginia spruce have been somewhat limited. Deliveries for export on old contracts have been reported as fair.

A good tone has been reported to the market for hemlock. There has been an urging for supplies, but as mills are sold ahead offerings have been limited and prices have been well maintained. The call for cypress has been very moderate, but as there has been no disposition shown by sellers to force the market, despite the fact that they hold fairly large supplies, prices have held about steady.

Demand for white pine has shown something of an improvement during the past week. Some fair sized orders have been placed and prices, despite the fact that offerings have been large, have held steady and in instances slight advances have been paid to cover higher canal freights. The demand has been principally from dealers who are disposed to stock up before the close of lake and canal navigation. Included in the business transacted, has been Wisconsin straight box at $10.50 and supplies from States further east at an advance of 50c. to $1.50 per M. from this price. The call for North Carolina and yellow pine has been limited, but there has been no pressure to move supplies and values have held fairly steady.

No radical changes have occurred in the general situation of the market for hardwoods, while there has been no particular activity to the call for supplies a moderate amount of business has been transacted in some lines. Oak, both plain and quartered, has been in fairly good request at steady values; chestnut has met with a fair trade, and as offerings were limited, owing to the very moderate supplies, prices have ruled fairly firm. Birch has had a limited sale and has brought fairly steady prices. Poplar received some attention and values were about steady. Ash, cherry and other styles have been quiet.

The "Northwestern Lumberman" has the following:

Canadian Affairs.—New Brunswick.—It is stated that the deal shipments of W. M. Mackay this year from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia to ports on the other side of the Atlantic will aggregate over 200,000,000 feet.

At a sale of crown timber lands at Fredericton recently several two and three-mile berths went at the up-set price of $8, but two on Jacquet River brought $36 and another $29.50; one of four miles $26.50 a mile and another of six miles at $45 a mile.

M. Welch, who lumbers on the southwest Miramichi, and will get out 3,000,000 feet this winter, expresses the opinion that not over 50,000,000 feet will be cut on Miramichi waters this winter, or about 20,000,000 feet less than last year, because the spruce is being rapidly thinned out and harder to get each year.

Charles W. King, who will cut about 5,000,000 feet on the headwaters of the St. John this winter, estimates that the total cut will be about the same as last year, from 125,0000,000 to 130,000,000. The Fredericton Boom Company has rafted 116,386,089 feet this season, of which 94,490,699 feet was spruce, 16,240,040 feet cedar and the rest fine. There are some still hung up above Grand Falls, but only a few millions.

Finlay McDonald, of Blackville, will cut between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 feet this winter on the Dungaroon property lately bought by George I. Vaughan from the Bank of Montreal, with the mill at Black brook, on the main Miramichi.

Saginaw, Mich.—J. J. McFadden, of Grand Marias, who represents Hale & Booth, says that his firm will not put in over 20,000,000 feet of logs the coming winter and that the quantity of logs put into Georgian bay waters will not amount to more than one-fourth of the output last winter.

The Saginaw Lumber and Salt Company will only put in about 3,000,000 feet of logs this winter. The company will carry over about 15,000,000 feet.

Menominee, Mich.—There is 350,000,000 feet of lumber piled in the yards on both sides of the Menominee River. The input of logs will probably be 30 per cent. less this winter than last. Superintendent Ward, of the Ford River Lumber Company, reports that they will put in but 17,000 000 feet of logs the coming winter, against 45,000,000 last season. The H. Witbeck Company's log cut will be greatly curtailed during this winter. Only one camp has so far been put in by the Fence River Logging Company, which handles a great deal of the wood's work. No more camps will be started, unless it is one to clear out some burnt timber to save it from rotting. Last year the company put in 38,000,000 feet; this winter probably not more than 8,000,000. The Kirby Carpenter Company, which usually puts in 100,000,000 feet will probably not cut much if any over 30,000,000 this winter.

NAILS.—The market for cut and wire nails has been in a somewhat unsettled condition. At the recent meeting of the Association it was decided to maintain previous prices and to discontinue the guarantee. Despite this fact, advices received from the West state that large jobbers have been selling at concessions from quoted values, the result we understand of the fact that merchants as a rule have been enabled, owing to the slowness of trade, to obtain their supplies from independent manufacturers at below the Association's prices and, furthermore, there has been a disposition shown by the more conservative houses, now that the guarantee on prices has been removed, to reduce their holdings, not being desirous of being caught with a heavy stock on hand in case there should be a decline in values. We quote at $2.30@2.40 per keg for car lots at mill, $2.55 per keg for small parcels from dock, and $2.57 from store. Wire, $2.70 for car lots from dock, and $2.80 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—The market for paints has shown a rairly good tone and in many lines demand has shown a normal trade for this season of the year. White lead, both dry and in oil, has received a fair amount of attention. There has been a fairly good call for supplies and a moderate number of orders for future delivery have been received, prices ruling steady. Red lead has had a reasonable demand both for foreign and domestic and values have been steady. American zincs have latterly been in increased request at steady prices; foreign have had a moderate call at unchanged values. Litharge has received considerable attention. A number of new orders have been received and deliveries have been fairly large. The supply, however, has been equal to the demand and prices been unchanged and steady. The foreign makes of orange mineral have had a fair call and for forward deliveries higher prices have been named in instances. The Association figures on lead last announced are as follows, subject to change without notice: Pure white lead, dry or in oil, red lead and litharge in kegs, in lots of 500 lbs. and over, 5¼c.; red lead and litharge in barrels and half barrels, ¼c. per lb. less than the price in kegs; white lead (cases), 1c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead in 25-lb. tin pails (packed in 100-lb. or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead, assorted in 1-lb., 2-lb., 3-lb., and 5-lb. cans (packed in 100 or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs. Terms: On lots of 500 lbs. and over, 60 days, or 2 per cent. discount for cash, if paid within 15 days from date of invoice f. o. b. at New York. Special prices for dry white lead in barrels. Quantities: To make either of above assorted quantities and assortments of packages either or all of the articles may be counted. The above prices and terms supersede all previous prices and terms offered by this company. The market for linseed oil has remained firm and since our last prices have been further advanced 2c. per gallon. This has been the result, principally of the continued upward course to the market for flaxseed, although an increasing demand for supplies also has a tendency to strengthen crushers' ideas. Deliveries have been fairly large and a moderate number of new orders have been received. At this writing the market was quoted firm, with American city crushed quoted at 35c. for 5-barrel lots or over, and 36c. for less than 5-barrel lots; do. boiled was at 37@38c.; Calcutta was at 50c. There has been a fairly good demand for Western crushed oil, but owing to the strength of the market for flaxseed offerings have been limited and the price has ruled firm at an advance of 2c. per gallon from our previous quotation, closing at 34c. There has been a trifle less tone to the market for spirits of turpentine and at the opening of the week, sales were made at lower prices in response to weaker advices from the South. Subsequently, however, Southern advices came stronger and the local market improved in sympathy and at this writing prices were quoted steady at 28c. for regulars and 28¼c for machines. We quote at 28@29c. per gallon, according to time and place of delivery, quantity, style of package, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—No changes of an important nature have occurred in the market for tar. Only a limited amount of business has been transacted, but as supplies in first hands have been very moderate and advices from primal markets have been steady, there has been no pressure to sell and prices have been maintained. A limited amount of business has been transacted in pitch at firm prices. We quote tar at $1.65@ 1.70 in pine or Wilmington barrels, $2.50 in pork barrels and $3.50 in oil barrels. Pitch, $1.85@ 1.90.

VOL. LVIII. OCTOBER 17, 1896. No. 1,492

NEITHER worse nor better, is the opinion that must be expressed of the general business situation this week. If little has been gained nothing has been lost, and the hesitation to do more than is absolutely necessary, which is the prevailing attitude of the day, is only a continuation of the extremely conservative position assumed in all lines sometime ago. From points here and there comes the news of a mill or a factory which closed down in the summer's depression starting up and giving employment again to large numbers of hands. Prices on the stock market are somewhat better than they were a week ago, and they would be better still if powerful forces were not working to keep them down. There are existent all the usual reasons for an advance in stocks; the foreign trade statement is particularly favorable to this country; there is a great demand for our agricultural products at better prices than have been seen for a long time; gold continues to come this way; the railroads are working toward harmony and consequently toward better rates; the commercial world has had its shaking-up by which weak members have been dropped out; production has everywhere been kept down to actual necessities for a long time, putting the country industrially on the best kind of a basis for active work. These are all bull cards and yet the stock market is not permitted to respond. It will be noticed that we have omitted to mention the present aspect of the political situation as one of the favorable points. This was done to bring it out more prominently. Confidence in the triumph of the honest money cause next month is now general, and people on both sides of the Atlantic are willing to anticipate that result if they are not discouraged every time prices rise by the calling of loans and the consequent disturbance of the money market. This was particularly noticeable a few days ago when the buying that came into the market, on the publication of the views of the Republican party leaders as to the position of the campaign, was suddenly checked by the withdrawal of funds. The gentlemen who are carrying out this repressive policy no doubt have reasons which satisfy themselves of its wisdom, but others will doubt its propriety and expedience, inasmuch as it may give rise to a feeling that there are influential people who question the general opinion of Mr. McKinley's chances of success. It savors, too, of artificiality and manipulation, which for many reasons are unwelcome in the money market.

THAT Great Britain, France and Russia will join hands in suppressing the murderous tendencies of the Sultan of Turkey is so far only a matter of report. It is, however, good enough to be true; it is what they ought to do, With Germany indifferent, and Austria determined that Russia, the only power that can act effectively, shall not cross the Balkan provinces to reach Constantinople, the latter has need of disinterested aids like France and Great Britain to support her, and to approve whatever steps it may be necessary to take. Such an alliance might also dispose of a good many discomforting matters to the advantage of the world's peace, but it will not do to go into those, at least until we find out whether there is such an alliance and if so what its consequences will be. What will be the outcome of the adventure of the Bancroft is as little to be surmised. It is not probable that the cabinet has committed this country to more than a demonstration of force to collect damages for injuries inflicted upon American citizens. The country has made no demand for a disinterested movement on behalf of the Armenians and without this, the Government would not be justified in going further than is necessary to protect the interests and enforce the rights of our citizens. There is no prospect that the British Chancellor of the Exchequer will have such a surplus to report next spring as he had last. This will not occasion disappointment, because the prospective receipts for the current year when estimated, showed a falling off of $4,250,000. The results for the first half of the year actually show an increase of $6,500,000; but, as this is about $2,000,000 less than the increase for the first quarter, and as there is bound to be a decrease in the most important item, stamps, which represents the fees paid on new capitalization, the prospects point to a pretty large draft upon the margin of increase in the half year just begun. The change that has come upon the money market continues its unsettling effect upon all business; it is compelling liquidation in Paris and Berlin as well as in London and the other money centres. One result of higher rates in the German market is to, probably, postpone indefinitely the conversion of the Prussian 4s into a security bearing a lower rate of interest, though it is still rumored that they are to become 3s. Such a rumor hardly acords with the fact that the rate of discount and of bankers' accommodations has jumped up lately. Spain, which has hitherto been supposed to be hopelessly bankrupt is, according to M. Leroy-Beaulieu, not in that desperate situation. He says it is not an exhausted country, and is of all the states of the South of Europe, the one that posseses the greatest resources in reserve; taxation is not overwhelming and might be increased. Italy has made a new commercial treaty with Tunis through France and recognizing the latter as the medium through which Tunisian affairs are to be conducted. Austro-Hungary has agreed to make like recognition. When the United States and Great Britain follow the same course France will have completed the ring of protection by which she and her colonies are now all but encircled. A scheme has been worked out to avoid the objectionable features of the new bourse law and the Berlin Produce Exchange will, as a consequence, continue time contracts. In connection with the opening of the Iron Gates of the Danube, the fact is recalled that obstacles to navigation of the Rhine were removed in 1830 and the event was immediately followed by the development of a great river traffic; similar results are expected with justifiable confidence on the Danube.

AS election day draws near the plain and simple issue of the pending campaign ought to be brought out with force and simplicity. It can be stated in very few words, the fewer the better; it is simply Honesty versus Dishonesty. For months past there has been a great deal of talk about currency and ratios, until it has become to appear that the controversy embraces questions that can be settled by argument and the presentation of evidence, with the motives on one side as pure as on the other. Emphatically this is not the case. The readers of every newspaper have been formed into a class on political economy with self-appointed professors, not all too well informed themselves, following the subject in all its many branches from editorial chairs. Tons upon tons of printed matter have been scattered broadcast with the view of making converts to sound or unsound money principles. While all this may be very good in its way, it ought not to prevent a fair and square pronouncement of what the voters have to decide in little more than two weeks from to-day, and the interval can be very profitably spent in insisting upon one thing. Stripped of all specious surroundings the case may be put this way: The United States are asked as a nation to put themselves in the position of the shyster and reprobate of the business world and by subterfuge and trickery to cheat their creditors. When viewed in its naked hideousness this is the most appalling proposition that has ever been presented to a people. That any part of the nation should have the temerity to make it, should have so little belief in public morality as to think for a moment that it could be accepted by a self-respecting people, is in itself a matter for wonder and shame. It has no parallel in history. Savage and semi-savage peoples have deliberately invaded, murdered and plundered inoffensive neighbors. Despots in days of darkness have sought to cheat by debasing the currency they alone had the right to issue; but their acts were always condemned by the peoples over whom they ruled. That a people, not a despot, or an oligarchy usurping power and turning it to selfish uses, and a people endowed in the fullest sense with political liberty should deliberately declare for the lowest and basest of methods in the treatment of their debts is not possible. When an honest man is sought by a rascal to adopt dirty ways he does not waste time in argument; his refusal is immediate and final. When this proposal was presented to the people of this country through a party organization and made an issue, or the issue rather of a Presidential campaign, they were not able to make rejection with this commendable promptness. It is all the more needful therefore that it should be made most emphatic when the opportunity for making refusal comes. The "No" that is uttered next month should be so loud and determined that it will for ever discourage the renewal of the sordid invitation that is held out to us and announce to all the world that we as a nation intend to live honestly for all time to come.

PRESUMABLY no New Yorker would object to celebrate the opening of the twentieth century by seeing some of the great improvements now underway completed and entering on their career of usefulness. If we could open the New East River Bridge to traffic, pass under it to reach the finished Harlem Canal, return and dedicate to public use the magnificent series of works beginning with the 155th street viaduct and ending with the Grand Boulevard and Concourse in the 23d and 24th Wards, taking a view of the completed Jerome Park reservoir on the way, on January, 1, 1901, we would make a more fitting and noble commencement of the new century than would be possible with mere fireworks and hullabulloo, which for want of a more sensible outlet to the public feelings will be the only vent. But it is probably too much to expect that all the work these great undertakings represent can be done, or the money they will cost can be raised in the short space of four years and less than three months. Why particular stress should be laid upon the fact that another hundred years is begun it is hard to see, but undoubtedly stress will be laid on the fact that we count the hundreds of the Christian era by nineteen instead of eighteen. Would it not then be wise to have something that we can really be proud of as an evidence of our mental and bodily ability around which our congratulations would be centred, instead of indulging windy emotions to the fitting accompaniments of brass bands and skyrockets? If this is admitted, what would be better than to push the work upon the improvements named, or as many of them as can be surely completed within the time named and celebrate the dawn of the new century by their opening. Objection may be taken to arranging an outdoor function of large proportions for a day in the depth of winter, but, if this objection is insurmountable, there is no practical reason for insisting upon the first day of the year, a century is long enough to make a few months of little significance. What we want to insist upon most is that the opening year of the coming century, if it is to be celebrated at all, should not be celebrated by idle shows and mere fuss and feathers; that we should not enter upon it like children with shouting and romping, but in a spirit of dignity and manliness which nothing could emphasize better than great public works brought to a completion, and with due promptitude started upon their career of usefulness.

THE advantages of opening municipal work to the fullest and freest competition is shown by some statistics compiled by Mr. Edward P. North, Water Purveyor, and recently published in "The City Record," as a part of the report of the Department of Public Works for the quarter ending June 30. Two years ago the specifications for asphalt pavements were amended to allow bids to be put in for other bitumen besides Trinidad pitch lake. This at once enlarged the competition and reduced the cost of paving the streets. Under continued competition prices favor the laying of asphalt with a five-years' guarantee in preference to granite guaranteed for six months. A computation of all the asphalt pavements contracted for in 1894, 1895, and up to July 23, 1896, gives some very practical and gratifying results. With a fifteen years' guarantee the cost per square yard in dollars and decimals was, in 1894, $3.847; in 1895, $3.355; and in 1896, $2.671. The cost of the same kind of paving per square yard, guaranteed for five years was, in 1894, $3.074; in 1895, $2.888, and in 1896, but $2.223. The decrease in the cost has not been accompanied by diminishing quality, but, on the contrary, Mr. North makes the statement that both material and quality of work are being improved. How this facilitates the heavy task of putting the paving of the city into a condition more in accord with requirements and with the standards in other great cities is shown by an examination of these figures. At the prices of 1894, $1,000,000 would pave only 14.77 miles of 30-foot roadway, with fifteen years' guarantee, and 18.49 miles with five years' guarantee. With the prices of 1895 these lengths of road paved for the same sum of money were increased to 16.93 and 19.68 miles respectively, and with those of 1896, to 21.27 and 25.20 miles respectively. These facts encourage the hope that, with a continuance of an effective administration, New York City will, in a comparatively moderate space of time, be paved in a way that will convenience traffic in the streets and increase the health and comfort of its inhabitants. The improvement that has already been effected in this respect is very noticeable; it has not received the attention and praise that has been bestowed upon the work of the Street Cleaning Department, although it is equally deserving, especially considering the greater difficulties involved, and while this is saying a good deal it is not saying too much. Not only have long stretches of thoroughfare been laid with asphalt, but under Mr. Stevenson Towle, Consulting Engineer of the Bureau of Water Purveyor, a regular crusade has been carried on against defective sidewalks. The use of cement curbs has been prohibited. This has materially assisted in producing that bettered outward appearance that our city now presents. Of course there is a great deal yet to be done before, say London or Paris, are no longer superior to us in this respect, but it is only fair to recognize the spirit and endeavor that is working toward curtailing the interval.

Foresight.

THOSE who have found the present campaign explicable on any basis which assumed the honest mindedness of both the Western debtor and the Eastern creditor, may be somewhat helped in their efforts to understand the situation by thinking of it as a revolt against the shrewd and far-seeing on the part of those who are simply industrious and honest. Those who in active business life every day see the manifold uses of foresight, both to the individual possessing it and to industry as a whole, find it hard to realize how the world looks to a man, who, relatively speaking, does not see much beyond the end of his nose. To the latter foresight so keen as to be beyond his comprehension savors of fraud. He is helpless in competition with it, and he hates it as something unfair, akin to the use of copper bullets in battle. His feelings will be better understood if we think of the dislike which Indo-Europeans very commonly feel for the Jewish race. The Hebrews have many virtues, and there are manifold reasons for admiring them, but their excessive shrewdness gets them disliked. In the course of years their competitors come to feel that they have an unfair advantage and charge them with dishonor when they are guilty of nothing but patience and foresight.

We have already pointed out that the appreciation of gold has been constantly discounted and its evils minimized by a consequent fall in the rate of interest. It is evident that if every one was far sighted enough all automatic fluctuations of the money value, might, conceivably, be discounted and rendered harmless, but the movement has been so stealthy that it has been realized and its future course anticipated only by the very farsighted. It has been a tendency that has put a very great premium on shrewdness. The average business man and the average farmer did not reckon with it at all and the result has been to transfer large quantities of wealth from the short-sighted to the far-sighted classes of the business world. If we remain on a gold basis and the appreciation of gold continues it will henceforth be better understood by the general population and more generally calculated on by all classes.

The character of the foresight required for industrial success has greatly changed of late years. The instance just cited of the appreciation of gold indicates the manner in which a premium has been put upon foresight in monetary affairs. The broadening of markets has also changed the character of the foresight necessary for success in many industries, notably that of farming. A man who can foresee the likelihood of floods, or drouth, or chinch bugs, and who keeps well informed as to the acreage of wheat in his own county, or State, may be excused for not reckoning upon the competition of Argentine and India. When the latter brings him loss and perhaps ruin, when it makes it impossible for him to meet the principal and interest of loans which he had felt fully justified in incurring, he is surprised and disgusted. He feels himself to have been injured without any "fault" on his own part, and concludes that it must be through the fault of some one else. He may find the explanation of his wrongs in the operations of a great produce exchange, or in the rates charged by railroads on his produce, or he may lay all his ills at the door of the "Shylock" who forecloses the mortgage. If he is told that there has been a malicious conspiracy to make money appreciate, this seems to fit his case exactly and he believes what is said. The simple truth is that he has been at a disadvantage in dealing with men who understood the situation better than he, and who could see further into the future. Modern industry had placed high rewards on the kinds of shrewdness that he did not possess.

Another class of industrial organizers has suffered through inability to foresee that the day of free competition between a large number of small enterprises was drawing to a close. They were wise in all things pertaining to their work except the philosophy of industrial development, and for their failure to foresee that trusts and combinations could crush them, they were crushed. They failed to reckon with the invincible power, under present conditions, of large enterprises.

There are those who appreciate the social value of foresight so highly that they do not conceive that its reward can ever be excessive. If a man sees further into the future than one with whom he deals it is right and proper that the latter's wealth should be transferred to the former. It must be admitted that it is in the order of nature that the hopelessly stupid should be eliminated. The fool-killer is the petted darling of evolutionary philosophy. But after this is admitted it should be remembered that there are other industrial virtues than foresight, and it will be bad for society if the rewards given this shall be so great as to discourage other useful qualities like industry and fidelity.

If the revolt of the West and South against the East were to be defended on the strongest theoretical grounds it would be urged that conditions, partly independent of government, and partly dependent on government action, had conspired to give an unfair advantage to certain kinds of keen prevision. Members of industrial society of great previous and of great future potential usefulness have been crippled and ruined only because they failed to exercise certain new-fangled varieties of foresight. This is not only hard on them, but it is industrially wasteful of good material. It is consequently proposed by political action to take away from present holders some of the excessive rewards that have come to them, and for the future to make conditions that will be more easily understood by all, conditions that will not put so high a premium on peculiar and excessive shrewdness. Most of the Populists would not understand or accept this philosophy of their agitation, but none the less it is fundamentally correct, and perhaps brings out again the truth of the assertion that "political agitation exists and is formidable only by virtue of what is just in its demands."

What is the New Real Property Law?

THIS question has been put to us many times and deserves a public answer. Scattered through the Revised Statutes of New York, in more than sixty chapters, the various laws relating to real estate were formerly to be found, but in April last the State Commissioners for Revising and Codifying the Statutes, reported a law which was passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor, and which went into effect October 1, 1896. They called this the Real Property Law for short.

As the Revisers, in their preliminary note, very justly state, this law is closely related to the tenure of the homes of the people of this State, and their permanent locations for business purposes. Every real estate owner and every real estate dealer, and agent and broker, and every lender of money on bond and mortgage, as well as every man who supplies material or labor in building, for which he has a lien, is interested in this statute, and should know its provisions.

There have been brought together in this law (which occupies about fifty pages in the "Record and Guide's publication of it), all the laws about the purchase, holding and owning of real estate by citizens, aliens, women citizens who have married aliens, and the descent of real property, by will or by law, through aliens as well as citizens. The legal definitions of freehold estates and of chattels real, are given, and the rules which govern a man's disposition of his real estate by will—for example, that he cannot tie it up for more than two lives in being. The law about trusts is to be found in it, such as trusts for a public library, or charity, and trusts for the benefit of creditors. Sometimes a man draws his will in such a way that while it is not lawful as a trust, it is good as a power and this statute gives all the rules as to what his executors may or may not do under those circumstances. Then it contains all the valuable and important rules about dower in this State, a State wherein married women have more rights than their husbands. We find there the laws about landlords and tenants; among other things, when the tenant may surrender the premises, and his liability for holding after notice to quit. Then all about conveyances and mortgages, and the new short forms of deeds and mortgages, and the covenants in them; and all about recording them, and about acknowledgments and proofs of deeds, etc., both within and without the State; this latter is especially interesting to notaries. The final chapter of this law is upon the important subject of the descent of real property, to whom it shall go upon the owner's death, when his father inherits, and when his mother, and when brothers and sisters, besides posthumous children, and a thousand other points of interest and importance to every man and woman.

This is not a matter of searching a title, where it is necessary to employ a lawyer, or a Title Company, and where, if you want to read up the history and state of the law about searches and points affecting title you would go to that Baedeker of law-books, "Gerard on Titles," so well edited by Mr. Edgar Logan; but it is the law of the land, brought together and re-enacted in a Code, which has gone into effect only a fortnight ago.

A Silver Argument.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE.

I believe I can truthfully say that during the past fifteen years I have not omitted to read and consider a single issue of your paper. This, not so much on account of its real estate news, wherein it is invaluable, but by reason of the scholarly and practical articles and editorials on topics of current interest which appear in its columns. Among such was a series of articles on bimetallism which were well calculated to awaken reflection in thinking minds.

In your last edition is contained an editorial where, in considering an important phase of the self-same subject you felicitate your readers upon the fact that from the present campaign "people are learning something from it about the nature and function of money;" before you conclude with the first paragraph, appear the following phrases in less than eight lines, "silver agitation," "economical lunacies," "disturb the peace," "upset business," "dense ignorance," "misled by fallacies," "misconception about money," etc., etc.

Is not this a departure from your ordinary conservative method of dealing with questions? I contend the present financial question presents no more marked differences than do the respective Democratic Free Trade and Republican high protective policies. Why cannot this great silver question be discussed in the same way? Is it not more patriotic to believe and act as Henry Clay did in his celebrated speech on the tariff in 1824, when he said: "Both classes are equally sincere in their respective opinions, equally honest, equally patriotic, and desirous of advancing the prosperity of the country. In the discussion and consideration of these opposite opinions for the same purpose of ascertaining which has the support of truth and reason, we should, therefore, exercise every indulgence and the greatest spirit of mutual moderation and forbearance."

My object in now trespassing on your columns is not, however, to play censor, but if you will indulge me and accord to one differing from your views opportunity to answer the same, I desire to present a reply to your editorial.

In your article entitled "Money and Wealth" you said that the money, one and one-half billions, in circulation does not represent the wealth of the country nor its capital, which we all know amounts to more than thirty billions, and you triumphantly state that it is "a fallacious scheme to make everybody happy by injecting into the currency an amount of silver that must be relatively only a drop in the bucket compared with the capital which is the main thing." You say: "to measure it (capital) by the quantity of money we possess is manifestly absurd."

I have not the hardihood to present any personal views of mine in answer to your editorial, but surely no views expressed by the great American statesman, Henry Clay, however we may differ therefrom, can be characterized as "manifestly absurd."

In the same speech from which I have already quoted, and which was intended to relate to the tariff only, Mr. Clay, as a broad, economical and financial principle, upon which he based his subsequent great argument, laid down the following, which certainly is a direct answer to your contention that "we cannot measure capital by the quantity of money we possess."

"The quantity of money in whatever form it may be which a nation wants is in proportion to the total mass of its wealth, and to the activity of that wealth. A nation that has but little wealth has but a limited want of money. In stating the fact, therefore, that the total wealth of the country has diminished, within a few years, in a ratio of about fifty per cent we shall at once comprehend the inevitable reduction which must have ensued in the total quantity of the circulating medium of the country. A nation is most prosperous when there is a gradual and untempting addition to the aggregate of its circulating medium. It is in a condition the most adverse when there is a rapid diminution in the quantity of the circulating medium, and a consequent depression in the value of property. In the former case the wealth of the individual insensibly increases, and income keeps ahead of expenditure. But in the latter instance, debts have been contracted, engagements made, and habits of expense established in reference to the existing state of wealth and of its representative. When these come to be greatly reduced, individuals find their debts still existing, their engagements still unexecuted, and their habits inveterate. They see themselves in the possession of the same property, on which, in good faith, they had bound themselves. But that property, without their fault, possesses no longer the same value, and hence discontent, impoverishment and ruin arise."

HENRY W. UNGER.

241 East 39th street, New York City, Oct. 5, 1896.

We entirely agree with our correspondent that nothing at all is to be gained by acrimony in the present money controversy. We do not think, however, that our correspondent ought to find fault on this score with the phrases which he quotes from us. There surely is a "Silver agitation," which certainly does "disturb the peace" and "upsets business," and lodged in the controversy, on one side or the other, there must be "misconceptions about money," "dense ignorance," "economical lunacies" and "fallacies" that mislead.

In nearly all controversies which divide people there is more or less of right on both sides. No one party is wholly wrong. There is in the dispute somewhere, a really arguable point something which reasonable, well-informed and trained minds are called upon to consider and discuss. In the instance referred to by our correspondent—viz., the long-standing debate about Free Trade and Protection—there is debatable ground. In face merely of results—the experiment in Protection in the United States, and the experiment in Free Trade in Great Britain—each side, we believe, can rationally challenge the others' extremest theory. But, in this silver controversy, we cannot discover any matter for rational discussion. It is as difficult for a well-informed man to deal seriously with it as with any other form of active ignorance. We refer to the 16 to 1 policy, for that, of course, is the matter at issue now. The question is not even "remonitization" of silver at any fair conservative ratio. The fetishtic 16 to 1 is arbitrarily insisted upon. No one tells us why the ratio should be 16 to 1 instead of 17 to 1 or 20 to 1. Judged by science, experience and the moral code the Chicago platform is not discussable. The 16 to 1 programme is, fortunately, so exact and definite, that it can be tested and checked off by facts and figures. It is thus more easily "got at" than international bimetallism, which is a wider and vaguer subject, and therefore one that cannot be so easily discredited. But international bimetallism is not under discussion to-day; it is 16 to 1 that confronts us. And 16 to 1 is silver monometallism; and monometallism is denounced by silver men. It means a silver basis, a depreciated currency and nothing else. Our own history shows beyond dispute that the two metals, gold and silver, have never really circulated concurrently. The legal ratio and the market ratio are seldom the same. Only accidentally and momentarily have they corresponded, and the result has been that one metal or the other has been driven out of circulation—gold prior to 1835 and silver subsequently. Silver at 16 to 1, even allowing for some advance in its price consequent upon favorable legislation, will be much cheaper than gold. The adoption of the free silver policy by this country would, in the matter of money, place it shoulder to shoulder with Mexico and India and China and all the poorer countries of the world.

We have not the slightest doubt that the Silverites are every bit as sincere in their opinions, as honest and as patriotic as the partisans of gold. The trouble with them is, they are not familiar with monetary science, nor with the great body of divergent facts, an intimate knowledge of which is necessary to sound judgment. Indeed, the submission of so difficult and intricate a question to a popular vote is an absurdity, though an unavoidable one. The majority of people are no more competent, by either knowledge or experience, to pass judgment upon questions concerning money than they are upon the nature of the Greek verb.

The second quotation from Henry Clay is most interesting, but we cannot see what direct bearing it has upon the 16 to 1 scheme. We are certain that Henry Clay would be one of the first to repudiate a silver policy that would quickly bring about the discontent, impoverishment and ruin that he writes of. We say the quotation is irrelevant because it is a statement made in 1824 and cannot be taken, without proof, as applicable to 1896. That proof is not forthcoming. Our correspondent doesn't give it, and it is not to be found anywhere in 16 to 1 literature. It is easy to asseverate that there is not enough currency, that the prices of commodities have fallen principally in consequence of the deficiency, and that great and widespread evil is wrought thereby. An adequate demonstration of these and similar propositions is wanted. Indeed, little is advanced in substantiation except mere statements that the facts are so. Why won't somebody take the trouble to show how these statements square with all actual conditions? We have tried to do it, and as point after point has broken down under impartial analysis, we have been driven to the firm conclusion that the cry for silver is a popular delusion born of greenback fallacies and present hard times. The ultimate cure for it is fuller knowledge, and in the meantime, until that is attained, the force of the majority of this people who are not repudiationists and have nothing to gain by a monetary revolution.

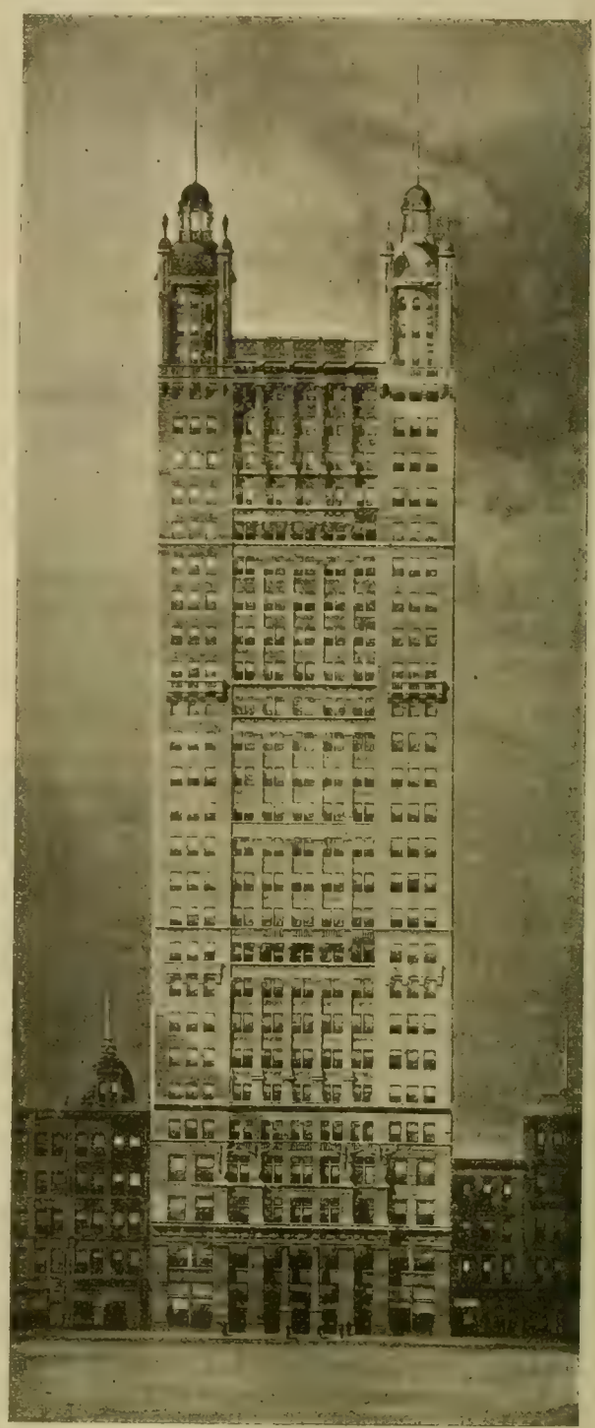
New Plumbing Rules and Regulations.



The Superintendent of Buildings has had prepared a set of rules and regulations for plumbing, drainage, water supply and ventilation of buildings in accordance with the act passed in the last session of the Legislature, entitled "An act in relation to plumbing in the City of New York." These rules and regulations go into effect on Monday next, the 19th inst. They have been prepared in pamphlet form, and can doubtless be had on application to the Department of Buildings. Architects, builders, plumbers and others interested should at once acquaint themselves with the changes embraced in these rules and regulations, some of which are important. Among other things the use of wooden and cement washtubs is prohibited. No period is fixed in which work must be begun under a plumbing permit, consequently it is inferred that there will be no limit to the life of the permit. It is understood that later the regulations will be amended to permit the use of cement washtubs made of proper material.

Fences Fronting Parks.

The Park Department has made a rule that all new fences coming within their jurisdiction must be seven feet high; that standing fences ten feet high shall remain undisturbed for the present, and wherever more than ten feet high shall be cut down to that height. Diagrams of fences as well as the devices thereon must be submitted to the Department for approval. The general ordinance of the Department relating to fences fronting parks, and passed under powers conferred by Chapter 836 of the Laws of 1896, was published in full in our issue of Sept. 26, 1896.

Building in Lower New York City.

Although in the upper part of the city, the amount of building work in hand is considerably below the nominal, it is doubtful whether there has ever been more work going on in the extreme southern part of the Island than at present. In the St. Paul Building and the Park Row Building, we have two of the largest operations ever undertaken down town; and the claim is made for the Bowling Green Building that it contains a greater area of floor space than any other office building in the world. Only to mention other big operations, there are the Gillander Building, on Wall and Nassau streets; the Bank of Commerce, Cedar and Nassau sts; the Western National Bank Building, Nassau and Pine sts. On William st., between John and Platt sts., is the large Woodbridge Building; on Broad street, the Commercial Cable Building is under way, and on Broadway, at Pearl street, the new building for the Central National Bank is showing the iron skeleton. On Dey street, the Metropolitan Telephone Co.'s new structure is closed in. In addition there are a number of buildings of lesser note or upon which work has not yet commenced. Besides as being of interest we print elsewhere a a list of the more important buildings throughout the city that have been planned for, but have not yet been commenced. We also give illustrations of the designs of some of the larger office buildings now in course of construction down town.

Those Filed Orders.

Our records do not show that the privilege afforded by the amended section 5 of the Mechanics' Lien Law, or Chapter 915 of the laws of this year, is regarded with very great favor by the material men and sub-contractors of this city. Not only was it two months from the time the act took effect until the first order was filed, but in three weeks that elapsed from the time when the privileges afforded by the amendment became a matter of notoriety, and which closed last Friday, the number of such orders placed on the order docket of the county clerk's office was only 27, and five of those relate to the assignment of a building loan and are not orders in the sense contemplated by the amendment. Notwithstanding the small desire so far exhibited in the trade to make orders of record, the act under which it may be done, and the question of mechanics' liens generally, are exciting a good deal of discussion in the building trade. It will be seen by reference to our records of the filings that the orders are made usually upon the makers of building loans, and from this the impression has arisen that these are accepted orders, indicating an acceptance of the principle involved in the amendment by the people who are best known in this line of the real estate business. As a matter of fact this is not the case. Inquiries made by "The Record and Guide" show that the institutions and the best firms who make a specialty of building loans, regard it with the utmost disfavor. Their position is fairly represented in the two following statements:

Mr. Edward V. Loew, President and General Manager, German-American Real Estate Title Guarantee Co.: "We have been asked to accept these orders in many cases, but have always declined to do so. Where any are filed against property on which we are making loans we regard them as liens and require that they shall be discharged before we carry out our contract, just as we do any other kind of lien. Where a payment is due from us, and orders have been filed, we have notified the owner that he will have to get them discharged before we would consent to make the payment. We do this because we do not want the bother and risk that would be entailed upon us if we accepted the orders, or consented to their being filed. If we did this we would have to hunt up the records of the parties and keep track of them, and, in the event of our accepting an order and some one filing a lien in the interim, we would be practically bound by our acceptance. More than that, I do not like the amendment; it goes too far. The law as it stood before amendment gave sufficient remedies and full protection to all parties having claims against a job. Its effect will, in my opinion, undoubtedly be to make loaners hesitate to afford accommodations to builders, because of the added risk in the operation. As a result of this the people who got the amendment passed are likely to have injured themselves."

The second gentleman whose views were requested is a well-known real estate man, who makes a specialty of builders' loans. He said: "Where the operation is a doubtful one, say, when the builder and mortgagee are in collusion to defraud the creditors of the former the orders probably afford a safeguard to the material men, but where the building contract provides that no payments shall be made if an order is given that blocks the business. In effect the filing of an order is the same as the filing of a lien, and it is a very serious question whether it does not have the same effect upon a builders' credit, because no payments can be made after the order is filed until the claim has been satisfied. The only difference is that one is a voluntary security, given by a debtor, and the other is taken adversely by the creditor to protect himself. As to the conditions that brought about this amendment of the mechanics' lien law, they are due entirely to the way business is done by the material men in New York City. Owing to the competition among them they are willing to sell material to a man to whom they would not sell a pair of shoes if they were not engaged in building operations; each expects to get his money in some way or another from someone else. They often give credit to a man with full knowledge of the fact that his building loan is not sufficient to complete his building, and that he has no capital of his own to make up the difference. In this case the material man must expect to get paid by some one other than the builder. To illustrate the process: A builder buys a lot for, say, $10,000; he mortgages it for $12,000 and gets a building loan of $10,000 to put up a $14,000 flat. He has then $22,000 to pay far a property that has cost $24,000. He must sell promptly, and to good advantage, in order to be able to pay everybody. If he fails to do this, and the property is sold in foreclosure, it is not likely to fetch what it cost. Whatever loss remains must fall upon some of the material men. One way to prevent material men from giving credit when they know that the resources of the builder are not sufficient to pay all claims is to amend the mechanics' lien law by taking away the priority of liens and to provide that the proceeds of a sale under judgment for mechanics' lien should be divided pro rata among all lienors, and that no one should take any advantage over the others. That is an opinion given off-hand. I know, at the same time there are great and grave difficulties in the way of dealing with the question of the amendment of this law, and the whole matter would have to be very carefully considered before final judgment could be reached as to what should be done."

A member of the firm of Stern & Rushmore also said their policy toward orders filed with the county clerk would be to regard them as liens whose satisfaction would be a pre-requisite to advances under contracts for making building loans. They had accepted a small order at the request of the parties, but that was an exception and not to be regarded as a precedent. The orders of last week that have caused the most remark were the five making up a total of $50,000, given by Henry L. Wood, on Louis M. Jones, to City Trust, Safe Deposit and Surety Co., of Philadelphia. which, from the description, obviously covered the building loan that Jones agreed to make to Wood, for the improvement of the property Nos. 112 to 116 Bleecker street. Dayton, Dunphy & Swift, who filed the order, stated that the facts were that on agreeing to make the building loan Jones required an indemnity bond for the due performance of the contract. This was made by the City Trust, Safe Deposit and Surety Co., of Philadelphia, which, in order to protect itself, required that the payments on the loan should be made to it when due, and by them paid out upon certificates of the architect.

Additional zest will be given to the discussion of the main question of the mechanics' lien law when it becomes known that some amendments to the law will be proposed in the next session of the Legislature. The representative organizations of the material men up the State are pressing for the introduction of what is known as the Wray bill, and which was defeated in the last and previous sessions. Word has been received from a very prominent member of the Legislature, whose advice was sought by New York real estate interests, that they must make preparation to defeat that bill, unless one satisfactory to all parties can be introduced and passed. What the Wray bill was can be seen by the memorial presented to the Judiciary Committee of the Senate by the New York Lumber Dealers' Association, and published in full in our issue of March 21st last, and the probable consequences of its passage were pointed out by us editorially several times while the Legislature was sitting and had the bill under consideration.

Park Avenue Damages.

The first of the suits against the New York and Harlem Railroad Company for damages for injury to property caused by the building of its elevated railroad on Park avenue, has been tried, and a substantial verdict obtained. The action was brought in the Supreme Court by the late Police Justice Charles A. Welde, and its nature and the circumstances connected with it are explained in the opinion of Justice Stover, which is as follows:

Welde v. New York & Harlem R. R. et al.—This action is brought to restrain the construction, maintenance and operation of an elevated railroad structure through Fourth avenue, in front of the premises of the plaintiff, between One Hundred and Twenty-fourth and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth streets. By chapter 339 of the Laws of 1892, permission was granted the defendant to change the grade of its tracks between One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street and the Harlem River. The tracks of the defendant prior to that time had been located in a depressed cut, extending along the premises of the plaintiff and for some distance either way beyond. The act provided for a viaduct structure of iron or steel, to be built above the level of the street, not less than 14 feet at various street crossings; the viaduct structure to be built over the existing depressed cut, which was to be filled up, upon the construction of the steel or iron viaduct, and to be supported on columns, extending transversely and longitudinally with the railroad; the transverse columns to be three in number, one in the centre line of the railroad and one on each side of said centre line, at a distance not to exceed 28 feet each way between the centre of the columns, except at some points, not the points of dispute; the tracks to be carried on a solid tight floor. By section 7 of the act, the defendant and its lessees were given the right, at their option, to construct a station house on both sides of the railroad at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, with platforms extending from the north line of One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street to the south line of One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, and necessary provisions to be made for the construction of that road. The work was to be done by a board of improvement, the expense to be borne by the defendant and the city, and when completed, the whole improvement to become, practically, the property of, and subject to the control of the defendant and its lessees. The work proposed by the statute would comprise a structure at a point in front of the plaintiff's premises, 56 feet wide, above the present depressed cut, and would leave an open driveway about 40 feet in width, on either side of the elevated structure. The work as built, with the station house provided for by section 7, covers the roadway, the superstructure, which is 22 feet high, resting upon iron columns placed in the curb, at either side of the street. It was urged upon the trial that the defendant was not responsible for the work, and that no action should lie against it or its lessee by reason of the work. I think this contention is not well founded. The structure is built for the benefit of the defendant; it was optional with the defendant whether the station house should be built or not, and when completed the entire structure passed under its control, and practically its ownership extends to the whole structure. While it may be subject to some conditions, yet for the purposes of operation the defendant and its lessees and licensees are the only ones interested in the maintenance and operation of the structure. Besides, it is a participator in the erection, being responsible for its share of the cost, and, as a matter of fact, its own officers and employees, while under the control and under the nominal direction of the board of improvement, have the real superintendence and charge of the entire construction of the work, its engineer being the engineer in charge. But whatever that relation may be, under the law, it seems to me that the fact that the railroad contributes to the cost, and upon its completion receives the entire benefit of the work, is sufficient as towards one who is injured by the illegality of the structure, if it is illegal, to permit an action to be maintained against it, and the fact that another wrongdoer is not joined, is not available to the defendant. The reasons for this need not here be stated, as the statement of the proposition suggests the principle upon which it rests. "The Story case and those which have followed it have settled the doctrine that the placing of an elevated railroad structure in a city street is inconsistent with its character as an open public street, and in the absence of the consent of the abutting owners to the erection, violates their rights as such, nothwithstanding the title to the soil of the way is in the municipality, and although the railroad company in erecting the structure acted both under legislative and municipal authority" (Williams v. Railroad, 126 N. Y., 100). This proposition is no longer open to discussion in this State, and I think the plaintiff has brought himself within the law entitling him to a recovery for the interference with his rights. The evidence shows that his property, consisting of a four-story building on Fourth avenue, with three stories and apartments above, and his private residence on One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, were affected seriously by the erection of the defendant's structure in Fourth avenue, between One Hundred and Twenty-fourth and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth streets. That the rental value of the property, and the actual rental of it was seriously affected from the commencement of the work, and there can be no doubt that the permanent occupation of this elevated structure, and its use for the operation of a steam railroad, would materially depreciate the value of his property. The testimony upon that point is, as usual, conflicting, and, to a certain extent unsatisfactory, but perhaps no more so than usual in actions of this character. That the construction and operation of this viaduct is a serious injury to the property of the plaintiff, it seems to me, cannot be questioned. The operation of a standard gauge steam railroad, with its large and heavy trains, some 200 passing daily over this portion of the road, must render the locality extremely undesirable for residence purposes, and the proximity of the station would, it seems to me, not have the compensating features which would attach to a local street railroad, the traffic being of an entirely different nature, and there is nothing in the evidence to show that this injury is mitigated in any way. The value of the property in the future for other purposes, must be, it seems to me, entirely speculative and dependent upon so many contingencies as to render it impossible to fix upon any particular feature and say within the lines of judicial certainty, and with such reasonable precision as should characterize a judicial determination, that the plaintiff's property would be relieved in any manner of the undesirable and damaging results in the maintenance of this structure, and one whose property is taken in this manner ought not to be left to the hazard of having his situation mitigated by some future, and, at present, indefinable circumstances. There may be a decree for the plaintiff for an injunction unless defendant pays $37,250 upon the delivery of a release from the plaintiff, conveying the right to occupy the street as against plaintiff.

Relations of Aliens to Real Property.

Mr. Edgar Logan, writing in "The Law Journal," complains of the change effected in what were known as the alien laws by the recently enacted General Law of Real Property. He says:

Since the act of 1845 (ch. 115) steady progress had been made in abolishing inhibitions of aliens in respect to real estate, until, when the act of 1893 (ch. 207) had been passed it was generally felt that the "alien" bugbear in titles at last had been pretty effectually disposed of.

Practically the whole series of important Alien laws, such as L. 1845, ch. 115; L. 1872, ch. 120; L. 1874, ch. 261; L. 1875, ch. 38; L. 1889, ch. 42; L. 1893, ch. 207; also the Confirmatory and Title quieting acts of 1857, ch. 576; 1868, ch. 513; 1872, ch. 141, 358; 1875, ch. 336; 1877, ch. 111—many of them having an effect prospective as well as retrospective—has been swept away, and the law, as to aliens who do not file depositions narrowed down to two small sections (6 and 7); the former applying only to descendants of female citizens who may intermarry with aliens, the latter to persons whose title may have been tainted in some one of its devolutions by an alien holder (neither strictly within the classification); and to one section in the chapter on Descents (sec. 294), applying to this class, it is true, but restricted to inheritance.

The above cited act of 1893, which applied to alien devisees as well as alien heirs, is abolished and its place taken only by section 294 of the new law, confined to citizen heirs of alien ancestors.

Again, section 7 of the new law is confined to "persons entitled to hold the same" who derive title, as in Laws of 1872, ch. 141, which narrowed right had been enlarged by Laws 1872, ch. 358, to purchasers, covering acquisitions by both devise and grant.

It is possible that from these few barren sections of the new law the Courts may reconstruct, and again effectuate the purpose of the Legislatures in the past, to give the alien resident a status consistent with latter-day enlightenment; but it remains a fact that a sad blow has been dealt to the structure of past legislative enactment.

The Division Street Park.

The Board of Street Opening and Improvement has directed the Corporation Counsel to proceed to acquire the three blocks, making an irregular plot, bounded by Hester, Suffolk, Division, Jefferson, East Broadway, Rutgers and Essex streets, for the purposes of a park. No change is to be made in the streets in laying out the park. It was suggested that Norfolk street be closed and Jefferson extended from Division to Hester street, but on inquiry it was found that Norfolk street at this point is part of the old De Lancy farm, and the land on which it exists was ceded to the city for the purposes of a street only. Its conversion to other uses would raise a question of the rights of adjoining property-owners to damages, consequently involving the city in additional expense, which it was thought inadvisable to incur.

Appropriation for the Building Department.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has provisionally allowed $268,500 to carry on the work of the Department of Buildings during next year. This is only $3,500 more that the appropriation for this year. Supt. Constable asked for $365,225.

Short Form of Deed and Mortgage.

In response to many requests, we give below the short forms of deed and mortgage, recommended by the codifiers of the General Law of Real Property, enacted at the last session of the Legislature and embodied in the law. The legal sanction given to the use of these forms does not prevent or invalidate the use of other forms:

MORTGAGE.

This indenture, made the ..... day of ....., in the year eighteen hundred and ....., between ..... of ..... party of the first part, and ..... of ....., party of the second part.

Whereas, the said ..... is justly indebted to the said party of the second part in the sum of ..... dollars, lawful money of the United States, secured to be paid by his certain bond or obligation, bearing even date herewith, conditioned for the payment of the said sum of ..... dollars, on the ..... day of ....., eighteen hundred and ....., and the interest thereon, to be computed from ..... at the rate of..... per centum per annum and to be paid .....

To have and to hold the above granted premises unto the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns forever.

Provided always, that if the said party of the first part, his heirs, executors or administrators, shall pay unto the said party of the second part, his executors, administrators or assigns, the said sum of money mentioned in the condition of the said bond or obligation, and the interest thereon, at the time and in the manner mentioned in the said condition, that then these presents, and the estate hereby granted, shall cease, determine and be void.

And the said party of the first part covenants with the party of the second part as follows:

1. That the party of the first part will pay the indebtedness as hereinbefore provided, and if default be made in the payment of any part thereof, the party of the second part shall have power to sell the premises therein described according to law.

2. That the party of the first part will keep the buildings on the said premises insured against loss by fire for the benefit of the mortgagee.

3. And it is hereby expressly agreed that the whole of said principal sum shall become due at the option of the said party of the second part after default in the payment of interest for ....days, or after default in the payment of any tax or assessment for ..... days, after notice and demand.

In witness whereof, the said party of the first part hath hereunto set his hand and seal, the day and year first above written.

Real Estate Market

Including the reported Huntington purchase at Pelham Park, our estimate of the week's investment at private sale is $1,000,000, a falling off of one-third from the estimates based on reports received of the business accomplished by brokers during each of the last three weeks. We include the sale of No. 300 Broadway for the reason that our information regarding it is from a trustworthy source. Lots have met with a fair demand and dwellings, it is evident, are still being sought to some extent. The brokers say that this is bargain season for West Side houses, and that many of them are being offered at prices hitherto unheard of. Buyers are backward, however, and inclined to wait until the election is over.

The adjournments to dates beyond next week embraced the following: No. 3097 3d avenue, corner of 158th street, by Richard V. Harnett & Co.; No. 483 Manhattan avenue, by William Kennelly; Nos. 535 to 547 West 45th street, and No. 414 East 57th street, by D. P. Ingraham & Co., all of which will again be listed on November 5, two days "after election."

Without exception a number of city parcels of ordinary value that were offered during the week at sales of a voluntary character failed to attract buyers. Brooklyn property fared better, Philip A. Smyth succeeding on Wednesday in disposing of 17 lots, 20x about 80 each, situated on 2d avenue, 7th avenue, 64th and 65th streets, for a total of $5,840, by direction of the executors of the Lawrence Kaine estate. Nos. 212 and 214 East 106th street, this city, offered for the same account were withdrawn on a bid of $6,725 each. On the same day Peter F. Meyer & Co. knocked down at $21,950, No. 55 East 8th street, to a bidder who withdrew the offer on discovering that the store in the building is leased to May 1, a fact overlooked by the owners, and, therefore, not announced by the auctioneer. The other withdrawals of the week were of No. 2293 7th avenue, at $14,000; No. 260 West 121st street, at the same figure, and No. 262, adjoining, at $14,200; also Nos. 47 and 49 Oak street, at $13,300.

L. J. Phillips & Co. will sell at auction, as announced last week, a large amount of valuable downtown business and uptown residence and unimproved property in the Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, on Wednesday next, the 21st inst. This property belongs to the estate of the late J. W. Dimick, and is mainly located on very well-known throughfares, including Broadway, West Broadway, Canal, Franklin, Hudson, Desbrosses and Crosby streets, 7th avenue and Boulevard. The number of parcels makes it impossible to describe each in detail in this column, but fuller information will be found in our advertising pages, and all particulars can be obtained at the office of the auctioneers, No. 149 Broadway. The importance of this sale can be gathered from what has already been said, and from the results of the sale of part of the Dimick estate last May, also under the direction of L. J. Phillips & Co., when a very large amount of property similar in character to that to be offered on Wednesday next, was disposed of.

Poor's Manual of Railroads.

The current number of "Poor's Manual of Railroads," contains two valuable features, namely, "The Detailed Historical Statement of the Baltimore & Ohio R. R.," pages 376-378, and the "Review of the Financial Operations of the Philadelphia & Reading R. R. Co., May 1877 to May 1896," beginning on page 799. As these are two of the most important companies now in the hands of receivers, information of value will be found in the two statements

Trade Notes.

J. L. Chapin, electrical contractor and manufacturer of gas and electric fixtures, has removed to No. 50 East 20th street, where he has fitted up an extensive showroom for the display of the latest designs in goods in his line. The large increase in his business during the past year necessitated this step, and the commodious quarters now occupied by him will greatly facilitate architects and contractors in making selections. Among the many patrons for whom Mr. Chapin has had contracts may be mentioned Brooks Brothers; Durand, Ruel & Sons; Teachers' College, Wm. C. Whitney, Mrs. Eugene Kelly, Windsor Hotel, New Amsterdam Hotel, Union Square Hotel, Archer Pancoast Co.; Oakley & Eneos Mfg. Co., Huyler's, C. A. Hutchings, B. Altman & Co., Commercial Advertiser, Otis Bros. & Co., John Forsythe, G. W. Bashford, Robert and Ogden Goelet; Cady, Berg & See; Sprague Electric Elevator Co., India Wharf Brewing Co., B. G. Latimer Sons Co., and the St. Androche Apartmen House (Maggie Mitchell Abbot, owner). Mr. Chapin intends to maintain the high standard of his work as in the past, and, having shops fitted with the best machinery, is enabled to turn out work with despatch. His telephone number is 507 18th street.

UP-TO-DATE FLATS ON UPPER EIGHTH AVENUE.

On the west side of 8th avenue, just north of 113th street, two flats are nearing completion that represent a departure from the stereotyped flat on the ordinary 25-foot lot. The houses in question are five stories high, of brick and stone, and, together, cover three lots, each flat having a frontage of 37 feet and 6 inches. This width permits of the introduction of a large central court about 10x52, and every room of the four suites per floor is well lighted. Three suites each contain five rooms and bath and the fourth four rooms and bath. Thomas K. Lemon, the well-known heating contractor, is owner and builder of these up-to-date flats, and he has provided every improvement for the comfort of tenants. The houses will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks.

A BUSY ARCHITECT.

Architect John Hauser, of No. 1441 3d avenue, numbers among his clients very many of the most active and successful builders, as this list of some of his late work shows. He prepared the plans for the following flats: Sixteen on Madison avenue, for Schreiner & Fennell; eight on Lexington avenue, and eighteen on Madison avenue, for Theo. A. Cordler; eight on Lexington avenue, for W. H. Hall; sixteen on 5th avenue and five on St. Ann's avenue, for Louis Wirth; nine on Madison avenue and 117th street, for Henry Rothschild; five on 119th street, east of Lenox avenue, for Isaac White, and sixteen on 92d and 93d streets, for John McLaughlin; a total of 105 flats. Mr. Hauser also prepared plans for private dwellings as follows: Fourteen on 119th street, east of Lenox avenue, for W. H. Picken; six on Convent avenue and 148th street, for Builder Cahill; nine on 113th street, near 7th avenue, for Wm. Picken, and four on 121st street, near Manhattan avenue. Mr. Hauser's telephone call is 340B 79th street.

WILLIAM STREET'S TALLEST OFFICE BUILDINGS.

One of the mammoth skyscrapers, illustrated on another page, is the Woodbridge Building, from plans by Architects Clinton & Russell, which covers the easterly block front on William street, between John and Platt, a plot about 120x100 feet. It will be twelve stories high; cost about $500,000, and will be ready for occupancy next May. Richard L. Walsh, who is doing the carpenter work, can be depended on for prompt and high-class work. He is very favorably known as an experienced and thoroughly reliable carpenter, builder and general contractor. A list of contracts satisfactorily executed by Mr. Walsh embrace many from the offices of New York's leading architects. Such up-to-date structures as the Sampson Building, Nos. 63 and 65 Wall; Stokes, Nos. 45-49 Cedar; Stevens, Nos. 3 and 5 Maiden lane; Sheldon, Nos. 68 and 70 Nassau, are fair specimens of his work. On Broadway Mr. Walsh built a store for Tailor Max Arnheim and three new stores for John Daniel & Sons, without interruption to their business, and seven others are planned by the firm to conform with the three referred to and complete their block. Mr. Walsh has also been selected to do the carpenter work in the seventeen-story office building at Nos. 67 and 69 William street, for the Queens Insurance Co. of America, from plans by George Edward Harding & Gooch. Estimated cost, $800,000. Mr. Walsh is prepared to estimate on large and small contracts. His office is in the Stokes Building, Nos. 45-49 Cedar street; telephone 3435 Cortlandt.

Nugent, the first vice-president, has for twelve years been prominently identified with the surety business and is thoroughly conversant with its most intricate details. Obituary.

Julius N. Kalley, whose name has for many years been familiar to the real estate public as that of a successful broker, died suddenly on Thursday morning, at his home, No. 97 South Oxford street, Brooklyn. His death was due to a complication of grip and kidney trouble, the first indication of which became manifest a week ago last Wednesday. Mr. Kalley was born in Hyanis, Cape Cod, Mass., about 50 years ago, and conducted offices in this city and Brooklyn, the management of which has been shared in recent years by his son and partner, Fred. D. Kalley. He was a man of commanding presence and genial address. The specialty of the firm for a long time past has been deals of magnitude usually involving trades of valuable property. Mr. Kalley was one of the organizers of the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange. He is survived by a widow, two daughters and his son and business associate.

Questions and Answers.

PAYING FOR PAVEMENT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Dear Sir: Would you be kind enough to advise me of the method of paying for pavement in New York and Brooklyn, also in Paris and London, if you know, and the kind and cost of pavement used, and the width of street paved in residence and business portions, and favor A SUBSCRIBER.

Answer.—New York: The cost of paving a street, in the first instance, is met by assessment on the adjoining property to the extent of one-half of each block, and when carried across the intersection, on the adjoining block. It is maintained thereafter at the expense of the city. The policy of the city now is to introduce asphalt, wherever possible, that being the cheapest, the cost having been got down to $2.67.1 per square yard with a fifteen-years' guarantee, and to $2.22.5 per square yard with a five-years' guarantee. Streets, whether residence or business, are paved for all their width. Width of cross-streets is, with some exceptions, 60 feet, and that of avenues ranges from 75 to 100 feet. Brooklyn: The cost of first paving always falls on property to the centre of each of the adjoining blocks, and when laid with what is called improved pavement, asphalt, brick or granite, it becomes a certain charge upon the city. If, however, the paving is cobble or other inferior paving, it is a charge upon the city, unless the inferior paving is replaced by an improved one, in which case one-half of the cost of the new work falls upon the adjoining property and one-half upon the city. Asphalt, granite, brick, cobble and trap are all used in Brooklyn. Streets are paved for full width, whenever paved, and whether business or residence. Roadways there are 42 feet wide in a street of 80 feet, 34 in one of 70, 30 in one of 60 and 24 in one of 50. In one instance a roadway is 75 feet wide. London: The principle of the authorities accepting only a finished street is, we think, in vogue here. As to other matters, on which information is requested, to which we have made no reply, we have no satisfactory data at hand to refer to at the moment.—Editor "Record and Guide."

LEASE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Kindly enlighten one of your subscribers on the following in your next issue: Three years ago I prepared a lease for one of my clients, on a prominent Broadway corner in Brooklyn. Lease was for five years; first three years at $3,000 per annum, and the remainder of the term at $4,000. Now, the lessee wants me to give him two years more from the expiration of the same, which will be in 1898. I claim all that is necessary is to prepare a new lease now, for the two additional years, or else prepare one for four years and insert "in consideration of new lease old one is null and void, etc." Is it necessary for me to see the old lease that is recorded, and put the liber and page down on new lease?

Answer.—Either course that you propose is regular and legal. It would be well, if you make a new lease for four years, to refer to the old lease by the liber and page in the Register's office, but not at all necessary.—Law Editor.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:
1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.
2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.
3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.
The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the Deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at the foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—There has been a further improvement in the market for Hudson River brick. Early in the week arrivals showed something of an increase, and owing to the unfavorable weather conditions, supplies accumulated somewhat, as buyers are not disposed to operate during bad weather. Subsequently, demand quickened somewhat, and the range of prices paid showed a slight advance over those in effect last week. Ordinary grades sold at $4.12½@4.25, the inside figure, however, was exceptional, as $4.25 was the principal trading price. For the better grades up to $4.75 was paid, and specials were unchanged at $5.00. The demand for pale brick has been light, but there has been no excess of supplies, the average run selling at $2, the range has been from $1.75@2.25, according to quality. The market for Jersey brick has been quiet. The offerings have been limited, as very few brick have been shipped to this market, and prices have been steady with the range of values quoted at from $3.75@4.25.

CEMENT.—The market has been without changes of moment. There has been a moderate amount of activity to the demand, and offerings have been fairly well taken up at steady prices, Rosendale selling at 75@80c. The domestic makes of Portland have had a fairly good call and foreign has also met with a moderate trade. Prices have ruled steady.

IRON AND STEEL.—Nothing of moment has transpired in the market for pig iron. There has been a moderate amount of business transacted, but there has been some irregularity to prices, as reports of shading quoted values by 25c. have been somewhat common on the less popular brands. At the close, there is renewed talk of outside speculative interest, showing something of some attention to the market, but the prices they have named are considerably below sellers' ideas. We quote at $11.75@12.50 per ton for No. 1 X foundry, $11.25@12.50 for No. 2 X do., $11.00 @11.25 for No. 2 plain, and $10.75@11.00 for Gray Forge. There has been a quiet and easy market for all material. Holders of supplies have shown something of a disposition to work off stock, and prices have declined. We quote at $12.50@13.50 for old iron rails; $10.00@11.00 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $11.00 for cast scrap; $10.50@11.50 for old car wheels, and $7.00@9.50 for borings, stove plate, etc. There have been no interesting developments in the market for manufactured iron. Only a very moderate amount of business has been transacted, but prices have been without changes and fairly steady. Steel rails have been quiet and without changes at $28 f. o. b. mills.

LATH. Arrivals since our last report have been the heaviest for some time past, amounting to fully 10,000,000, as the recent northeastern winds brought in almost the entire fleet. The supply now on the way to this market is reported as very light. Under the increased offerings, as a consequence of the enlarged supplies, the market has weakened slightly, there being no spirited call for supplies. Sales have ranged from $1.60 early in the week down to $1.50, and at the close the offerings hau been about absorbed, and the market was quoted steady at $1.50.

LIME.—There has been increased activity to the trading in the market for lime. As a result of Eastern manufacturers resuming their operations, arrivals have shown an increase and the demand has improved with the offerings, the supplies being well absorbed at steady values. Common has sold at 70c. and finishing do. at 80c. A small cargo of St. John lime has been on offer and the market has been quoted steady at 60@65c. Offerings of State lime have been very limited and quotations largely nominal.

LUMBER.—At the near approach of the national election, the market assumes a decidedly flat appearance. Dealers generally, although having decided confidence that the outcome will be favorable to the sound-money cause, show a disposition to hold back and enter into no new ventures until the result is known positively. The general tone of the market, however, has continued to improve steadily as shown by the fact that whereas a month or two ago holders of lumber showed a disposition to force business, they now are inclined to keep their stocks as they have the impression that a much better trade awaits the market after the Presidential election is held, is general and, furthermore, the spring trade is being looked forward to with considerable confidence, as it is expected that business by that time will have assumed a satisfactory shape and a considerably better range of values is also predicted.

The market for Eastern spruce has been without changes of an important nature. No increased movement of supplies has been reported to this market as the demand from England for deals and the call from South America for supplies absorbs the bulk of the offerings so that few random cargoes find their way to this market. Demand, however, has continued light nevertheless. Of the supplies offered sellers do not experience any difficulty in finding buyers and the prices paid show that the market during the past month has improved somewhat in tone. Only a few orders have been received for special cargoes, still buyers have found some difficulty in filling the wants at previous prices, mills having shown little inclination to accept orders at ruling figures. West Virginia Spruce has had only a very moderate call, the sales having been limited to a few car load lots, but as the offerings have been small prices have held steady. State spruce has received slightly more attention, a few inquiries having been reported, and although supplies are liberal there was no stock pressing on the market and prices were quoted as fairly steady.

The amount of business transacted in the market for hemlock has been very moderate, as buyers have been holding back, but offerings have been limited, mills generally being well sold up and prices have been well maintained. No improvement was reported to the demand for cypress; buyers have continued to move slowly and although there was a good supply of this lumber for sale on the market, there has been shown no disposition to force business, and prices have been about steady.

The market for box pine has shown some irregularity. Reports from some merchants have been to the effect that demand has shown considerable improvement, as the reports received from the West recently of an intended decrease in the production together with a disposition shown by some dealers to stock up previous to the closing of interior navigation, has produced an increased call for supplies, and sales have been reported for good straight inch-box at $11. Other operators, however, state that they have failed to find the trade improved, but they quote a somewhat better tone to the situation, and have refused to consider bids at below the above-mentioned price. Yellow and North Carolina pine have moved slowly, but there has been no pressure to move supplies and prices have shown some steadiness. There has been a moderate number of export inquiries, but they have not attracted sellers and nothing of moment has been transacted in this direction.

The market for hardwoods has had no changes of an important nature. The more popular woods have received some attention; a moderate number of orders have been placed for plain and quartered oak, and there has been something of a call for chestnut. Poplar has had some attention and birch and cherry have been taken in a small way. Ash and other styles have been dull.

The "Northwestern Lumberman" says:

"Northern Pine.—The sawing season in the lake region is to be greatly curtailed by the shutting down of many mills long before the usual time. Only a few are running in Saginaw Valley, and three or four at Minneapolis. Few of the leading mill points, but have silent mills. Those which are running are doing so under a force of circumstances which seems to make it necessary. At Marinette and Menominee, for instance, there are contracts to be filled which oblige certain mills to keep running to the ordinary close of the season. For that reason the boom works must continue to deliver logs to all the mills alike, and thus there can be no general shut down. Like conditions prevail at other points. But as a general thing the season's output is being greatly restricted by the cessation of sawing on the part of many mills.

"All along the lakes the mill operators are holding their lumber for higher prices. They refuse to sell unless they can realize more money for their product, and this is partly paralyzing movement on the lakes. Freight rates are advancing, which has a further tendency to stop shipments. The situation is so peculiar that it is doubtful if there shall be much more transference of stock by water until next season.

"At Albany the usual fall revival of down-river sales and shipments has put in an appearance, in which western and Canadian pine shares. Though trade at that point is fairly brisk, it has not risen to the height usual in October. The river movement at that point continues through November, so that there is yet time for a fair fall business. At Buffalo and Tonawanda a fair trade for this year is prevailing, though orders indicate a degree of caution and limitation on the part of purchasers.

"In Saginaw Valley trade continues dull. Sales of cargo lumber are infrequent, but there is some carload demand. There is piled on the docks of Saginaw River 600,000,000 feet of lumber, and the mills are mostly shut down. At Toledo trade seems to be waiting until after election.

"In this city, Dubuque and other markets where the wholesale trade much depends on the farmers' requirement there is a considerable sale and shipment of lumber for corn cribs, the demand having been stimulated by the immense crop that has this year been grown. The corn yield has now passed through the vicissitudes of the season and is a certainty. It will be an important factor in next year's lumber trade.

"The situation at Minneapolis, St. Paul, Winona, La Crosse and other northwestern points has much improved under the influence of restored confidence and restricted output consequent on early shutting down the mills. Operators are holding lumber for stronger prices, and a much improved tone pervades the market. Collections throughout the northwest are easier and larger than they were a few weeks ago. A large volume of wheat, corn and other grains is moving to market, which relieves the money situation to an encouraging degree. A feature of the western pine trade is the coming to view of several elevator and other special bills, which are furnishing outlets for considerable timber and other stock."

METALS.—Although exporters have been apparently very conservative buyers of ingot copper, and the demand from the home trade has been limited, the close shows some improvement, and the undertone of the market has been fairly firm as miners have shown no disposition to shade ruling values to move supplies. Shipments have continued heavy, averaging, we understand, about 2,500 tons a week. At this writing the market was quoted firm at 10¾@10⅞c. for Lake Superior; other descriptions were at 10¼@10⅝c. Only a limited amount of business has been transacted in manufactured copper, but values have been maintained. We quote: For sheets, 32x72 ins. and 36x96 ins., 16@25c. as to weight; 30x longer than 96 ins., 16@19c.; do. 36 x 72 ins., 16@26c.; 36x96 ins., 16@25c.; 36x120 ins., 16@26c.; 48x96 ins., 16@24c.; 48x120 ins., 16@22c.; 36x longer than 120 ins., 16@18c.; 48x — ins., 16@24c.; 48x longer than 120 ins., 16@22c.; 60x72 ins., 16@27c.; 60x96 ins., 16@25c.; 60x120 ins., 16@22c.; 60x longer than 120 ins., 16@24c.; 72x96 ins., 16@24c.; 72x144 ins., 16@26c.; 72x longer than 144 ins., 17@24c.; 108x120 ins., 17@25c.; 108x longer than 128 ins., 19@20c.; wider than 108x144 ins., 20@22c.; wider than 108 and longer than 144 ins., 21@24c. Bolt copper ⅜-in. diameter and over, 16c. Circles, segments and pattern sheets, 60 ins. diameter and less, 3c. above prices of sheets of same thickness; circles 60 to 90 do., 4c. do.; circles 96 do. and over, 5c. do. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. All polished copper 1c. per lb. advance over cold rolled copper, when 20 ins. wide and under, and 2c. advance when more than 20 ins. wide. Copper bottoms, 20@26c. per lb. A somewhat discouraging market has ruled for pig lead. The amount of business transacted has been limited, only small hand-to-mouth sales having been made, and as advices from the West have been flat, the tone of the market has been easy, although no decline of moment has occurred in values. At this writing the price for domestic was quoted at 2.75c. Only a limited amount of business has been transacted in the market for spelter, but prices have ruled steady, and at this wirting 3.70@3.75c. was quoted for domestic. There has continued a tame market for Straits tin, and the course of prices has been steadily downward. Demand has been slow and as supplies have been excessive with foreign advices giving no encouragement, prices have declined as above noted. The prices quoted at this writing are 12.65@12.70c. for fiveton lots in store and f. o. b. The call for tin plate has been on a very limited scale, and while there has been no important changes in the prices quoted, the tone of the market has been doubtful. We quote as follows: I. C. Charcoal, Melyn grade, $4.62½; Allaway grade, $3.90, Allaway grade, I.X., $4.70; charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $5.80@6.00; M. F. grade 20x28, $11.60@11.70; Worcester grade, 14x20, $4.10; Worcester, 20x28 $8.00@8.05; American coke tin, 14x20, $3.25@3.55 American charcoal terne, 14x20, $3.25@3.50, and 20x28, $6.50@7.00; I. C. coke, Bessemer steel, heavy, $3.50@3.85; Bessemer steel, light, 14x20, $3.30@3.35.

NAILS.—There has been a better tone to the market for cut and wire nails. It has been stated that the Association has induced jobbers to withdraw their irregular prices and maintain the Association's quotations. In the way of business there have been no new developments of importance. Merchants have continued to limit their purchases to hand-to-mouth orders, but with the cutting of prices by jobbers discontinued there has developed a generally better feeling. We quote at $2.30@2.40 per keg for car lots at mill, $2.55 per keg for small parcels from dock, and $2.57 from store. Wire, $2.70 for car lots from dock, and $2.80 from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Much the same conditions were apparent in the market for paints as have been noted for several weeks past. There was a fair amount of business transacted, in fact, in several lines trade was reported normal for the season of the year, and prices as a rule were steady. White lead in oil received a very fair amount of attention as the recent upward tendency to values for linseed oil has had a tendency to stimulate trade to an extent, and prices have shown some firmness of tone. Dry do. had a moderate call and brought steady values. Red lead sold moderately well and prices were steady. The call for American zincs continued on a fairly good scale and prices were well maintained. Foreign do. sold rather slowly, but values were unchanged. Litharge was in fair request and prices were without changes and steady. The Association figures on lead last announced are as follows, subject to change without notice: Pure white lead, dry or in oil, red lead and litharge in kegs, in lots of 500 lbs. and over, 5¼c.; red lead and litharge in barrels and half barrels, ¼c. per lb. less than the price in kegs; white lead (cases), 1c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead in 25-lb. tin pails (packed in 100-lb. or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs; white lead, assorted in 1-lb., 2-lb., 3-lb., and 5-lb. cans (packed in 100 or 200-lb. cases), 1½c. per lb. over price in kegs. Terms: On lots of 500 lbs. and over, 60 days, or 2 per cent. discount for cash, if paid within 15 days from date of invoice f. o. b. at New York. Special prices for dry white lead in barrels. VOL. LVIII. OCTOBER 24, 1896. No. 1,493

IT only needs that money should be easier to obtain with an assurance of reasonably low rates for the stock market to recover all the loss it has made this year and probably add something by way of profit in addition. There are no new reasons for this. The causes that have been operating for a couple of months to strengthen and raise prices, are still at work, only they are now having fuller play and the daily appreciation is noticeable. The demand for wheat and the improvement in other cereals cannot fail to have a most favorable influence, and it only needs that the sound money victory should be an overwhelming one to set things agoing in all directions. True the election of Mr. McKinley will leave our currency system still in a bad condition, but his election should be the first step toward its reform. In spite of this the sudden increase in the available wealth of the country, created by the rise in grain quotations, cannot fail to stimulate business, or to encourage the downhearted. If this is a correct anticipation of the future, we will also see that our railroads and their equipment are inadequate for this country in a state of commercial and industrial activity. "Poor's Manual of Railroads" shows that the railroad mileage of the country increased in 1895 only about 2,000 miles, as compared with 1894; locomotives by about 300, passenger cars by about 50, freight cars by about 2,000; while cars otherwise classified showed a decrease. We may be sure that the increase of mileage and additions to equipment have this year been very moderate, notwithstanding that the expenditures for improvements last summer were somewhat generous. This enforced economy has continued for several years now, and as soon as business is brisker the railroads will have all they can do and more in handling freight, and will be compelled themselves to increase the activity by giving out orders for supplies. These are some of the reasons why railroad stocks are in demand, and those stocks are to-day lower than they would be under a normal money market, and without the nervousness that political agitation has occasioned. It is hardly necessary to expatiate on their future, the inference is too obvious.

KAFFIRS and Westralians are feeling most severely the contraction of supplies in the London and Paris money markets. This is only natural seeing the exact lengths to which speculation went in these issues during the long period of low rates. The extent of the decline, however, is beginning to indicate that the end of liquidation is near, providing that no extraordinary events transpire to create panicky conditions. Mail advices show that thirty representative Rand issues had, a couple of weeks ago, depreciated over $200,000,000 or 34 per cent. in quoted values and twelve Westralian issues $20,000,000 or nearly 40 per cent. The cable informs us that prices of these securities have continued and still are on the downward course, while the demand on London and Paris for gold from this and other countries continues. Under these circumstances the weeding out of weak holders and the readjustment of values on the basis of merit must be speedily accomplished, to be followed by a change in the movement of quotations. Prices are already lower than they were in the break of a year ago, but then cheap money came to the rescue and arrested the decline. Other European securities are also having their bad hour, especially Spanish bonds, the latter notwithstanding that they have found a friend in M. Leroy Beaulieu, and the situation has become what we some time ago indicated it would be. Home issues are dull or weak, and Americans strong and active. Speculators on the other side of the Atlantic are quite alive to the benefits that will be felt by our railroads through the advance in the price of wheat and other cereals and willing to act upon their knowledge. When we give assurance to foreign investors that our currency troubles will not recur they will be prompt to act also. So far the fall in prices and the liquidation it has forced are not to be regretted, because the speculative atmosphere was becoming charged with very dangerous elements, which are now being let off with safety and producing a healthier state in which legitimate trade can breathe freely without fear of explosion whose effects will reach it. Whatever nervousness exists arises from political rather than from financial causes centering around the wily and wicked Sultan of Turkey, who, by the by, being so ready to seize upon excuses for his atrocity, will probably see in the rejection of Armenian emigrants by the Emigrant Commissioners an excuse for his treatment of their kindred at home. There is a feeling in the air that something besides mere verbal remonstrance will reach the Porte before the holidays. Lord Salisbury will have to meet Parliament in a couple of months from now; that he will go before it with only excuses for inaction, in the present condition of public feeling in Great Britain, is highly improbable. Much is hoped from the conferences supposed to have been had with the Czar and the representatives of France, but the questions that arouse disquiet are, supposing Great Britain, France and Russia agree upon a line of policy, will Austria and her allies intervene to prevent its execution, and if so, what?

WHEAT has been more than once our salvation in times of financial peril and business depression. To go only a few years back, a bountiful crop of that cereal helped this country out of the slough into which all were cast by the failure of Baring Bros. While this year our crop is not unprecedented, it is still large enough to enable this country to supply the deficiency in others, and gives to our people the advantage in price which a falling off in the world's crop has created. Other grains will appreciate in value in sympathy with wheat, and altogether add many millions of dollars to the resources of the country, and these so dispersed that almost every individual citizen must feel the benefit. Good prices for wheat mean enlarged spending power in the hands of the farmer, better business for the railroads and a consequent stimulus to trade in every direction. We leave to others the task of showing their political influences, and purposely refrain from echoing the barbaric impiety that it is a sign that God is with us. We hesitate to believe that a Divine Providence cut off the rainfall in India, Australia and Russia, made it excessive in Great Britain and sent a plague of locusts to the Argentines to influence the farmer vote in favor of sound finance. That is, however, a matter we need not go into, our province being only to consider the influence of the world's agricultural situation upon the pecuniary affairs of the United States. The fact that a large part of the wheat supply has been cut off by a variety of causes seems to have been accepted by buyers only when it was utterly impossible to escape it, and the result was a tremendous demand, which sent the prices up with remarkable rapidity. Naturally, there has been a reaction, but it is highly probable that the best prices have not been seen yet, though the sensational advances of the past two weeks are not likely to be repeated. The shrinkage of the world's crop of 1896, as compared with that of 1895, is estimated by the Austrian Government at 144,000,000 bushels, and by another good authority at 160,000,000. The estimated available stocks on hand at a recent date were very much less than at the same time last year. The requirements of the importing countries are estimated at 386,800,000 bushels, and the surplus of the exporting countries at 336,000,000, leaving a deficiency of 50,800,000 bushels. But this estimate leaves out the wants of India and Australia, hitherto surplus producing countries, and credits the United States, Canada and Russia with an ability to export more than is likely to be the case. The reports of threshing from Canada and Russia particularly are not as good as it was at first thought they would be, and this will increase the deficiency, though it is not possible at present to give even approximate figures. The Argentine harvest occurs in December and the Indian in March, so that it cannot yet be known what their contributions to the calculation will be, but the damage by locusts and other evils in one country and the drought in the other is already so great that the worst fears are entertained, and, in the case of India, wheat has been engaged from abroad to avert famine. While, therefore, estimates for the foreign demand for our wheat are somewhat conjectural, it is obvious that it must in any circumstances be sufficient to prevent the price from sinking back to the low figures of a month ago, and to probably, before the present movement has ended, send it higher than we have seen this week.

DELAY of municipal improvements is mainly caused by the difficulties experienced by the authorities in getting possession of the land required. The point at issue has, in all but a few cases, been the value of the property to be taken, there being always a wide divergence of opinion upon this point between the city and the property-owners. In the case of the Third Avenue bridge special legislation was obtained to give the city title before this question was finally decided, in order that the work, which had been begun, might not be indefinitely protracted. So troublesome are these delays that it has been seriously considered whether the city ought not to ask the Legislature to pass an act giving it title in all cases on the filing of the report of the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment with the Supreme Court, without prejudice to the rights of either of the parties to carry the matter further. In the case of Elm street another plan has been adopted looking to a more amicable arrangement, to avoid one long delay. This is stated in some detail in another column. Its chief feature is that instead of the value of each piece of property being separately proved before the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment by different experts called by each of the parties, proof is afforded by two experts appointed by the city and two by the property-owners as a body in the form of independent reports dealing at one time with each parcel. This does not interfere with the rights of either party to cross-examine the experts of the other, or with the right to appeal from the ultimate findings of the Commission, but it renders a great many sittings of the Commission unnecessary and, except in cases where the experts differ markedly as to the value of a particular piece of property, renders appeals less likely. Where the experts are men of unquestionable character and ability, as in this case, and where they are in substantial agreement as to value, the work of the Commission becomes easy and the likelihood of dissent from their findings improbable. The results of this first experiment are yet to be seen, but it is undoubtedly a very proper one and one whose success in practice is to be earnestly hoped for.

THE figures of building operations for the first nine months of this year show a large falling off in business compared with the previous year. The decline apparently justifies the growling about poor trade heard among building material men. Analysis, however, shows that the grumbling should not be general, because the decrease of operations is almost entirely confined to flat and tenement work, and this, we know, is not a class of operations which all builders engage in, or all dealers cater to. In office buildings, hotels, stores, churches—the first nine months of 1896 were much busier than the same period of 1895. In the former 241 buildings were projected, costing $30,223,005, and in the latter 196 buildings, to cost $22,219,100. Then again, in the class that includes shops, stables and similar buildings, there was nearly twice the money to be spent in 1896, that there was in 1895. On the other hand, although as many private dwellings were planned for in 1896, as in the year previous, the expenditure involved was more than $2,000,000 less than in 1895. It is in flats and tenements, however, that we find the bulk of the deficiency that tells against the current year. In the first nine months of 1895, 1,632 of this class of buildings were planned for to cost $35,807,740, but this year only 957, involving $20,075,250. Clearly it is among firms that rely on this element of the building market that should be the loudest in complaining of bad times. There is perhaps an offset, in their case—the figures for 1895 were not really as large as they are, for a number of plans were filed in anticipation of changes in the tenement-house law, plans that were not to be carried out at once, if at all. On the other hand, there are some qualifications to be given to the figures for office buildings—many buildings planned for have been held in abeyance pending the election, and the return of commercial confidence. Allowing, however, for all circumstances, the general trade dissatisfaction existing to-day is undoubtedly due as much to lack of profit as to lack of work. Prices are ruling low, competition is unusually keen, and to make matters worse, it is forcing firms into dealings that lie somewhat outside of the strict lines of business. We don't refer to heavy commissions of one sort or another, paid here and there, but to practices such as taking bonds of building corporations in whole or part payment for work done, Whether these and the many similar operations which the builder is forced into nowadays pay ultimately we cannot say. In some cases we are sure they are accepted as stop-gaps to keep a force employed or make connections which it is hoped will lead to more profitable transactions later. The result, however, for the time being is an absence of cash and attendant dissatisfaction.

ELSEWHERE will be found particulars of the arrangements that are being made by the Real Estate Sound Money Club for organizing a division representing New York City realty interests to take part in the Sound Money parade next Saturday. Ordinarily it is a question whether the marching of bodies of men in military order through the streets to impress by numbers is a perfectly legitimate contribution to a great controversy, or whether it does not savor of bull-dozing. It is quite usual, however, and participation is largely a matter of personal taste. But this occasion is not an ordinary one. The issue in this campaign being one that most seriously affects every business and every part of the country, and if an unmistakable demonstration of the favor with which this city regards sound money as vital to commercial existence will influence other places in the same direction, it is quite legitimate, nay a duty to make it. This being the cause it is urged that the real estate contingent should be a full and dignified representation of a vast interest, not only for the sake of the business itself, but for the contribution it will make to the success of the common cause. The organizers of the Real Estate Sound Money Club and of the plans for taking part in the parade can all be counted among the most respected and successful real estate men. They have already received prompt and large support, and will doubtless find their wishes as to extent and character of their contingent fully gratified. Those who take part will not only help to sustain the cause of honesty in public and private business, but they will have an opportunity at the same time to show their fellow-citizens the importance of their calling and the vast interests it involves, as well as to be participants in the greatest political demonstration of its kind that was ever made. These reasons should be amply sufficient to create a hearty response to the appeal of the managers, given in another column.

New Sky-Scrapers.

WE continue this week the publication of illustrations of the important buildings now in the course of construction in this city. To the Woodbridge Building, the Gillender Building and the Park Row Building, given in our last issue, we add

COMMERCIAL CABLE BUILDING,
Geo. E. Harding & Gooch, Architects. Broad Street, New York City.

the Commercial Cable Building, at present erecting on Broad street from designs by Geo. Edward Harding & Gooch; the Queen Insurance Co.'s Building, on the northwest corner of Cedar and William streets, by the same firm of architects, and the Bowling Green Building, on lower Broadway, designed by W. & G. Audsley.

None of these structures, save, perhaps, the last named, is yet far enough advanced to permit a critical estimate of the value of these latest additions to the architecture of the city. It would be obviously unfair to the architect to appraise his work from sketches, or even from the elaborate water-color drawings turned out by the professional hand trained in the art of prettily dressing up designs, although more often than not these pictures glorify the architect's work. It is extremely rare that the actual building "shows up" as well as the graphic representation of it. However, despite the silence the architect is entitled to until he is fully committed to the finished structure, our illustrations this week and last (in addition to what our readers know of other buildings lately begun or actually completed) clearly indicate that the sky-scraper on a narrow city lot is still an intractable artistic problem. Plainly, we are not nearer to a happy solution of it now that twenty and twenty-five stories are piled skyward than we were a few years ago when half that number of floors were the most that had to be dealt with. Indeed, the impression one gets from a building like, for instance, the St. Paul (on Broadway and Ann street), the Gillender (Wall and Nassau streets), the Commercial Cable (Broad street) and others of similar extreme altitude is that their architects were literally "floored." The struggle—and the evidence of the struggle is plain—to work the huge pile of storied window-sashes into an organic design has ended in the exhaustion of the architect. The result is patchwork, a series of fragments, a mere placing here and there of features and odd pieces of architecture—stray cornices and capitals, balconies, circular windows, bits of carving and so on. An architect is reported to have said of one of his designs that he had worked into it pretty nearly everything he knew of and then had to finish the pile twenty stories high with a dome.

Work of the character we are speaking of—and which of our recent high buildings is not of this kind?—may indeed possess some admirable qualities; ingenuity for instance or picturesque conspicuousness, but summoned up it is poor work, at best mere improvisation. Moreover the improvisation is falsetto in style without the value even of the "naked air of the savage school."

We live in the hope of all good men that the sky-scraper problem will be settled in apparently the only way it can be settled, by legislative prohibition. The tall building is not only an architectural nuisance; it is a civic nuisance detrimental to comfort and health. Every large, civilized community in the world limits the height of building, and even Chicago has placed a legal limitation upon the soaring ambition of real estate owners. The day, no doubt, is approaching when New York will fall into the enlightened line. In the meantime, may it be said, the city will suffer less defacement were architects persuaded that they would do vastly more, artistically speaking, did they do vastly less. One is almost tempted to say that sheer straightforward building would be a relief from the fretted Renaissance facades that are rising before us everywhere. Immense gratitude would be due to any magnanimous architect who would give us a plain brick wall. Twenty stories of it, truly, might be a severe test to put upon one's appreciation; but, then, twenty stories of anything known to us cannot be accepted with unadulterated thankfulness. We are not likely to get the simpler style because undoubtedly the highly decorated front "takes" with the crowd, and the architect—the great modiste—is convinced that the plain thing, the simple expression will not "do," among other reasons, perhaps, because it is so hard to do. It is impossible to preach effectively against such a combination—the crowd, the real estate owner and the architect. They believe in the variegated front, the multiplicity of detail, the decorated denial of structure, the colonnades three hundred feet in the air, the gilded dome and the rest. This is architecture! Why, the artists who manufacture the stuff from copy-books believe it is Art, and so for the time it naturally passes into the public category as such. The man in the street says, as the Scot said of the funeral feast, "Be it burial, be it bridal; it is grand."

This is our condition to-day. To-morrow the judgment of the judicious will agree with the poet:

These were parts of Dennis born to die.

New Plumbing Regulations.

THE Superintendent of Buildings has recently issued new Rules and Regulations for the plumbing, drainage, water supply and ventilation of buildings. Under a law passed by the last Legislature, Chapter 803, Laws of 1896, entitled an Act in relation to plumbing in the City of New York, the Superintendent of Buildings is authorized to adopt suitable rules and regulations in relation to plumbing and drainage, but before the same become operative they shall have been published in the City Record on eight successive Mondays. The new rules and regulations will go into effect on the fourth day of November. We publish in full elsewhere in this paper the new rules and regulations and have arranged therewith appropriate headings for the different subjects treated, together with an index for easy reference to any particular item. The changes made frost the old regulations by the new are many. Those of the mom importance we now briefly refer to as follows:

Heretofore plumbing permits have been limited to six months from issuance, unless the work was actually begun. The new regulations place no time limit upon a permit, and therefore a plumbing permit is like the ordinary building construction permit—without limit of time.

Repairs or alterations to plumbing and drainage may be made without filing drawings and descriptions, but such repairs shall not be construed to include the putting in new lines of soil, waste, vent or leader pipes. Notice of such repairs, however, must be given to the Department.

Plans for new work must now show the partitions and the method of ventilating water-closet apartments.

Wrought-iron and steel pipes must now be galvanized only, and the coating with tar or asphalt is no longer allowed.

The brass pipe must now be of a certain thickness, weight and diameter according to table given, and also the size and weights for brass ferrules and nipples are given.

The size of the house sewer and house drain up to leader connections must hereafter be proportionate to the area drained and the pitch per foot in accordance with a table given.

Where the house drain is above the cellar floor the use of pipe hooks for supporting the same is now prohibited, and supports must be provided at intervals of ten feet by eight inch brick piers or else the pipe must be suspended from the floor beams by hangers. Pipe lines must be supported at their base on brick piers or by heavy iron hangers from the floor beams above.

A main trap must have two cleanouts.

Some definite requirements are made regarding fresh air inlets; the inlet must open into the side of a box constructed of iron or of brick, and the size of pipe is fully stated.

Inside water leaders may now be made of wrought iron or steel, while heretofore cast-iron pipe was only allowed. All main soil, waste or vent pipe may now be either of iron, steel or brass.

The drainage system must be ventilated by special lines of vent pipes.

Earthenware traps of water-closets and slop sinks must have no vent horns; and the ventilating connection must be made from the branch soil just below the trap.

Branch waste pipes from refrigerators must have full size accessible traps.

The water-closets in tenement houses, lodging houses and factories must be set on marble, slate or tile, with backs and ends of similar material—presumably six inches in height, as the tenement house law establishes that height.

All water-closets must be open and free from all enclosing woodwork, and where the top will not support a rim seat the seat must be supported on galvanized iron legs. The drip trays must be enameled on both sides.

Partitions enclosing water-closet and urinal apartments must extend to the ceiling, or else be independently ceiled over.

Pipe washbowls hoppers are no longer permitted, except that long hoppers may be used where there is an exposure to frost.

Iron water-closet cisterns and automatic urinal cisterns (of iron ?) are prohibited.

Water-closet and urinal cisterns must be lined with copper.

Wooden and cement washtubs are prohibited.

The new regulations are severe in their requirements, but will accomplish beneficial results if strictly enforced.

To Connect the New York and Brooklyn City Halls.

There was no opposition at the public hearing given this week by the Brooklyn Aldermanic Railroad Committee on the application of the New York and Brooklyn Railroad Company, for a franchise for the Brooklyn end of their project to build an underground railroad and tunnel under the East River, to carry passengers between the City Halls of the two cities. The plan has already received the approval of the New York City authorities. The Brooklyn Common Council will probably consider the matter next Monday.

Plumbing Rules and Regulations With Index.

The following are the new departmental rules and regulations for plumbing, drainage, water supply and ventilation of buildings, elsewhere described with their innovations. We have arranged them in classes, with numbers, and prepared a full index by the numbers to facilitate reference by our readers to any particular rule relating to the special work in hand:

(1) APPLICATIONS

Drawings and triplicate descriptions on forms furnished by the Department of Buildings for all plumbing and drainage shall be filled in with ink and filed by the owner, architect or plumber in the said Department.

(2) GENERAL DIRECTIONS.

And the said plumbing and drainage shall not be commenced or proceeded with until said drawings and descriptions shall have been so filed and approved by the Superintendent of Buildings.

No modification of the approved drawings and descriptions will be permitted until either amended drawings and triplicate descriptions, or an amendment to the original drawings and descriptions, covering the proposed change or changes, are so filed and approved by the Superintendent of Buildings.

It shall not be lawful to do said plumbing and drainage except pursuant to said approved drawings and descriptions or approved amendments thereof.

(3) REPAIRS AND ALTERATIONS.

Repairs or alterations of plumbing and drainage may be made without the filing and approval of drawings and descriptions in the Department of Buildings. But said repairs or alterations shall not be construed to include cases where new vertical and horizontal lines of soil, waste, vent or leader pipes are proposed to be used.

Notice of said repairs or alterations shall be given to the said Department, before the same are commenced, in all cases except where leaks are stopped or obstructions are removed.

Said notice shall consist of a description in writing of the work to be done, of the location of the property where the same is executed, and of the names and addresses of the owner and of the plumber.

Said notice shall not, however, be required when repairs or alterations are ordered by the Board of Health for sanitary reasons.

Said repairs and alterations shall comply in all respects with the weight, quality, arrangement and venting of the rest of the work in the building.

(4) DRAWINGS.

The plans must be drawn to scale in ink on cloth, or they must be cloth prints of such scale drawings, and shall consist of such floor plans and sections as may be necessary to show clearly all plumbing work to be done, and must show partitions and the method of ventilating water-closet apartments.

(5) NOTICE TO DEPARTMENT.

Written notice must be given to the Department of Buildings by the plumber when any work is begun, and from time to time when any work is ready for inspection. No part of the work shall be covered until it has been examined, tested and approved by the Inspector.

(6) DEFINITION OF TERMS.

Definition of Terms—The term "private sewer" is applied to main sewers that are not constructed by and under the supervision of the Department of Public Works or the Department of Street Improvements of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards.

The term "house sewer" is applied to that part of the main drain or sewer extending from a point two feet outside of the outer face of the outer front vault or area wall to its connection with the public sewer, private sewer, or cesspool.

The term "house drain" is applied to that part of the main horizontal drain and its branches inside the walls of the building and extending to and connecting with the house sewer.

The term "soil pipe" is applied to any vertical line of pipe, extending through roof, receiving the discharge of one or more water-closets, with or without other fixtures.

The term "waste pipe" is applied to any pipe, extending through roof, receiving the discharge from any fixtures except water-closets.

The term "vent pipe" is applied to any special pipe provided to ventilate the system of piping and to prevent trap syphonage and back pressure.

GENERAL PLAN OF PLUMBING AND DRAINAGE APPROVED BY THE SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS. (15)

Each building must be separately and independently connected with the public or a private sewer.

The entire plumbing and drainage system of every building must be entirely separate and independent of that of any other building.

Every building must have its sewer connections directly in front of the building unless permission is otherwise granted by the Superintendent of Buildings.

Where there is no sewer in the street or avenue, and it is possible to construct a private sewer to connect with a sewer in an adjacent street or avenue, a private sewer must be constructed.

It must be laid outside the curb under the roadway of the street.

CESSPOOLS AND PRIVY VAULTS. (16)

Cesspools and privy vaults will be permitted only after it has been shown to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Buildings that their use is absolutely necessary.

When allowed they must be constructed strictly in accordance with the terms of the permit issued by the Superintendent of Buildings.

Cesspools will not be permitted under any circumstances for tenement and lodging houses. Cesspools will not be allowed outside the frame building district. As soon as it is possible to connect with a public sewer the owner must have the cesspool and privy vault emptied, cleaned and disinfected and filled with fresh earth and have a sewer connection made in the manner herein prescribed.

HOUSE SEWERS. (17)

Old house sewers can be used in connection with the new buildings or new plumbing, only when they are found on examination by the Plumbing

Inspector to conform in all respects to the requirements governing new sewers.

When a proper foundation consisting of a natural bed of earth, rock, etc., can be obtained, the house sewer can be of earthenware pipe.

Where the ground is made or filled in or where the pipes are less than three feet deep, or in any case where there is danger of settlement by frost or from any other cause, and when cesspools are used, the house sewer must be of extra heavy cast-iron pipe with lead-caulked joints.

The house sewer and house drain must be at least 4 inches in diameter where water-closets discharge into them.

Where rain water discharges into them, the house sewer and the house drain up to the leader connections must be in accordance with the following table:

Diameter.	Fall—¼-in. per foot.	Fall—½-in. per foot.
6 inches	5,000 sq. ft.	7,500 sq. ft. drainage area.
7 "	6,900 " "	10,300 " " " "
8 "	9,100 " "	13,600 " " " "
9 "	11,600 " "	17,400 " " " "

No steam exhaust, boiler blow-off or drip-pipe shall be connected with the house drain or sewer. Such pipes must first discharge into a proper condensing tank and from this a proper outlet to the house sewer outside the building must be provided. In low pressure steam systems the condensing tank may be omitted, but the waste connection must be otherwise as above required.

(18) HOUSE DRAINS.

The house drain and its branches must be of extra heavy cast-iron, when under ground, and of extra heavy cast iron or galvanized, tarred or asphalted wrought iron or steel when above ground.

The house drain must properly connect with the house sewer at a point two feet outside of the outer front vault or area wall of the building. An arched or other proper opening must be provided for the drain in the wall to prevent damage by settlement.

The house drain and sewer must be run as direct as possible, with a fall of at least one-quarter inch per foot, all changes in direction made with proper fittings, and all connections made with Y branches and one-eighth and one-sixteenth bends.

If possible the house drain must be above the cellar floor. The house drain must be supported at intervals of 10 feet by 8-inch brick piers or suspended from the floor beams or be otherwise properly supported by heavy iron pipe hangers at intervals of not more than 10 feet.

The use of pipe hooks for supporting drains is prohibited.

(19) HOUSE TRAP.

An iron running trap must be placed on the house drain near the wall of the house, and on the sewer side of all connections, except a drip-pipe where one is used. If placed outside the house or below the cellar floor it must be made accessible in a brick manhole, the walls of which must be 8 inches thick, with an iron or flagstone cover. When outside the house it must never be less than 3 feet below the surface of the ground. The house trap must have two cleanouts with brass screw cap ferrules caulked in.

(20) FRESH AIR INLET.

A fresh air inlet must be connected with the house drain just inside of the house trap. The fresh air inlet will be of extra heavy cast iron where under ground. Where possible it will extend to the outer air and finish with a return bend at least one foot above grade, and 15 feet away from any window or furnace cold air box. When this arrangement is not possible, the fresh air inlet must open into the side of a box not less than 18 inches square placed below the sidewalk, at the curb. The bottom of the box must be 18 inches below the under side of the fresh air inlet pipe. The box may be of cast iron or it may be constructed with 8-inch walls of brick or flagstone laid in hydraulic cement. The box must be covered by a flagstone fitted with removable metal grating, leaded into the stone, having openings equal in area to the area of the fresh air inlet and not less than one-half inch in their least dimensions. The fresh air inlet must be of the same size as the drain up to four (4) inches; for five (5) inch and six (6) inch drains it must be not less than four (4) inches in diameter; for seven (7) inch and eight (8) inch drains not less than six (6) inches in diameter, and for larger drains not less than eight (8) inches in diameter.

(21) DRAINS FOR YARDS.

All yards, courts and areas must be drained. Tenement houses and lodging houses must have their yards, areas and courts drained into the sewer. These drains when sewer connected must have connections not less than three inches in diameter. They should if possible be controlled by one trap—the leader trap if possible. Leader pipes must be sewer connected if possible.

(22) LEADERS.

All buildings shall be kept provided with proper metallic leaders for conducting water from the roofs in such manner as shall protect the walls and foundations of said buildings from injury. In no case shall the water from the said leaders be allowed to flow upon the sidewalk, but the same shall be conducted by pipe or pipes to the sewer. If there be no sewer in the street upon which such buildings front, then the water from said leader shall be conducted by proper pipe or pipes, below the surface of the sidewalk, to the street gutter.

Inside leaders must be made of cast iron, wrought iron or steel, with roof connections made gas and water-tight by means of a heavy lead or copper drawn tubing wiped or soldered to a brass ferrule or nipple caulked or screwed into the pipe.

Outside leaders may be of sheet metal, but they must connect with the house drain by means of a cast-iron pipe extending vertically five feet above the grade level.

Leaders must be trapped with cast-iron running traps, so placed as to prevent freezing. Rain-water leaders must not be used as soil, waste or vent pipes, nor shall any such pipe be used as a leader.

(23) CELLAR DRAINS.

Cellar drains will be permitted only where they can be connected to a trap with a permanent water seal.

Subsoil drains should discharge into a sump or receiving tank, the contents of which must be lifted and discharged into the drainage system above the cellar bottom by some approved method.

Where directly sewer connected they must be cut off from the rest of the plumbing system by a brass flap valve on the inlet to the catch basin and the trap on the drain from the catch basin must be water supplied as required for cellar drains.

(24) FOUNDATION WALLS.

Foundation walls must, where required, be rendered impervious to dampness by the use of coal tar, pitch or asphaltum.

HAND-HOLE CLEANOUTS. (25)

Full size Y and T branch fittings for hand-hole cleanouts must be provided where required on house drain and its branches.

RUNNING TRAPS. (26)

All iron traps for house drain, yard and other drains and leaders, must be running traps with hand-hole cleanouts of full size of the traps when same are less than five (5) inches. All traps under ground must be made accessible by brick manholes with proper covers.

SOIL AND WASTE PIPE LINES. (27)

All main soil, waste or vent pipes must be of iron, steel or brass. When they receive the discharge of fixtures on any floor above the first they must be extended in full calibre at least one foot above the roof coping, and well away from all shafts, windows, chimneys, or other ventilating openings. When less than four inches in diameter, they must be enlarged to four inches at a point not less than one foot below the roof surface by an increaser not less than nine (9) inches long.

No caps, cowls or bends shall be affixed to the top of such pipe.

In tenement houses and lodging houses wire baskets must be securely fastened into the opening of each pipe that is in an accessible position.

All pipes issuing from extensions or elsewhere, which would otherwise open within 30 feet of the window of any building, must be extended above the highest roof and well away from and above all windows.

The arrangement of pipe lines must be as straight and direct as possible. Offsets will be permitted only when unavoidable.

Necessary offsets above the highest fixture branch must not be made at an angle of less than 45 degrees to the horizontal.

All pipe lines must be supported at the base on brick piers or by heavy iron hangers from the cellar ceiling beams and along the line by heavy iron hangers at intervals of not more than 10 feet.

All pipes and traps should, where possible, be exposed to view. They should always be readily accessible for inspection and repairing.

No trap shall be placed at the foot of main soil and waste pipe lines.

The sizes of soil and waste pipes must be not less than those given in the following table:

Main soil pipe, 4 inches in diameter; main waste pipe, 2 inches in diameter; branch soil pipe, 4 inches in diameter; branch waste for laundry tubs, 2 inches in diameter; branch waste for kitchen sinks, 2 inches in diameter; soil pipe for water-closets on five or more floors, 5 inches in diameter; waste pipes for kitchen sinks on five or more floors, 3 inches in diameter; main soil pipe for three family tenement houses exceeding three stories, 4 inches in diameter.

In every building where there is a leader connected to the drain, if there are any plumbing fixtures, there must be at least one four (4) inch pipe extending above the roof for ventilation.

Soil and waste pipes must have proper Y branches for all fixture connections.

Branch soil and waste pipes must have a fall of at least one-quarter inch per foot. Short T Y branches will be permitted on vertical lines only: Long one-quarter bends and long T Y's are permitted. Short one-quarter bends and double hubs, short roof increasers and common offsets are prohibited.

VENT PIPE LINES. (28)

All traps must be protected from syphonage and back pressure, and the drainage system ventilated by special lines of vent pipes.

All vent pipe lines and main branches must be of iron, steel or brass. They must be increased in diameter and extended above the roof as required for waste pipes. They may be connected with the adjoining soil or waste line well above the highest fixture, but this will not be permitted when there are fixtures on more than six floors.

All offsts must be made at an angle of not less than 45 degrees to the horizontal, and all lines must be connected at the bottom with a soil or waste pipe or the drain in such a manner as to prevent the accumulation of rust scale.

Branch vent pipes should be kept above the top of all connecting fixtures, to prevent the use of vent pipes as soil or waste pipes. They will not be permitted lower than the outlet of the highest fixture in the group. Branch vent pipes should be connected as near to the crown of the trap as possible.

The sizes of vent pipes throughout must not be less than the following:

For main vents and long branches, 2 inches in diameter; for water-closets on three or more floors, 3 inches in diameter; for other fixtures on less than seven floors, 2 inches in diameter; three-inch vent pipe will be permitted for less than nine stories; for more than eight and less than sixteen stories, 4 inches in diameter; for more than fifteen and less than twenty-two stories, 5 inches in diameter; for more than twenty-one stories, 6 inches in diameter; branch vents for traps larger than 2 inches, 2 inches in diameter; branch vents for traps 2 inches or less, 1½ inches in diameter.

For fixtures other than water-closets and slop sinks and for more than eight (8) stories, vent pipes may be one (1) inch smaller than above stated.

No sheet metal, brick or other flue shall be used as a vent pipe.

TRAPS. (29)

Earthenware traps for water-closets and slop sinks must be ventilated from the branch soil or waste pipe just below the trap, and this branch vent pipe must be so connected as to prevent obstruction, and no waste pipe connected between it and the fixture. Earthnware traps must have no vent horns.

Every fixture must be separately trapped by a water-sealing trap placed as close to the fixture outlet as possible.

A set of wash trays may connect with a single trap, or into the trap of an adjoining sink, provided both sink and tub waste outlets are on the same side of the waste line, and the sink is nearest the line. When so connected the waste pipe from the wash trays must be branched in below the water seal.

The discharge from any fixture must not pass through more than one trap before reaching the house drain.

All traps must be well supported and set true with respect to their water levels.

All traps must have a water seal of at least one and one-half inches.

No masons, cesspool, bell, pot, bottle or D trap will be permitted, nor any form of trap that is not self-cleaning, nor that has interior chamber or mechanism, nor any trap, except earthenware ones, that depend upon interior partitions for a seal.

All fixtures, other than water-closets and urinals, must have strong metallic strainers or bars over the outlets to prevent obstruction of the waste pipe.

All exposed or accessible traps, except water-closet traps, must have brass trap screws for cleaning the trap, placed on the inlet side or below the water level.

Traps for water-closets must not be less than four inches in diameter; traps for slop sinks must not be less than two inches in diameter; traps for kitchen sinks must not be less than two inches in diameter; traps for wash trays must not be less than two inches in diameter; traps for urinals must not be less than two inches in diameter; traps for other fixtures must not be less than one and one-half inches in diameter.

Overflow pipes from fixtures must in all cases be connected on the inlet side of traps.

All earthenware traps must have heavy brass floor plates soldered to the lead bends and bolted to the trap flange, and the joint made gas tight with red or white lead. The use of rubber washers for floor connections is prohibited.

Earthenware water-closets must be set on marble or slate in all new work, and when it is not impossible to use it because of water-pipes or other obstructions in all alterations of old work.

(30) SAFE AND REFRIGERATOR WASTE PIPES.

Safe and refrigerator waste pipes must be of galvanized iron, and be not less than one (1) inch in diameter with lead branches of the same size with strainers over the inlets secured by a bar soldered to the lead branch.

Safe waste pipes must not connect directly with any part of the plumbing system.

Safe waste pipes must either discharge over an open, water supplied, publicly placed, ordinarily used sink, placed not more than three and one-half feet above the cellar floor, or they may discharge upon the cellar floor.

The safe waste pipe from a refrigerator cannot discharge upon the ground or floor. It must discharge over an ordinary portable pan, or over some properly trapped water-supplied sink, as above.

The branches on vertical lines must be made by Y fittings and be carried up to the safe with as much pitch as possible.

Lead safes must be graded and neatly turned over bevel strips at their edges.

Where there is an offset on a refrigerator waste pipe in the cellar, there must be cleanouts to control the horizontal part of the pipe.

In tenement houses and lodging houses the refrigerator waste pipes must extend above the roof and must not be larger than one and one-half inches, nor the branches smaller than one and one-quarter inches. These branches must have full size accessible traps.

Refrigerator waste pipes, except in tenement houses, and all safe waste pipes, must have brass flap valves at their lower ends.

(31) FIXTURES.

Fixtures—In tenement houses, lodging houses, factories and workshops the water-closets must be set on marble, slate, or tile, and the back and ends of the water-closet apartment must be made water-proof with some similar non-absorbent material.

(32) WATER CLOSETS

The closets must be set open and free from all inclosing woodwork.

Where water-closets will not support a rim seat, the seat must be supported on galvanized iron legs, and a drip tray must be used.

The general water-closet accommodations for a tenement or lodging house cannot be placed in the cellar, and no water-closet can be placed outside of the building.

In tenement houses and lodging houses there must be one water-closet on each floor, and when there is more than one family on a floor there will be one additional water-closet for every two additional families.

In lodging houses where there are more than 15 persons on any floor there must be an additional water-closet on that floor for every 15 additional persons or fraction thereof.

In all other sewer-connected occupied buildings there must be at least one water-closet, and there must be additional closets so that there will never be more than 15 persons per closet.

In tenement houses and lodging houses the water-closet and urinal apartments must have a window opening to the outer air, or to a ventilating shaft, not less than 10 square feet in area.

In all buildings the outside partition of such apartment must extend to the ceilings or be independently ceiled over, and these partitions must be airtight, except at the bottom of the door, which must be cut away or provided with openings to promote ventilation. The outside partitions must include a window opening to outer air on the lot whereon the building is situated, or some other approved means of ventilation must be provided. When necessary to properly light such apartments the upper part of the partitions must be made of glass. The interior partitions of such apartments must be dwarf partitions.

Pan, valve, plunger and other water-closets having an unventilated space, or whose walls are not thoroughly washed at each discharge, will not be permitted.

All water-closets must have earthenware flushing rim bowls. "Pipe wash" bowls or hoppers will not be permitted.

Long hoppers will not be permitted except where there is an exposure to frost.

Where water-closet or other fixture traps are of iron they must be porcelain lined.

Drip trays must be enameled on both sides and secured in place.

Water-closets and urinals must never be connected directly with or flushed from the water supply pipes.

(33) CISTERNS FOR WATER CLOSETS AND URINALS.

Water-closets and urinals must be flushed from a separate cistern, the water from which is used for no other purpose.

The overflow of cisterns may discharge into the bowls of the closet, but in no case connect with any part of the drainage system.

Iron water-closet cisterns and automatic urinal cisterns are prohibited.

The copper lining of water-closet and urinal cisterns must be not lighter than ten (10) ounce copper.

Water-closet flush pipes must not be less than one and one-fourth inches and urinal flush pipes one (1) inch in diameter, and if of lead must not weigh less than two and one-half pounds and two pounds per lineal foot. Flush couplings must be of full size of the pipe.

Latrine's trough water-closets and similar appliances may be used only on written permit from the Superintendent of Buildings, and must be set and arranged as may be required by the terms of the permit.

(34) URINALS.

All urinals must be constructed of materials impervious to moisture that will not corrode under the action of urine. The floor and walls of the urinal apartments must be lined with similar non-absorbent and non-corrosive material.

The platforms or treads of urinal stalls must never be connected independently to the plumbing system, nor can they be connected to any safe waste pipe.

Iron troughs or urinals must be enameled or galvanized. In tenement houses and lodging houses sinks must be entirely open on iron legs or brackets without any inclosing woodwork. Wooden and cement washtubs are prohibited.

WATER SUPPLY FOR FIXTURES. TANKS. (35)

All water-closets and other plumbing fixtures must be provided with a sufficient supply of water for flushing, to keep them in a proper and cleanly condition.

When the water pressure is not sufficient to supply freely and continuously all fixtures, a house supply tank must be provided, of sufficient size to afford an ample supply of water to all fixtures at all times. Such tanks must be supplied from the pressure or by pumps, as may be necessary; when from the pressure ball-cocks must be provided.

If water pressure is not sufficient to fill house tank, power pumps must be provided for filling them in tenement houses, lodging houses, factories and workshops.

Tanks must be covered so as to exclude dust, and must be so located as to prevent water contamination by gases and odors from plumbing fixtures.

House supply tanks must be of wood or iron or of wood lined with tinned and planished copper.

House tanks must be supported on iron beams.

The overflow pipe should discharge upon the roof where possible, and in such cases should be brought down to within six (6) inches of the roof, or it must be trapped and discharged over an open and water-supplied sink not in the same room, not over 3½ feet above the floor. In no case shall the overflow be connected with any part of the plumbing system.

Emptying pipes for such tanks must be provided and be discharged in the manner required for overflow pipes, and may be branched into overflow pipes.

PROTECTING PIPES FROM FROST. (36)

No service pipes or supplying pipes should be run, and no tanks, flushing cisterns or water-supplied fixtures should be placed where they will be exposed to frost.

Where so placed they shall be properly packed and boxed in such a manner as to prevent freezing and to the satisfaction of the plumbing inspector.

PRESSURE TEST BY WATER OR AIR. (37)

The entire plumbing and drainage system within the building must be tested by the plumber, in the presence of a plumbing inspector, under a water or air test, as directed. All pipes must remain uncovered in every part until they have successfully passed the test. The plumber must securely close all openings as directed by the inspector of plumbing. The use of wooden plugs for this purpose is prohibited.

The water test will be applied by closing the lower end of the main house drain and filling the pipes to the highest opening above the roof with water. If the drain or any part of the system is to be tested separately, there must be a head of water at least six (6) feet above all parts of the work so tested, and special provision must be made for including all joints and connections in at least one test.

The air test will be applied with a force pump and mercury column under ten pounds pressure equal to 20 inches of mercury. The use of spring gauges is prohibited.

PEPPERMINT OR SMOKE TEST. (38)

After the completion of the work, when the water has been turned on and the traps filled, the plumber must make a peppermint or smoke test in the presence of a plumbing inspector and as directed by him.

The material and labor for the tests must be furnished by the plumber. Where the peppermint test is used two ounces of oil of peppermint must be provided for each line up to five stories and basement in height, and for each additional five stories or fraction thereof one additional ounce of peppermint must be provided for each line.

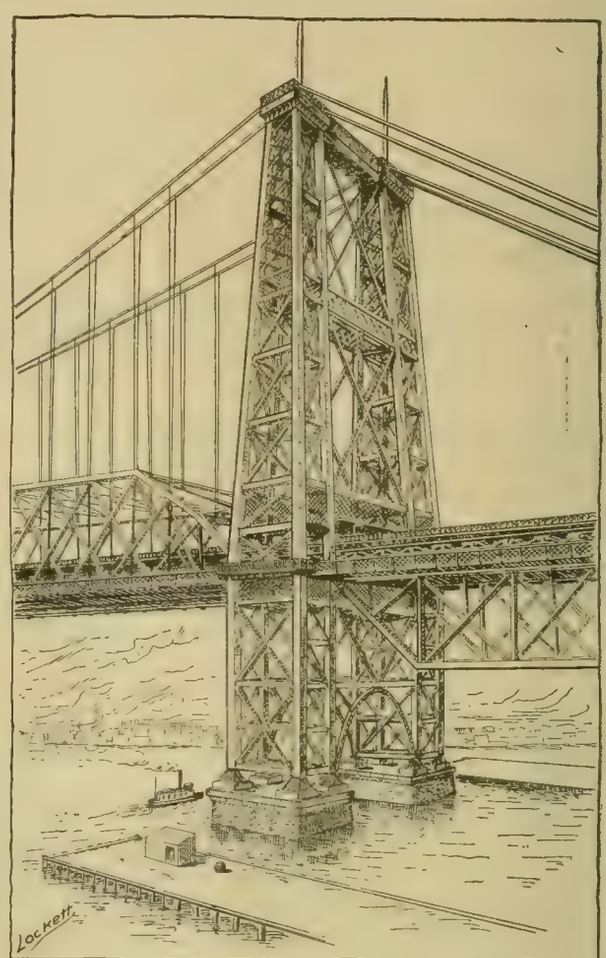
The Collapse on Madison Avenue.

The jury empanelled to inquire into the cause of the death of Robert J. Crane, victim of the recent Madison avenue disaster, rendered the following verdict:

"We find that the said Robert J. Crane came to his death on Sept. 26 at No. 1078 Madison avenue, caused by fracture of the skull at the time and place aforesaid by being crushed while employed on the building, a portion of which collapsed while in course of erection.

"The initial cause of the collapse was the buckling of the stone foundation wall between cellar floor and first tier of foundation wall and the first fier of beams, said wall being the south wall towards the rear. The failure of this wall was due to absolutely worthless mortar, improper stone and imperfect workmanship.

"We therefore hold as responsible: First, Fred H. Hawkins, who acted in the capacity of architect and agent, and who furnished the above material; second, Antonia D'Andrea, who erected said wall; third, the Department of Buildings of the City of New York for insufficient inspection.



"We further condemn the lumping system of doing work which prevailed at this building, as this method is almost prohibitive to the performance of good work. We deplore that a lack of finances ties the hands of the Department of Building, while the law calls upon it to perform inspections which under the present conditions are practically a physical impossibility to its available force."

Coroner Fitzpatrick conducted the inquiry, and the jury consisted of Thomas A. Darragh, John Du Fais, Oliver W. Cook, Henry E. Donnell, Charles A. Cowen, Charles E. Blackledge, Peter Schaeffler and Otto Eidlitz.

Municipal Improvements—The New East River Bridge.

The date of the founding of a city may be fixed with reasonable certainty, but the date of its building not at all. There are two processes going on, beginning almost from the day of foundation, that make this impossible, one is growth and the other local change in features. The rough tent within which the first hardy adventurer first finds protection from the elements, soon gives place to the log cabin, to which are added other log cabins, and as time goes on the log cabins of the centre are replaced by more enduring structures, even while the crudest architecture satisfies the natural movement of expansion. And so the process goes on, so that it can be said that the city of to to-day is not the city of yesterday, nor will the city of to-day be that of to-morrow. With the process of growth local changes become necessary and find expression in what are called improvements which, though not always such in particular senses, are in the general sense.

These improvements not only contribute to the comfort and convenience of the citizens, but they stimulate further the growth that has occasioned them and are besides important factors in the industrial activity of the city itself. Much of the aggregate business of New York City to-day comes from the work of municipal improvement that is going on and much more depends upon other that will be carried out in the near future, the volume of work depending upon whether the hopes of commercial prosperity now entertained are realized. The actual cash value of the work to which the city is now pledged is very large. Within the next eighteen months $10,000,000 will be spent in improving the docks, the work between Charles and Gansevoort streets will alone cost about $7,000,000. Possession of the property will be had by the Dock Department by November 9th, and work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The Grand Boulevard and Concourse in the 23d and 24th Wards will cost $15,000,000, and its completion depends upon the rate at which money is appropriated for it. The New East River Bridge has been practically begun. The Legislature authorized the expending of $9,000,000 on new schools. Rapid Transit affairs are in such a state of uncertainty that it is, perhaps, as well to leave the proposed municipal railroad out of the account, but there should be added many smaller undertakings, the Jerome Park reservoir and the small parks, for instance, which will swell the total to very large proportions. It is proposed to give in these columns, from time to time, accounts of all the important improvements the city has under way until the whole tale is told, and to incidentally include other work of a public character. A commencement is made with the New East River Bridge, which, in its bearing and influence upon the growth and value of the cities of New York and Brooklyn, is unquestionably the one that has most prominence, and the one that is likely to be first completed. Our illustrations show the exact location of the bridge, according to the plans now filed, the property to be taken for approaches and what the bridge will look like when completed.

The preliminary history of the bridge dates a long way back, and records an interesting and patient agitation brought to a successful end. The actual history may be briefly stated. Last year the Legislature passed a bill, which became of effect May 27, 1895, requiring the Mayors of the two cities to each appoint three persons, who, with themselves, should constitute a commission to build a bridge over the East River, generally, from Broadway, in Brooklyn, to Grand street, in New York, the cost to be divided equally between the two cities connected. Mayor Strong appointed, for New York, Salem H. Wales, Richard Deeves and Francis H. Thurber, and Mayor Schieren, for Brooklyn, Andrew D. Baird, James T. Sperry and Henry Batterman. The Commission organized with A. D. Baird as president, S. H. Wales, vice-president; Richard Deeves, treasurer, and F. B. Thurber, secretary. Leffert L. Buck was appointed chief engineer and proceeded to prepare the plans. At the outset the laying out of a suitable location, within the limits provided by the act, was obstructed by the owners of a charter for building a bridge, passed by the Legislature of 1894, who had located where they were calculated to be most in the way of the inevitable public enterprise. To avoid a waste of time and money this charter was bought for $200,000, and the way cleared for active operations. The bridge decided upon was one not exceeding 118 feet wide, with six tracks thereon, two for the elevated railroad service and four for the surface railroad service, with all the necessary approaches and switches and terminals—all tracks to be on the same level at the centre of said bridge, and a promenade for pedestrians to be built over said tracks. The approaches and tracks to be constructed so as to provide equally without discrimination for the railroad passenger service in both cities, and the chief engineer was instructed to forthwith prepare plans accordingly. The approaches are to run parallel to the south side of Delancey street, from Clinton street to the river, in this city, and in Brooklyn on a parallel line to South 6th street to Bedford avenue, where a turn will be made for half a block north, when its course will be continued to Driggs avenue. In New York an approach taking in two whole blocks, from Clinton to Norfolk street, and from Delancey to Broome street will be made. The Brooklyn approaches will cover about the same area, and will extend to Havemeyer street. The Brooklyn end of the plan, however, is tentative, for it is proposed to apply to the next Legislature for authority to construct the bridge on a line parallel to South 6th street. To do this it would be necessary to close portions of certain streets intersecting South 6th street along the route of the approach, and the Commission has no power to do this.

The position of the work to-day is that the general plans have been completed and the contract let for the foundations of the New York pier, at $383,150, to Patrick H. Flynn, of Brooklyn. The total estimated cost of the bridge complete, without land, is $7,510,000. The first bids asked for sustain the engineer's estimate He allowed $500,000 for this part of the work, and six out of eleven bids were within that amount. The engineer's estimate under the chief heads is: New York tower foundations, $500,000; Brooklyn tower foundations, $860,000; New York anchorage, $820,000; Brooklyn anchorage, $820,000; New York tower, steel, $186,000; New York tower, erection, $124,000; Brooklyn tower, steel, $186,000; Brooklyn tower, erection, $124,000; cable, strands, $450,000; cable, erection, $300,000; suspended superstructure, steel, $966,000; suspended superstructure, erection, $644,000; approaches, erection, $780,000; approaches, steel, $520,000; flooring, painting, etc., $230,000; total, $7,510,000. To complete and open the bridge by January 1, 1900, it will require that the two cities shall provide money as follows: In 1896, $1,360,000; 1897, $2,710,000; 1898, $2,566,000; 1899, $874,000. The Commission is not limited in the amount it shall spend, or times in which it shall be spent. On this point it takes the ground, according to Vice-President Wales, that it is required to build a bridge, and, as it goes on with construction, it will make requisitions upon the comptrollers of the two cities as the necessities of the case require. It must, of course, have some regard for the financial conditions prevailing, but it does not think it would be justified in stopping work for that reason. Work on the Brooklyn pier foundation is delayed for want of the site. It is located on the property of the American Sugar Refining Co., and no agreement has yet been possible on the terms of acquisition.

The following statistics regarding the new bridge, with similar figures for the present one, where it was possible to give them, will serve to show the principal dimensions, and to make an interesting comparison between the two bridges:

Real Estate and Sound Money.

The Real Estate Sound Money Club is arranging to take part in the great demonstration on behalf of honest business principles, which will take place of the 31st inst., by organizing a division to represent the real estate interests of this city, and the invitation to participate is meeting with the most enthusiastic response from brokers, agents and others. In fact, it is only a matter of presenting the project to enlist recruits. John F. Doyle, one of the oldest and most respected men in the business, has been made marshal. George De Forest Barton, Horace S. Ely and Wm. E. Callender, equally prominent and respected, assistant marshals. Wm. H. Folsom, also a man of high standing, holds the position of adjutant. The marshal's honorary staff consists of the vice-presidents of the club, all well-known real estate men. They are: Samuel F. Jayne, James L. Wells, Hermann H. Cammann, Richard Deeves, Richard V. Harnett, Philip A. Smyth, William F. Redmond, A. W. Cruikshank, Chas. S. Brown, J. Edgar Leaycraft, Allen L. Mordecai, Alfred E. Marling, Hall J. How, John N. Golding, Augustus H. Carpenter, Benjamin Richards, Clement March, Bryan L. Kennelly, Douglas Robinson, John D. Crimmins, Frederick Zittel, Geo. R. Read, Cornelius W. Luyster, Percy R. Pyne, Edwin A. Cruikshank, Jefferson M. Levy, W. K. Hammond, Irving Ruland, John Downey, Thos. F. Walker, Frank Yoran, Robert S. Sinclair, Wm. M. V. Hoffman, David F. Porter and S. DeWalltearss.

It need not be stated that this is not merely a party demonstration, but a declaration in favor of honest methods in business, public and private, and, for that reason, one in which any member of the real estate profession can take part no matter what his party convictions have hitherto been. At the same time it may be stated that this is the first time that the real estate profession as a body has been organized to take part in a public demonstration and the managers of the movement desire and are striving to procure the appearance on this occasion of a division that will uphold the dignity of the great interest they represent, the greatest interest in the city, and be in no wise inferior to any of the other great representations which will find place in the parade. It is expected that 1,500 real estate men will fall into line at the word of command, and, as between 800 and 900 are already enrolled and every man of importance in the business who has been requested to help has at once complied, there is rather likelihood that the number will exceed that now fixed as the probable maximum than that it will fall below it. The following circular has been issued for the purpose of enlisting support to the movement:

As no business will suffer more from panic or from a fluctuating or debased currency that the real estate business, and as real estate is acknowledged to be the safest of all permanent investments, it should be well represented in the business mens' parade which is to take place on 31st inst. We have already enrolled about 800 representative men, heads of firms of real estate brokers, agents and auctioners and their employees, and we desire to swell the number if possible to 1,500 in order that the real estate interests of the city may be properly represented, and that the Real Estate Sound Money Club may in its initial appearance before the public, present an appearance in keeping with its dignity and importance among business men.

Every real estate man in the city should enthusiastically join us and aid us in every way to make our contingent second to none in the parade. Heads of firms not already assigned as Marshalls, Aides or Captains, and desiring appointments as Captains, will please communicate with the undersigned. Every firm should organize at least one company of 16 men, if not more.

If you have not already communicated with the Secretary in regard to the parade, please send your name and number of men you will turn out, to

Yours respectfully,

GEO. DEFOREST BARTON, Assistant Marshal and Secretary, 59 Liberty street. JOHN F. DOYLE, Marshal.

Land for City Improvements.

Mr. Baldwin, of the Department of Street Openings, stated recently that the Commission would be soon ready to report their estimate of damages and benefits on the second section of the Grand Boulevard and Concourse, extending up to Burnside avenue. The report on the first section, ending at Walnut street, was presented last spring.

Mr. Dun, of the same Department, stated that proceedings in the matter of acquiring land for the Willis avenue bridge approaches, between Willis avenue and 132d street and 1st avenue and 125th street, was being pushed as rapidly as possible. The property-owners have presented their testimony as to title and value, and the city is now presenting testimony as to value north of the Harlem River, and next month will take up the property south of it.

Messrs. Morris Wilkins, Frederick Southack, Charles S. Brown and Michael Coleman, formerly President of the Commision of Taxes and Assessment, real estate experts, who were engaged, under an agreement between the property owners and the city, to make appraisements of the property required for the widening of Elm street, have presented their reports and the same will be tabulated, printed and laid before the Commission of Estimate and Apportionment shortly. Each of the four appraisements was independently made and an estimate of the gross valuations places them at from $3,750,000 to $4,000,000. It will be noted that these reports form a departure from the established proceedure in estimating improvement damages. The experts were appointed with the view of, if possible, of shortening the proceedings before the Commission. A stipulation was framed, under which the property-owners selected two experts and the city two, each of whom was to make a separate valuation and their reports were to be accepted as direct testimony as to value of the property proposed to be taken. The stipulation contained other articles (giving a right of review and cross-examination on motion, etc.), and fixed the compensation to be paid the experts at $5,000 each, one-half to be paid by the property-owners, the other by the city. The stipulation was not to become operative until it was signed by 100 owners. It was signed by over 130 of them, or about three-fourths of the whole number, representing 166 separate parcels of real estate. The property-owners will have the right to cross-question the experts before the Commissioners regarding the manner of their appraisement, and, if the Commissioners consent, to adduce other evidence of value.

DETERMINANTS OF VALUES IN REAL ESTATE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Your correspondent, P. W. B., asks an interesting question in the Oct. 10 issue of your valuable paper.

"What determines the value of real estate?" and as you ask for opinions I venture one.

I regard accessibility as the primary factor in all real estate value and attribute a large part of the increase that has taken place in many localities to increased transit facilities.

In support of this view I refer to the circumstance that values in the lower as well as the upper section of the city began to rise upon the opening of the elevated roads in 1878 and '79. While undoubtedly some of the increase that began then was attributable to the recovery from the effects of the panic of 1873, it is at least significant that the rise began and was coincident with the opening of a new system of communication between the upper and the lower portions of the city.

The same result followed the opening of the cable road on Broadway; what might be called the intermediate section between "uptown" and "downtown" felt the influence of improved transit on Broadway. The same has been true of suburban localities, the advent of the trolley has acted like magic wherever it has been introduced.

A secondary factor is the elevator. The modern rapid elevator has opened up new territory above the ground, and adds large value to the ground, by reason of its added income-producing capacity. This, in conjunction with steel frame construction, has no doubt brought about the phenomenal increase noted in certain favored localities where the demand for room is great.

Possibly these causes do not account for the apparent variations in value between plots in close proximity to each other. I should say these result largely from variations in shape and area of plot and surroundings as to permanent light. In a column article published in "The Record and Guide," in the fall of 1878, I made some predictions as to future twenty-five story buildings, and the causes that would make them necessary, which bear more particularly on this branch of the subject. If I were to prognosticate the future now, I should add that the demands of the future will necessitate even thirty-five story buildings, and that these will cover entire squares.

Specifications.

In these busy days of book-making it is really hard to say that there is any subject untouched. Frank Bower has, however, hit upon something, both new and valuable, in his book "Specifications," published by Edward A. MacLean. The purpose of the book is set forth in the preface, as follows:

"This work is the embodiment of a system of specification writing which I have used in my own practice for a number of years. It is not a treatise on specifications, nor instructions in writing them. What I have attempted is an arrangement of the matter commonly used in specification writing, in a form from which specifications for most buildings may be prepared with more than usual facility and with a reasonable degree of certainty that nothing has been omitted, and also the insertion in the shape of notes of information essential or valuable in specification writing.

"To facilitate the use of the book, the specification matter has been placed on the left-hand pages only, large type has been used, and such matter as would be changed to suit particular specifications has been printed in italics, or otherwise arranged, so as to readily attract the eye. In places where special makes, grades and numbers are commonly specified, it has seemed preferable to insert appropriate ones rather than to leave blank spaces always more or less confusing."

Mr. Bower has done his work well, and has provided the profession with a book which will save a great deal of time, and if it serves only for a basis of variation will aid in making specifications complete and accurate.

Street Openings.

The Board of Street Opening and Improvement, on the 16th inst., adopted resolutions as follows:

To Open:

Valentine avenue, from Burnside avenue to Kingsbridge road.

Creston avenue, fom Tremont avenue to Minerva pl.

182d street, from Arthur avenue to Boston road.

Daly avenue, from 176th street (Woodruff street) to 182d street (Kingsbridge road).

Grant avenue, from 161st street to 170th street.

Wendover avenue, from 3d avenue to western line of Crotona Park, and from Boston road to eastern line of Crotona Park.

To rescind resolutions to open:

Valentine avenue, from 187th street to 189th street.

Creston avenue, from Tremont avenue to 198th street (Travers street).

181st street.

The following is the record of the action of the Board in relation to this street:

"The President of the Board of Aldermen offered the following resolution: Resolved, That this Board does hereby reconsider the action taken on December 13, 1895, in the adoption of resolutions relating to the assessment for the opening of 181st street, from 11th avenue to the Boulevard. This was adopted. The President of the Board of Aldermen then offered the following resolution: Resolved, That the Board of Street Opening and Improvement, deeming it for the public interest so to do, hereby determines that 70 per cent of the cost and expense attending the opening of West 181st street, from 11th avenue to the Boulevard, in the 12th Ward of the City of New York, be assessed upon the property deemed to be benefited thereby and 30 per cent upon the city at large. This was adopted.

The Real Property Law.

Mr. Edgar Logan has written another letter to "The Law Journal," upon the Real Property Law, in which he says:

"Many contractions and consolidations occur, but the general condition of law, as previously existing, with respect to real estate, remains as before, at least upon the surface.

"A codification is always fruitful of litigation, and doubts and uncertainties arise as to the results produced by the most carefully worded enactments, as instanced by the queries concerning the intention of the Legislature in this law, with respect to recording conveyances with County Clerks, the continued necessity for sealing of conveyances, the restriction of the capacity of aliens to hold land, and the like. So it would, perhaps, be premature to say that little change in the law of real estate will result from this general re-enactment, clear as I believe the intent to have been to mainly confine the work done to a simple codification of already existing statute law."

How should the premises be described in a deed? What does "land" mean? What is the legal status of the buyer and the seller when the property sold is found to be deficient in quantity? These questions are all answered in "Guide to Buyers and Sellers of Real Estate," a new book just issued by the "Record and Guide," 14 and 16 Vesey street. Paper covers, 75 cents, and 7 cents extra for postage. Cloth covers, $1.00, and 9 cents extra for postage.

Two Large Building Operations.

We illustrate in this issue the Queen Insurance Co's. new building, on the northwest corner of Cedar and William streets; plans by Architects Geo. Ed. Harding & Gooch. The carpentry work in this building will be done by Richard L. Walsh, and the elevators will be furnished by the Sprague Electric Elevator Co. We also reproduce a perspective drawing of the Bowling Green Building; architects, W. & G. Audsley. The iron work for this operation was furnished by the Jackson Architectural Iron Works; the front brick by the Sayre & Fisher Co., and the roofing by the Warren Chemical & Mfg. Co. These are two of the largest building operations now being carried out in this city. The contracts upon them are all of great importance, and are practical testimonies to the ability of the contractors in their several lines.

Rear Tenements.

The Supreme Court-Appellate Division yesterday rendered an opinion upholding the Health Department in its crusade against unsanitary rear tenements.

The People's Traction Franchise.

The injunction obtained by the city to restrain the Comptroller from proceeding with the sale of the People's Traction franchise has been dissolved by the Supreme Court-Appellate Division.

The Real Estate Market

The nearer we approach the day on which will be made known the nation's choice of our next President the fewer appear to be the transactions in city real estate. Timidity born of a doubt that hardly seems reasonable in view of recent political developments is the stumbling block that would-be sellers encounter, and they will probably be unable to make much headway until the all-abscrbing question regarding the Presidency is answered by the voters of the country a week from Tuesday next. The total consideration called for by the sales reported for the week is about $700,000, with no developments worthy of comment.

The sale by L. J. Phillips & Co. on Wednesday of twenty-two large and small parcels, owned by the estate of the late J. W. Dimick, was the event of the week in the auction room. The sale took place in accordance with an agreement reached some time ago between the heirs and was supplementary to the one conducted by the same auctioneers in May of a number of valuable parcels owned by the same estate. Despite the fact that the public was well aware that the property would be protected in the individual interests of the wealthier heirs and that most of it would be purchased for them, there was a remarkably large attendance on Wednesday, and included in the throng were many well-recognized speculators. What was expected, happened, as everybody knew it would; sixteen of the parcels being secured for parties in interest for a total of $642,750, and six falling to outsiders, whose purchases aggregated $138,850. The highest price obtained was unquestionably that at which the extra sized lot at the Boulevard and 93d street was knocked down to a bidder who represented William Waldorf Astor. It sold for $42,250, a big sum, as Boulevard values go. Attorney James G. Gardiner was the mainstay of the sale, and acting for a client and heir, was not to be gainsaid by the numerous speculative bidders unless, perchance, one of the latter rated a property at a higher value than was warranted by his instructions, based on appraisements secured from competent sources. Then and only then had the ordinary bidder a chance to buy.

The other offerings of the week were all of a legal nature. Two were adjourned sine die, No. 103 West 76th street and Nos. 294 to 296 Grand street.

The sales postponed until next month embraced the following parcels: The westerly block front, 201.4x140, on 1st avenue, between 95th and 96th streets, by Bryan L. Kennelly, to November 6; No. 315 East 53d street, by Peter F. Meyer & Co., to November 10; No. 373 Willis avenue, by C. A. Berrian, to November 11; No. 120 West 50th street, by Bleecker & Son, to November 12, and a plot on Macamb's Dam road, north of St. James or 190th street, by D. P. Ingraham & Co., to November 18.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell at auction on Thursday next, the 29th inst., in the Real Estate Exchange Auction Room, No. 59 Liberty street, the four-story and basement brick apartment house, No. 460 East 115th street. Maps and particulars can be had of the auctioneers, at Nos. 71 and 73 Liberty street.

Questions and Answers.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

C, a broker doing a general real estate business is interested in an estate to which his mother is the principal heir, according to the will. Said estate is desirous of selling a certain piece of property. Broker C advertises the same for sale and calls on T, another real estate broker and informs him of the fact, and gives him full particulars of the property, also name of the executor and his address, so that T may deal direct. Understood between C and T that commission is to be divided if T effects a sale of the property. C informs the executor of the above facts in regards commission, etc. T works on the matter and shortly after calls on the executor; meets C there by accident who introduces T to said executor; matters are talked over but nothing done. A day or so later T again calls on the executor with his buyer who makes offer which is not accepted (C is not present at this meeting), commission is spoken of and T states he wants full commission if he effects a sale, claiming he can't recognize C as being a broker and entitled to half commission, using the argument that he learns C is a beneficiary and interested in the sale of said property. C is a beneficiary in said estate only by a bequest of $1,000. If T makes a sale is he lawfully entitled to all the commission?

Answer.—If T makes a sale he will be entitled to the full commission from the executor if it is the executor who authorizes the sale, and having received it must divide with C. The fact that C's mother is a beneficiary under the will and that C is a legatee of the sum of $1,000 has nothing to do with it.—Law Editor.

TAXES

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

1.—What is the law in regard to lots in Westchester county being sold for taxes? 2.—How long does the owner have to redeem them in? 3.—What right does the party have who buys them in for taxes? 4.—Does the party who buys them in own them, if not redeemed at a certain time? By answering the above questions you will greatly oblige.

Answer.—1.—To give the whole of the law would require several columns of "The Record and Guide," but the information you desire we will endeavor to give. The law is Chapter 908 of the Laws of 1896. Real property is divided into two classes for the purpose of taxation—resident and non-resident. It is "resident" when owned or occupied by a resident of the tax district in which it is situated; "non-resident" if the owner and occupant are non-residents of the tax district in which it is situated.

or if it is unoccupied. Resident real property is sold for taxes by the Comptroller at Albany; non-resident real property is sold for taxes by the treasurer of the county in which it is situated. 2.—One year after the last day of the sale by either Comptroller or County Treasurer. 3.—If not redeemed within the year he may get a deed from the Comptroller or County Treasurer giving him an absolute estate in fee. 4.—Yes, after he obtains the deed mentioned above.—Law Editor.

LANDLORD AND TENANT.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE :

Simple as the following questions bearing upon the relations of landlord and tenant in the State of New York, County of Kings, may appear to you, the writer, confessing his absolute ignorance on the subject, would thank you to enlighten him on certain points, which may also be of some interest to your readers: It being granted that no lease exists between landlord and tenant, the latter paying an agreed amount for the rental of the apartment he occupies, same being due on the first of each month in advance. For a period of eight months the tenant has been paying promptly on the first of the month the agreed rental, and on the first of the ninth month the representative of the owner notifies him verbally that the owner, being desirous of having her own family occupy the apartment, would be pleased to have him surrender the premises on the 15th of that month, at the same time requesting him to pay one-half month's rent. This the tenant pays, receiving receipt therefor, the only difference between the previous receipts and this one being that the word "one" (month) is changed to "one-half" (month), the form being the usual form as follows: .....189..... Received from .....Dollars for rent of ..... No. ..... for month ending..... $..... Having gone to certain expense in fitting the apartment so as to conform with the size of each room, and through being obliged to remove from the premises, the tenant, having sustained a financial loss, not mentioning the care and trouble resulting from moving, is loth to leave the premises and acquiesce to the landlord's request. What are his rights on the premises. Has he any? Is a verbal notice to end the tenancy sufficient legally? Can he remain so long as he pays the agreed rental, or can the landlord raise the rent ad libitum? By giving your opinion on the foregoing you will confer a great favor.

Answer.—Under the circumstances as set forth the tenant must remove when the half month has expired. By acceding to the landlord's request and paying the half month's rent a new agrement was made whereby the tenant hired the premises for the half month only, and his term having expired he is entitled to no notice, and if he does not vacate the premises he can be dispossessed as soon as the landlord can go before a magistrate. A verbal notice is sufficient to terminate a tenancy. A tenant once in possession may not remain as long as he desires, only paying the rent at first agreed upon. When his term expires the landlord, if he desires the premises for any reason, may cause the tenant to be dispossessed if he does not voluntarily vacate. The landlord may at any time raise the rent, but not during the running of a fixed term for which the tenant has hired, that is, during the term the tenant cannot be compelled to pay any higher rent than he has agreed upon.—Law Editor.

VILLAGE SEWERS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you kindly answer the following: New sewers have just been completed in the New Jersey village of Cranford. The village has taken over private sewers and is about to incorporate them as part of the general system. The authorities have ordered old inlets for surface water from the streets to be closed up and the result of this order will be that rain will accumulate in pools which cannot be got rid of without changing the street grade. The authorities say they have no money for this improvement, and, of course, if the sewers be closed the property owners are helpless. Question 1.—Can the village be restrained by injunction from closing the sewers until it provides other outlets for accumulation of rain water on street surface? Question 2.—If this is not the remedy, what is?

Answer.—1.—Yes. 2.—The injured parties may sue for damages after the damage is done.—Law Editor.

LIABILITY FOR COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Am I liable for broker's commission upon the following facts? I enter into a written contract for the sale of a piece of property in Brooklyn. There is no dispute that the broker procured the customer. The said customer pays a deposit, enters into the contract, and on the day that the title is to pass claims to be unable to take title because of being disappointed in getting her money necessary to purchase. I am prepared to give title, no objection is made to title, the buyer's only reason being inability to raise money. No bargain was made with the broker, it being expected that he would receive his commissions as soon as title passed. The broker did not ask for his commissions, expecting that the same would be paid to him when the title passed. Under the circumstances that I was ready and willing to give title, no question of title being made, and the purchaser's inability to take, am I liable for broker's commissions? In order to recover must not the broker show that his party was able, ready and willing to buy?

Answer.—You are not liable for the broker's commission. You have correctly stated the prerequisites to a valid claim of a broker for commission.—Law Editor.

RESTRICTIONS.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I bought five lots in a suburb intending to erect model dwellings on same. My title contains following clause of restrictions: "Nor erect any house costing less than $2,000, and must stand back ten feet from line. Nor carry on nor permit any livery stable, cow stable, factory, brewery, dangerous, unwholesome or noisy trade or business whatever, nor for the sale of liquors, etc." A fire engine house has been erected on the next lot adjoining mine, thus rendering my lots unfit for the purpose intended when I purchased same. What redress have I? Can my lots now be used for business purposes? Does the erection of the fire engine house affect the restrictions in my title? The lots adjoining mine were sold originally under same restrictions.

Answer.—If the erection of the fire engine house should be construed by the courts to be a violation of the nuisance clause in the deed of the lot on which it stands you should recover damages for the violation of the covenant. Your lots can be used for business purposes if the business is one coming within the restrictions. The erection of the fire engine house does not have any effect on the restrictions in your deed.—Law Editor.

LAW BOOK.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Would you kindly recommend through the columns of your valuable paper a good, practical law book for a young man with short experience in the real estate business. By so doing you will confer a great favor.

Answer.—We do not know exactly what you want, but take your choice from these: "Gerard's Titles to Real Estate," Well's "Every Man His Own Lawyer," Parson's "Laws of Business for Business Men, and Forms," and Van Siclen's "Guide to Buyers and Sellers in Real Estate." The last may be obtained at the office of "The Record and Guide."—Law Editor.

LANDLORD AND TENANT

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Please answer the following question in your next issue: A leased a house and stable to B, and agreed to do all the outside repairs. Both house and stable roofs are in bad condition. After notifying A several times can B get the roofs repaired and charge the same to A in his rent?

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

LAW OR ORDINANCE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Is there any statute in the State regulating the killing and burying of a dying horse on a man's place? Is there any law to prevent a man from putting his own horse out of misery and burying him on his own place, in a county town of this State?

Answer.—There is no general statute on the subject. There are city ordinances that would prevent such action within the bounds of an incorporated city, commonly called health ordinances; there are undoubtedly such health ordinances in the smaller municipalities of the State, which provide for the punishment of any man who does a thing which would endanger the health of his neighbors.—Law Editor.

CITIZENSHIP.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you favor me an answer to the following question, viz.: I was born in Canada, but my father is an American citizen. I came to this country when eighteen years of age. Can I vote at the coming election without taking out papers?

Answer.—Not unless you were residing within the United States at the time your father became an American citizen.—Law Editor.

MECHANIC'S LIEN.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A stair builder does work on contract for owner of a building, agreeing to furnish labor and material. After completing his job he receives all but $25 of money due him. A lien is filed against owner by a material man for $60 goods furnished to stair builder. Can owner be compelled to pay lien, i. e., more than $25—the money he still owes to stair builder?

Answer.—No.—Law Editor.

BROKER'S COMMISSION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

A and B enter into an agreement whereby A agrees to pay B a commission if B gets A a purchaser of a certain piece of property. B gets a purchaser who makes A an offer. A, after receiving offer enters into an agreement with B's client to sell him the property for a less sum than he first offered. B's client buys the property. Now A refuses to pay B's commission. Is B entitled to his commission?

Answer.—Yes.—Law Editor.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed can be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are in all cases taken from the Insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the Deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at the foot of this list.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for further particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

NEW YORK.

BRICKS.—A fairly good tone has dominated the market for Hudson River during the past week. The arrivals have shown a material increase as manufacturers have begun to show a disposition to market their supplies before the closing of navigation. With the increase in the arrivals, however, demand has increased so that there has been no accumulation of supplies in receivers' hands and prices have been maintained with a fair show of steadiness. The ordinary grades have sold at from $4.25 to $4.50, and for the better grades up to $4.75 has been paid, while for specials $5.00 has been the market price. The market for pale brick has been slow, and as the supply has been somewhat in excess of the demand, values have eased off a trifle, prices ranging from $1.50@$2.00, according to quality. No changes have occurred in the market for Jersey brick. The offerings have been very moderate, as the shipments to this market have been small; prices have been steady, with the range quoted at $3.75 to $4.25.

CEMENT.—No noteworthy changes have occurred in the general situation of the market. There has continued a moderate amount of activity to the call for supplies and prices have ruled steady. Portland cement has been in good demand for the domestic makes at full values; foreign do. have had a moderate call at steady values.

GLASS.—The market for window glass has been without new developments of an interesting nature. The amount of business transacted has been very moderate, but prices have shown no changes. Owing to the inability of the factories, members of the agencies, to satisfactorily settle the wage question with their employes they have not as yet started, but factories outside of the agencies having a capacity of 42 pots are in operation. The production of plate glass has been increased and as trade is fairly good prices have been maintained.

HARDWARE.—Latterly there has been something of a shrinkage in the volume of business transacted, as with the near approach of the national election the trade has generally shown a disposition to hold back until after the result is positively known, although it is generally expected that the sound-money candidates will be successful. Provided such to be the case a decided improvement in business is anticipated as supplies in jobbers' hands are small and with any kind of an increased trade they will find it necessary to restore depleted stocks. Manufacturers have been very conservative for some time past, being careful not to allow stock to accumulate in store; consequently they have only a moderate amount of goods awaiting sale and the general market appears to have a good future before it; prices have ruled steady.

LATH.—The market during the past week has been rather an uninteresting one. The arrivals have been small, consisting almost exclusively of parts of cargoes, and sellers endeavored early in the week to obtain an advance of 5c., but, owing to the slowness of the demand, the recent sales evidently supplying dealers' wants for the present, they were unsuccessful and the price has been unchanged at $1.50. There have been offerings of pine lath, but they have been taken slowly.

LIME.—The market was fairly firm for Eastern. Arrivals have been very moderate, while demand has been fairly good and offerings have been quickly absorbed at full values, common selling at 70c. and finishing do. at 80c. There has been very little State lime on offer, small sales have been made at 60c., but a fair amount of business has been transacted and the price has been firm at $1.00@1.05. St. John lime has been quiet and unchanged; no offerings.

LUMBER.—The changes in the general situation of the market during the past week have been few and unimportant. The amount of business transacted has been decidedly limited as the trade generally has continued to show a disposition to await until after the national election when the success of the sound money candidates will in all probabilities be an assured fact, before making new ventures of importance. The retail trade in particular has been flat, some yards having reported business at a standstill, but following after the election it is anticipated that there will be a general revival of building and an improved demand for lumber would of course naturally follow. The wholesale trade, however, has not been disposed to anticipate much of call for supplies at any time

WITH SUPPLEMENT.

IF all the business reported to be dependent upon Major McKinley's election matures, there ought to be something of a commercial boom before the appearance of our next issue. There are already preparations being made in many directions for new undertakings by people who are confident of the success of the Republican nominee, but these have not gone beyond the initial stage and could, of course, be abandoned without much loss, if the infliction of a President favoring the free coinage of silver, mob law and the disturbance of the judicial system is reserved for a long suffering community. But happily there is no real danger of that, our people cannot have failed to have learned wisdom by the chastening circumstances of the past three years, and next Tuesday may be looked forward to with confidence by the business man. The closing days of the campaign have exposed a good deal of nervousness, which has increased the hoarding of gold and run the rate for money up to very high points, but the ordinary results of these two things have been absent. Money loaning at from 10 to 100 per cent ought properly to be accompanied by a smashing break in the prices of securities, but instead of that we have a strong stock market under confident buying. Commission houses, as a rule, are not doing business except for cash, and the support comes therefore mainly from cash buyers. This is not an indication of impending trouble. Wall Street which discounts everything is certainly not discounting the defeat of the Sound Money candidate. It has been a matter of remark that it has failed to discount a sound money victory, but this has been due to the state of the money market, and that in turn due to the hoarding of cash in various forms by ignorant people who want to secure themselves individually in any event, not upon any definite apprehension of danger, because they are mostly incapable of forming an opinion. Banks have felt it necessary to keep themselves very strong in order to be ready for any demand from their depositors, and the men of power and influence in the financial world have been averse to seeing anything like a boom in stocks while the situation contained any dangerous elements. All these things have produced a scarcity of loanable funds, and consequently depressed stocks, though it is obvious that the market is impatient of the restraints that are put upon it.

FINANCIAL circles in Europe are still nervous over the Turkish situation, as they well may be on the reports that the Sultan is arming his Mahommedan subjects. What this portends in any event, and what in the event of forcible foreign intervention on behalf of the Armenians, it is easy to guess. If the Turk is to die, he will die hard, and not without damage to his executioners. The seriousness of the situation, to the Armenians in the first place, and to Europe in the second, is closing some of the mouths that were a little while ago vociferous for armed intervention. The matter is one that has to be dealt with with the utmost care and circumspection, as it amounts to this, that only a carefully prepared coup can save the Armenians from total extinction. Lord Roseberry's resignation of the leadership of the party in opposition in Great Britain is a practical expression of this view by one capable of judging, and who, by his resignation, shows that he is acting conscientiously. Moreover, another of the Bismarckian dicta, "The Balkans are not worth to Germany the bones of one Pomeranian grenadier," may be reversed. What encouragement the Sultan receives to-day from Europe comes from Protestant Germany, and the hysterical condition into which the German press has thrown itself on orders from the Berlin foreign office shows that the Kaiser and his ministers are alarmed at the prospect of united action on the part of Great Britain, Russia and France, and may go great lengths to oppose it, not because they are particularly interested in Turkey, but because such a union, if found to work satisfactorily in one case, would create a precedent that might be followed in others and prove awkward to the German peoples. Such a combination would be irresis ible, and may well be dreaded by a nation with a colonizing ambition almost newly born and yet to be fed. Besides these political considerations there are others that check business, the chief of which, and which, in fact, may be said to combine many, is that liquidation has not yet been completed. Where it was severest in the past two or three weeks there has been a rally, but the general tendency is toward lower prices. The alterated state of things is shown in a falling off in railroad earnings, a slight rise in the percentage of the unemployed, lower prices for staples and in the uncertainty of the money market. The position of the United States will be the determining factor in the money market. The question is to what extent a sound money victory will release funds now held back or hoarded to find occupation in New York, and revive the buying of foreign goods by merchants in the United States, and so encourage a return of gold to Europe, and how far the demand for American products, particularly those in the agricultural class, will counteract such a movement. The prevailing impression is that if Major McKinley is elected by a large majority it will be the signal for considerable buying of American securities, while in the grain market the best judgment is that the demands upon the United States for grain will increase as the winter draws on, and the results of the harvest in other parts of the world are better ascertained. On the whole, the indications point not only to the United States keeping the gold it has already imported, but to further importations.

Where Are We At?

AFTER all the electioneering, where are we at? Very little can be said or done now to affect the result, and as the entire country is "figuring" on the outcome it may be interesting to look over the field.

As a matter of calculation the count clearly goes to McKinley. By the professional politician's arithmetic and by the arithmetic of the gambler, Republican success on Tuesday is "dead sure," indeed nothing has ever been surer in politics. Most people admit that as soon as one begins to calculate, the election of McKinley becomes as certain as the sunrise. It is only the feelings that make anything of Bryan's chances—the doubts stirred by an undercurrent of fear that perhaps this wild demagogue has heated more prejudice and enlisted more ignorance than is apparent.

By calculation, however, Byran's chances are slim. Organization surely is a potent factor in elections, and unquestionaby a better discipline and a more united effort is behind McKinley than behind his competitor. It is doubtful whether any campaign has been so well conducted, so thoroughly and systematically pushed, so free from blunders as the Republican from the moment the St. Louis Convention adjourned. The military axiom is: Providence fights with the biggest battalions, and in politics, we may say, with the best organization.

Then, again, the influential part of the press of the whole country has fought for McKinley, so that the opposition to the 16 to 1 plan has been much more widely and more vigorously presented to the people than the other side. Moreover the wealth and the education of the land are arrayed against Bryan, and even in a popular scrimmage like our elections these count mightily.

Another thing that deserves to be put against the Popocrats is that this is a Republican year. No one will question the statement that but for the silver issue the Democrats would surely have been defeated on the old issues. Where has the 16 to 1 policy strengthened their position? Not in the South, for the old platform was good enough there, and the Popocrats cannot get more than the Democrats possessed in that quarter. Not in the East, for not a single Eastern State will vote for silver. In the West, only in the West has there been any indubitable gain.

What has Bryan to offset these and other Republican advantages? Nothing that one can see except a more active and more striking personality than McKinley's, and the fact that he preaches a gospel to the discontented at a time when many are discontented. But even here he has just missed the right moment. People feel that the tide has turned. Not only have we the vast crops, the gold imports and the advance in wheat as huge public advertisements of a change in our condition, but everywhere, throughout all lines of trade and industry, there are a number of indications that capital and enterprise are ready for another period of activity.

No doubt many people were won to silver by hard times and disappointment, as the diseased fly to nostrums. The turn in business during the last week or two has done good Republican electioneering among this class, and must be counted as another of McKinley's advantages. We know of many cases of the perverted converted by the more hopeful commercial outlook. They shrink now from endangering a good thing within reach, where a month or two ago they thought there was nothing risked by the wildest course. It is the old lesson of conservatism growing with possessions. The trouble has been to make people conservative, to get them to see that a change of monetary standard is revolutionary and that revolutions, no matter how necessary and justified, as a rule devour the generation that begets them. It is easy to preach 16 to 1, but it should be realized that the present campaign has brought our people to a crisis in their career such as few societies have faced during the present generation. Speaking conservatively the next ten years are staked on the issue, for the outcome will surely determine in a very great measure what the coming decade is to have for us. Putting aside altogether the merits or demerits of the silver programme, the election of Bryan would be essentially a revolution—new elements, new conditions would be thrust into our affairs which would necessitate a gigantic readjustment which could not possibly be effected in a short time or without trouble and disaster, no matter what the ultimate] outcome be. [The country would be cut adrift from its old moorings and every man's affairs would inevitably be in a speculative and disturbed state."

Moreover, unfortunately, the election of Bryan would not be in itself decisive. It would be a portentious signal for a tremendous conflict, radical, sectional and intensely heated. It is absurd to expect that the activities of the country could continue smoothly on their course. Those who regard the nominal triumph of Silver at the polls next Tuesday as definite, as meaning the immediate adoption of a new starting point at which everybody will peaceably take up their old affairs in the old way, overlook the fact that far from being the end it would be only the beginning of a long fight, and while the conflict continued business could not be carried on in the free, large way which produces prosperity. Thus Silver would destroy before it built up (admitting the claims of its partisans). Commercially we would be in a state of civil war. Enterprise would be hampered, credit would halt. Every reckoning would be uncertain, because the very figures used would lax fixity. Even believers in silver must see the troublous time ahead until the nation as a whole is won over to the 16 to 1 plan and the business of the country is adjusted to it.

A Test of Fire-Proof Floors.

The Department of Buildings conducted a second fire and water test of the Roebling system of fireproof floors on the 28th and 29th inst., at the southwest corner of 82d street and Western Boulevard. A steel skeleton brick structure was erected and a similar test of this construction was made on Sept. 3, 1896. A hot fire was maintained for about two hours, after which the flames were extinguished by the Fire Department. An examination the following day developed the fact that the floor was uninjured by the test. A protest was subsequently sent to the Department of Buildings, in which it was claimed that the fire had not been maintained a sufficient length of time to represent a thorough test. The Roebling Company agreed to submit a second test, which the Department of Buildings subjected to fire for a period of five hours.

For the second test a steel skeleton frame resting upon columns and enclosed in a 12-inch brick wall 12x16 was erected. The floor to be tested was erected inside of this structure at a height of 12 feet above the ground level, it consisted of iron beams framed into girders at the ends, the beams being spaced 4 feet apart and 16 feet between supports. Two of the arches were finished with a flat ceiling, while the arch on the south side was not protected by plaster, the surface of the concrete being exposed to the direct action of the flames. The floor arches were concreted on Sept. 26. The proportions of the concrete consisted of one part Aalborg Portland cement, two parts sand and five parts steam ashes. The thickness of the crown at the middle of the arch was 3 inches over the top of this floor, and, between the nailing of the sleepers, was filled in with concrete to a depth of 2 inches, consisting of one part Aalborg Portland cement, two parts sand and ten parts steam ashes. The plaster was furnished and applied to the ceiling by the U. S. Mortar Supply Co. on Sept. 30 and Oct. 30. A grating extending over the entire floor area of the interior of the structure was fixed at about three feet above the ground, and on it was placed a 2½-foot layer of dry hard cord wood. A secondary grate about two feet below the first was also supplied with fuel with the object of heating the air entering the building and thereby creating a higher final temperature.

The fires were started at 10:06 a. m., and the registration of the temperature by a Euhling & Steinhart pyrometer showed at 10:40 a. m., 1,100°; at 11:55, 2,025°; the maximum heat, 2,300° was attained at 12:43 p. m., and the registry from that time on until the fires were extinguished at 3:06 p. m., was all above 2,000°. It was found on opening the doors just before the hose was turned on that the false work supporting the plaster had fallen away and the entire interior had reached a bright red heat. The water was directed against the ceiling for about ten minutes and then thrown on the top floor, flooding it to a depth of six inches. The hose was then brought back and directed against the interior of the structure to cool it. In about half an hour when the steam had dissipated an examination of the interior showed that the concrete floor was apparently uninjured, the arches remaining whole and uniform, a very small quantity of the concrete having dropped from the underside. On the following day a load representing the ultimate strength of the floor, 600 pounds per square foot, was put upon it to ascertain whether, after the fire test, the floor was safe. The floors sustained this load. The official report of the Department may not be made public until all the tests it is making of the many fireproof systems and materials are completed, which will not be for some time to come.

Municipal Improvements--Third Avenue Bridge.

One of the important improvements now being carried out by the municipal authorities is the new bridge to replace the old iron structure at Third avenue. Public attention is likely to be directed to this work in the course of a few days or weeks, as a result of the movement that is now going on to obtain a change in the plans for making the outlet on the southerly end. The sketch that we publish herewith shows how communications are to be made with the two banks of the river, and if the plan is followed to completion the bridge will form one of the most remarkable pieces of public work in the world. We are fond of challenging the world to equal our deeds. Often we do it without meaning it, or confident that our challenge will never be taken up. But this time we have every confidence that nothing like it will be found on the face of the earth, and we can take our distinguished visitors to see it, sure that they will pronounce it an unique example of the humorous in engineering. It ought to be understood that the engineers are not responsible for this; they have evolved the best solution of the problem presented to them, and in justice to them, when the work is finished, if it is finished this way, a plate ought to be let into the high granite wall which will cut Third avenue off from the bridge,exonerating them from responsibility for the plan of the approaches; this they themselves ought to insist upon for their own reputations' sake.

The case is this: There was a bridge which connected Third avenue on the two sides of the Harlem River which had to be replaced. Naturally, it would be supposed the new bridge would retain the course of traffic on that avenue, as it is the most important business thoroughfare on the east side of the city. Third avenue is the historic road of the East Side; it was the way our forefathers took in their journeys to the New England provinces and States after they had become such; it was as important to the East Side as Broadway and the Bloomingdale road were to the West. Consequently, the business of that section was built up upon Third avenue, and everything else became tributary to it; the most important street car lines are there, as is also the elevated railroad that has the largest patronage in the city. Every reason of history, commerce or convenience pointed to keeping the course of traffic along Third avenue unbroken. But other reasons have had greater force, and instead of the bridge opening onto this great and important thoroughfare, the southern approach is to be split into two narrow, twisting roadways, each thirty feet wide, one resting on Lexington avenue and the other sprawling into 129th street, toward Second avenue, while Third avenue, the legitimate approach, is shut off by a high granite wall, insurmountable to vehicles, and up which foot passengers are to climb by a stair, or ladder, or something of that sort. It is stated that the reason for making this split-and-spread approach was that the high prices demanded for property on Third avenue made any other arrangement impossible, and that seems to be the view of the city authorities at the present moment, as will be seen from the remarks of General Collis given further on.

Naturally, the residents, business men and property owners of the East Side and of the 23d and 24th Wards look upon the building of this approach with dissatisfaction, and propose, if they can, to have a change made in the plans. Commissioner Haffen has had a plan prepared for a direct approach on Third avenue, in order to make which it would be necessary to take the property for 100 feet on the west side of Third avenue between 130th and 128th streets, that is for two blocks. On this an approach could be built without interfering with the structure of the Manhattan Elevated Railroad Co., and to give adequate accommodation to the surface car tracks, to the wheeled and to the foot traffic. The North Side Board of Trade is interesting itself in getting this plan adopted, and its Committee on Bridges has asked a hearing upon it by the Department of Public Works. Mr. W. R. Beal is the chairman of the committee. The objections to the split-and-spread approach are the forcible diversion of the traffic of the bridge from its proper channel, Third avenue, and the obstruction that will be offered thereby to the rapidly growing commerce of the 23d and 24th Wards, and, incidentally, the building up of Lexington and Second avenues at the expense of Third avenue. Tax Commissioner James L. Wells, Jordan L. Mott, Anthony McOwen, Albert E. Davis, Robert L. Wallace and other well-known Northsiders, are supporting the movement. What success it will have remains to be seen.

General Collis, Commissioner of Public Works, said to our representative: "We have the matter under consideration now. We have no money to make the alteration suggested, unless we can get it in some way from the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. We do not oppose it. We would be very glad to oblige the people in that vicinity, but do not see our way to doing much more than to widen the sidewalks of the approach so as to give better convenience to pedestrians."

Mr. T. C. Clarke, consulting engineer for this work, said it was purely a matter of money; there was no engineering difficulty whatever in making the desired change; a portion of the wall already built would have to be taken down, but that could easily be done. He had proposed at one time that the approach should be brought into Third avenue by a curve on the block on the east side, between 129th and 130th streets.

If it is fair to make the assumption upon the remarks of General Collis given above, which we do not claim that it altogether is, the Department of Public Works has not a full conception of the importance of the matter under discussion, and the deputation that waits upon him next week can do good service in supplying the information necessary to a full understanding of it. It is not merely a question of obliging the people in a particular district, or of whether one of two equally good ways of carrying the traffic of an obscure bridge shall be adopted. It is a question whether a bridge of the first importance shall be properly constructed, so as to fully and adequately do the work it is required to do. There is more traffic going under this bridge than goes under the Tower Bridge in London, and nearly as much over it. The traffic over and under is as great as that of the Clark Street steam plant will consist of two 10-in. by 7-in. double cylinder oscillating engines, each separately coupled to a differential gear machine in proportion of 19 to 1. The engines may be coupled so as to work together or separately. The draw weighs 1,700 tons, and is supported on 96 wheels of 2-in. tread and 2-ft. diameter. The whole span, 300 by 86, can be revolved through one-quarter of a circle in about a minute and a half. The bridge will be lighted with incandescent lights from a dynamo and engine on the draw-span. Two street car tracks will be carried between two inner trusses and two roadways between the inner and two outer trusses and the sidewalks on over-hung brackets. Our diagram shows the extent of the approaches, and it only remains to add that the North Side people want also an approach made on the Southern Boulevard, commencing at Lincoln avenue, but the important thing at the moment is to obtain the straightening of the southern approach, though, if alterations are in order, it would be as well to consider the Southern Boulevard suggestion also, because if the bridge could be reached directly from that thoroughfare it would be a distinct improvement and a convenience to the traffic thereon.

The work done includes the foundations, the building of the pivot and rest piers and the branch approach to Lexington avenue; the iron bridge structure is built and in place and men are now

MAP OF THE APPROACHES TO THE NEW THIRD AVENUE BRIDGE.

Bridge in Chicago, which connects both North and South towns, and has passing under it the commerce of both branches of the Chicago River. The vehicular traffic is greater than that over the Brooklyn Bridge. The possibilities for growth of traffic under the bridge by the construction of the Harlem Ship Canal, and over it by the building up of the 23d and 24th Wards, are not to be estimated.

Here are some facts and comparisons proving that the Third Avenue Bridge is one of the most important in the United States: In the 24 hours from July 9, 12 p. m., to July 10, 12 p. m., 4,996 vehicles passed over the temporary bridge doing service while the new one is being built; the number of draw openings was 60, occupying five hours altogether. At about the same date the average daily number of vehicles passing over the Tower Bridge was 6,030, and of the draw openings 19. On the Brooklyn Bridge the vehicles averaged about 4,000 per day. In 1893, the shipping cleared from the Port of New York for foreign ports amounted to about 7,000,000 tons; in the year ended June 30, 1893, the actual tonnage of the Harlem River and Spuyten Duyvil Creek was 5,910,376 tons. No doubt changes have been made in the volume of traffic over all the bridges mentioned, and in the shipping given, but the figures for a later date cannot be obtained in all cases, and as those given are the records at the time check was taken on the temporary Third Avenue Bridge, they serve the purpose of showing the importance of that bridge to the commerce of this city.

The bridge work has been described often before, and it is so far advanced now that it is unnecessary to give all the details. The main facts are: The bridge proper is a drawbridge 300 feet long and 86 feet wide, with two deck spans each 112 feet long by 86 feet wide. The foundations include a pivot-pier, which is an annular wall of masonry supported on an annular caisson of timber filled with concrete. The rest piers and approaches are of granite backed by brick. The operating machinery will be in an engine house above the roadway, 24 feet wide by 64 feet long. The at work on the engine house. The northerly approach has been begun and will be pushed rapidly to completion. The whole operation has been embarrassed and delayed by the fight that has been made over the land, and it was only by getting an act through the Legislature this year giving the city immediate title to the property required that the approaches can be built now.

The difficulty the city has experienced in obtaining the land for approaches may be used as an argument for not disturbing existing plans, but an answer to that is found in the act of the Legislature just referred to.

Concerning Real Estate Agents and Brokers.

F. H. Gunning is one of the active young brokers uptown on the East Side. His office, at No. 651 Madison avenue, corner of 60th street, is centrally and conveniently located and well equipped for the quick dispatch of business including the sale and rental of improved and unimproved property. Mr. Gunning is especially well posted on property between 5th and Lexington avenues, 42d and 96th streets, having been in business on Madison avenue for five years.

On Nov. 1, 1896, Mr. Alex. D. Duff and Walter D. Rusher form a copartnership to carry on the present real estate business of Duff & Conger, No. 442 Columbus avenue (Mr. Conger retiring from the West Side office) and Mr. Rusher adding his business now at the corner of Columbus avenue and 82d street, to the present one now controlled by Mr. Duff, and to further increase their opportunities to serve their customers. The new firm have opened a downtown office at No. 69 Liberty street, Room. 4.

Real Estate Sound Money Club in the Parade.

Arrangements were perfected last night for the participation of the Real Estate Sound Money Club in the great parade of to-day. Marshal John F. Doyle, Chief Aide John F. Doyle, Jr., and Assistant Marshal Geo. De Forest Barton have worked incessantly during the week arranging and completing details, and they have received valuable assistance from Adjutant Wm. H. Folsom and others. They have been overwhelmed with applications for admission to the division, and have had to reject about 600 good men, simply because they could not establish their connection with real estate, which was necessary, in view of the fact that the Club desires to turn out only a representative body of real estate men. This they will have no trouble in doing. There is every prospect that this division of the parade will compare favorably with any other in it, not numerically, of course, because they cannot muster the number of men the dry goods business will place in line, for instance, but in the character and appearance of its members. The Club will assemble on Liberty street, east of Broadway, at 1 p. m., and it is the particular request of the Marshal and his assistants that every one who proposes to take part, whether notified or not, will be on time, and when there will patiently await the time for joining the procession. It must be understood that between the time of assembling and of marching there is a good deal to do, badges to be delivered, color bearers to be selected, unavoidable vacancies in companies to be filled, etc. It will facilitate the doing of these things if the several members of the companies will fall in line when the drum and fife sound the assembly, and keep ranks until the division joins the parade. Captains should report at headquarters, No. 59 Liberty street, promptly at 1 o'clock. For the information of our readers who wish to take part in this demonstration we give below the assignments of aides, appointment of captains and their companies, instructions for captains, etc., which all participants will find useful:

Instructions for Captains.—The formation will be as follows:

The organization will be formed in Battalions of ten companies, in charge of an Aide, each Company in command of a Captain.

Each Company will be formed in single rank, sixteen files front, including two guides.

Companies must not exceed sixteen men.

Companies will march with an intervening space of four paces—about 10 feet.

Captains will march in front of the centre of their respective Companies at a distance of two paces—about 5 feet. Captains will select two guides, and will recruit their own Companies as far as possible. Companies lacking the necessary number of men will be filled up by the Aides on the day of the parade.

Captains will be furnished with a badge on the morning of the parade, showing their rank, and with sixteen badges, one for each of the members of their Companies, to be worn on centre of left breast, and they will deliver them to their men as soon as they report for duty.

Captains, on assembling the day of the parade, after reporting to the Adjutant, will take position in the street, with their Guides and recruits, in the numerical order of their Companies. This should be done promptly, so that the work of filling the vacancies in the Companies can be quickly accomplished.

The left guide in the first Company of each Battalion will carry a small blue guidon with number designating the number of the Battalion; guides will change to right when order is given. Captains of these Companies will be held responsible for these guidons, and will see that they are returned to Headquarters on Monday, November 2d.

The Fifth Company in each Battalion will be the Color Company, and will carry a regulation United States bunting flag in the centre of the Company. Captains of the Color Companies will be held responsible for these flags, and will see that they are returned to Headquarters on Monday, November 2d.

The flags will be delivered to the respective Captains at Headquarters on the morning of the parade.

The space at the place of assembly being limited, the Companies will be massed closely, and no distances will be taken until the organization swings into Broadway.

No smoking will be allowed during the march, and no advertisements, flags, emblems, nor badges, except those furnished by the Executive Committee of the Club, will be permitted in the ranks.

Captains should wear dark clothing, dark necktie and black hat—silk hat if convenient, tan-colored gloves, black shoes, and carry canes, and when opposite the reviewing officer on the Grand Stand, east side of Fifth Avenue, opposite the Worth Monument, at 25th Street, should salute with the cane. The men in the Companies should not salute; Captains will so instruct them.

Companies will be sized from right to left, the tallest men on the right.

The guide will be left, except when passing the reviewing stand. Captains will give the command "Guide right" when the Companies reach 23d Street, and the command "Guide left" when they reach 26th Street.

The line of march will be up Broadway to Waverly Place, through to Fifth Avenue, up the Avenue to 31st Street, through to Madison Avenue to 34th Street, through to Fifth Avenue and up the Avenue to 40th Street.

A division for architects has also been organized. It will include about 400 men. The line will form in Coenties slip, with head at Pearl and Broad streets, at 12 m., and the injunctions for prompt attendance and careful attention to requisite orders and arrangements should be also regarded in this case. The Ireland Building Disaster.

The first suit for damages for loss of life in the Ireland Building, on the northeast corner of West Broadway and 3d street, which collapsed over a year ago, resulted in a verdict against the owner of the building, John B. Ireland, for $10,000. Suit was brought by Bridget Burke against John B. Ireland and the contractors John H. Parker (masonry) and J. B. & J. M. Cornell (iron). The suit was tried in the Supreme Court, Kings County. The jury fixed the responsibility upon Ireland because they found that the work was under the personal supervision of his architect and clerk of the works.

Sir:—Since the collapse of the Ireland Building in this city in August, 1895, resulting in the death of sixteen persons, and the injury of others, many articles have from time to time appeared in the New York papers reflecting seriously upon our client, John H. Parker, the contractor for the mason work of said building. In view of the fact that Mr. Parker was under indictment for that collapse, perhaps some of those newspaper articles were justified and we refrain from any comment thereon, although it did not then publicly appear that some of the experts who testified before the Coroner's jury and necessarily influenced their verdict, were paid by other persons interested in the erection of said building. Owing to the feelings of horror naturally awakened in the public mind by the result of the terrible calamity, Mr. Parker deemed it inadvisable to enter into any public discussion, and consequently he occupied the position of a scapegoat, well knowing that the first judicial inquiry into all the facts would result in establishing his complete innocence.

The first of a series of cases, instituted by the representatives of the respective persons killed in that collapse to recover damages for injuries resulting in death, was tried in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, before Justice Goodrich and a jury. The plaintiff was represented by Mr. Patterson, the present candidate of the Sound Money Democrats of Kings County for the position of Supreme Court Judge. The trial was commenced Monday, Oct. 12, and continued uninterruptedly until Oct. 28. Every detail of the dreadful catastrophe was exhaustively gone into before an unusually intelligent jury with the result that on Oct. 28 a verdict of $10,000 was rendered against John B. Ireland, the owner of the building, and completely exonerated the defendant John H. Parker in every respect.

In justice to Mr. Parker we ask that you kindly publish this letter.

STEINHARDT & GOLDMAN,
Attorneys for John H. Parker.

New York, Oct. 30, 1896.

How should the premises be described in a deed? What does "land" mean? What is the legal status of the buyer and the seller when the property sold is found to be deficient in quantity? These questions are all answered in "Guide to Buyers and Sellers of Real Estate," a new book just issued by the "Record and Guide," 14 and 16 Vesey street. Paper covers, 75 cents, and 7 cents extra for postage. Cloth covers, $1.00, and 9 cents extra for postage.

Real Estate Market.

That a surprisingly good business has been transacted by the brokers, our reports of sales for the week, involving an aggregate investment of about $1,700,000, give ample evidence. Not only that, but we have learned of additional transactions that would largely increase the sum mentioned, were we able to give any definite news concerning them. The buying this week has been mostly confined to property of small or only moderate value, and it covered an unusually large number of residences, nearly all of which, it is assumed, will be occupied by the purchasers. The small investor was also very much in evidence in connection with property other than dwellings, and his investments can be safely looked upon as indicating a turning of the tide in real estate notwithstanding that the election has yet to take place. It is evident that a large contingent of buyers decided this week to discount the apparently inevitable result of the battle of the ballots next Tuesday, and take advantage of the low prices that have been a feature of the offering of small parcels for some time.

The following are the comparative tables for the New York Conveyances, Mortgages and Projected Buildings for the corresponding weeks of 1895 and 1896.

There were three withdrawals from foreclosure sale, embracing the following property: No. 422 West 160th street, No. 502 West 26th street, and Nos. 320 and 322 East 107th street. The record of the week shows only five sales of unimportant parcels.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded. Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent. Mortgages against 23d and 24th Ward properties will be found all together at the foot of this list.
